

Married At First Sight Chapter 2913

-Seeing Carrie's face turning pale and looking at him in horror, Mr. Labbe smiled and asked her warmly, "Are you scared?"

Carrie nodded. She was scared.

Mr. Labbe stretched out his hand again, and Carrie looked at his hand in horror but did not dare to dodge.

However, this time Mr. Labbe didn't want to strangle her to death; he just touched her face with a distressed look: "Look at your little face; it's so scared that it turned pale. It's my fault. I shouldn't have scared you. As long as you continue to do things from the heart for me, I will refrain from doing the same to you, baby. I still like you very much. You are young, energetic, and beautiful."

Carrie's face was still ugly.

Even though Mr. Labbe was gentle, Carrie was still afraid of him, knowing that he was really a murderous demon.

Carrie stammered: "I will serve you with all my heart, and I promise to complete the tasks you gave me. Today I appeared in front of Serenity with a new identity and a new look. She didn't recognize me. It gave me a lot of confidence. Also, I will try my best to overcome my fear of Zachary, and I won't expose my flaws and let them focus on me."

In order to survive, Carrie quickly expressed her loyalty and did not dare to act coquettishly.

Mr. Labbe smiled and said, "I believe you will be able to overcome your fear of Zachary soon. In fact, he is not scary. He is not as scary as the father and son of the Bucham family. The Bucham family does a lot of things for Zachary, which gives the impression that he is very powerful and frightful. He is just good at using people."

"I get scared when I see his cold look, and I can't help but tremble in my legs." Carrie said it honestly.

Many young ladies her age were actually afraid of Zachary.

They didn't dare to approach.

Of course, there were people who were interested in men who looked cold and cool, but she was not.

She didn't like cold men.

Mr. Labbe said, "You have to remember that your man is the most powerful. In Wiltspoon, the only people I can look up to are the father and son of the Bucham family."

Mr. Labbe grabbed Carrie's chin, lifted it up, leaned forward, kissed her on the lips, and said with a low smile, "I will give you another month to learn etiquette and practice courage. In Wiltspoon, you are walking around the city in the name of Mrs. Labbe, and the wife of mine cannot be timid."

His first wife possessed dignity. He had a lot of women, but the one he was most satisfied with was his first wife.

However, no matter how well-maintained the original wife was, she was still middle-aged and was not as beautiful as those 18- or 20-year-old girls outside. Mr. Labbe had power, status, and endless money and could get any woman he wanted.

As long as his wife's position was still that of his original wife, the treatment of the original wife was not changed, and the important business in his name was left in the hands of his three sons born to the original wife. What she did to him outside was just turn a blind eye.

Unless he got the beautiful girl outside pregnant, his wife wouldn't just sit back and watch.

Mr. Labbe thought that he and his wife had three sons and one daughter. The children were all good and could be his successors. He would not have to have so many illegitimate children outside. Therefore, if he got a woman pregnant outside, his wife would have to do it. He turned a blind eye, and at most he just gave some money to his mistress to coax them out of trouble.

Married At First Sight Chapter 2914-If they resented him for losing their child, he would simply replace them and give the woman he disliked to someone else, which would also bring him some benefits.

Knowing his ruthlessness, the mistresses around him were more sensible. As long as he gave money, they didn't dare expect to replace his original wife's position, and they no longer expected to have a child to divide the family property, for fear that they would fight for all the family property. There was no flower of life.

It's not that he didn't have illegitimate children.

In addition to having three sons and a daughter with his original wife, Mr. Labbe also had a son and a daughter outside the home, born to two mistresses whom he particularly liked and was very obedient to because he liked them very much. They were not only obedient, but also helpful to him. They had to do a lot of things, and they helped with the big event a few years ago.

Therefore, he allowed them to have his children, giving them a child so that they would have someone to rely on in the future.

The real Mrs. Labbe was not that she was so powerful that women whose husbands were outside could have children. It was Mr. Labbe who wanted to give his mistress a child so that their children could be born safely. He didn't want to give it to her. If they became pregnant, Mrs. Labbe would order people to come and beat them severely until they miscarried.

Sometimes, they lose the chance to become mothers.

Carrie nodded repeatedly and said obediently, "Mr. Labbe, I will, and I will definitely not let you down."

The two bodyguards were very dissatisfied with her words and deeds. They said that, besides being arrogant, she had no self-restraint. They said that her parents didn't know how to teach her. They also said that her temperament was far inferior to that of Camryn.

Carrie grew up being pampered. She had the best food and clothing. Camryn was not even as good as a servant, but the bodyguard said she was not as good as Camryn. This made Carrie very sad and angry.

She didn't admit defeat.

Now that Mr. Labbe also said this about her, Carrie realized that she might be really far away from the requirements of a rich wife.

The Newman family was considered a wealthy family, but it couldn't compare with those wealthy families with deep foundations. The Newman family had the appearance of the nouveau riche.

As Carrie was raised by her parents, many people regard her as the daughter of the nouveau riche.

She felt like she was not the real daughter of a famous family.

On the contrary, she thought Camryn had a good temperament.

Thinking of Camryn now, who indeed looked dignified, exuding a noble aura in every gesture, Carrie felt itchy with hatred, thinking that Camryn had such a temperament only because she married Callum.

If she married into the York family and became a young lady, she would definitely have a very good temperament.

"Baby, I know you're obedient." Seeing that Carrie was almost frightened, Mr. Labbe showed a look of appreciation and said dotingly, "It's very late; go to bed early."

As Mr. Labbe said that, he took the mobile phone from the bedside table, transferred some money to Carrie, and said to Carrie, "Buy whatever you like. The pocket money I gave you is not enough. Tell me, and I'll give it to you again."

He also took out a credit card from his wallet and handed it to Carrie. "You can use this card as you like. But one thing: don't use my money to support a pretty boy. If I know that you spend my money to support a pretty boy, I will make your life worse than death!"

Mr. Labbe had said that after she helped him abduct him to Titus, he would help her replace Camryn and marry Callum. Not to mention that it was a pie he painted for her. Even if he did, she would be just a joke to him. She was allowed to get married.

Carrie accepted the money he gave her with peace of mind.

Mr. Labbe had a sneer in his eyes.
