

Triplet Alphas Gifted Luna Chapter 97

Triplet Alphas Gifted Luna

44 Or I Will

The triplets and Thea left the oath room.

“I need to wash the blood off me,” Thea said.

She squealed when Conri grabbed her and threw her over his shoulder. He set off toward their room.

“What are you doing?” Thea said.

“Caleb and I have been more than patient,” Conri said.

“Do you want a gold star?” Thea said, confused.

“I want you,” Conri said. He slapped her ass, and she gasped, immediately turned on.

“Oh,” Thea said.

“What? You thought we wouldn’t need to claim you after your display in the cafeteria?” Kai thought to her.

Thea bit her lip. It’s not like that’s why she did it. Her heart pounded faster in anticipation. The triplets’ energy was fiery and electric.

Conri didn’t stop until they were in their shower. He set her down and pinned her against the wall, kissing her hard. She whimpered in pleasure, and he pulled back, eyes black. Caleb was in control. He grabbed the front of her dress, ripped it apart and off her. Thea's heart skipped a beat. She watched him with hungry eyes. His fingers sprouted claws, and he used them to shred her bra and panties.

Conri tore his own clothes off and lifted Thea against the wall.

"Wait," Kai said. "You need a condom."

Alaric handed Conri an open one, and he quickly put it on. Then he lifted Thea and lowered her onto his cock then thrust into her, hard. Thea cried out in pleasure, her legs tightening around his hips. His hands squeezed her ass. He started biting her all over, sparks bursting everywhere. He stopped on her mark and pulled away from the wall.

Alaric came up behind her, already naked and wearing a condom, lube in hand. Conri spread her cheeks, and Alaric massaged her backside as she kissed Conri, matching his intensity. When she was ready, Alaric slid in, and Thea moaned. She reached for Kai. He stepped closer, and she took him in her hand. She stroked him, and he teased her nipples while Conri and Alaric moved inside her.

Alaric and Kai latched onto their marks on Thea's shoulders while Conri assaulted her mouth with his tongue. She craved the animal side of Conri. This rough, passionate, demanding side. Zoe was fighting for control. She wanted to claim her mates.

"Mark him, Thea," Zoe said in her head. "Or I will." 1

Conri pulled back, looking at Thea's mouth. Her canines were growing. 1

"Oh, baby, yes," Conri said in mind link. "Please mark me."

"Are you ready for me to mark you?" Thea said in mind link.

"Yes, baby, yes. I want you to mark me so bad, baby. Please, please, please mark me." 2

She brought her lips to his marking spot. She teased him by grazing her teeth over it as her canines extended fully, then she positioned herself and bit down, sinking her teeth deep.

He inhaled sharply at the pain, then as the magic spread, he relaxed and moaned. The connection started to build, and suddenly, Thea could hear his thoughts and feel his emotions. They were raw, intense, and all about Thea.

"Remember to push the feeling out to the pack," Alaric said.

Thea and Conri thought about the pack and imagined pushing their energy out to them. Conri had no filter for his emotions. They were flowing back and forth with the pack instantly.

Conri started pumping quicker inside Thea. Alaric matched his pace, and Thea's hand worked Kai faster, pressure building in everyone until they all came one after the other.

Thea retracted her canines and licked the punctures until they closed. Her mark on Conri started to grow into a beautiful design.

"You marked me. You finally marked me," Conri thought. "I didn't know I could be so happy. I want to hold you all day long, all night long. I want you in my arms forever."

"Is this what you think about all the time?" Thea thought.

"Yes, babe. All you, all the time."

"I'm going to like being in your head," she thought. She kissed him. "Let's shower," she said out loud.

Alaric pulled out then Conri lifted Thea up and set her down on her feet. He hugged her tight to him.

"Thank you," Conri thought to her.

Thea looked up into his eyes.

“Sorry it took so long,” she thought to him.

“You had a lot going on,” he thought. “Your canines only just stopped aching. I get it.”

“You’re very sweet and patient,” she thought. She leaned in, and they kissed. 1

“Mmm, I think those days are over,” he thought. “Now you can read my mind, so you’ll know how much I’ve been holding back. I don’t want to hold back anymore.”

Thea was overwhelmed by the tidalwave of thoughts, memories, and feelings Conri let flow. All the times he wanted more from her and held back. Even now, he wanted to be closer to her. He wanted to merge with her. She realized he was going to be extra needy with her for a while.

“Yes, I need you,” Conri thought to her. “Of course I need you.”

Thea smiled against Conri’s lips. “I think I can handle that,” she thought.

“You need to mark Alaric,” Zoe said in her mind.

“I know,” Thea thought to her. “But he deserves my full attention when it happens. Having Conri in my head right now is too distracting.”

Zoe growled and grumbled. 1

Kai turned the shower on. Conri wouldn't let go of Thea. She turned around in his arms and went to Alaric, Conri still hugging her from behind. She wrapped her arms around Alaric.

“You're next,” Thea thought to Alaric. “I don't want to rush it. I want it to be perfect.” 1

“It will be,” Alaric said in mind link.

“I can't wait to hear your thoughts.”

Alaric kissed her forehead. “Me too, my love.”

After their shower, Thea shifted to her wolf and scented all three of them. Then they went to Doris' cottage and hired her to make intimidating ball gowns for the Alpha meetings. Conri held Thea close to him the whole time. Next, they went to check on the new pack members.

Arella found them. “Alpha Kai? Did you get my tooth?”

“I got you a bunch of teeth,” Kai said. He pulled them out of his pocket. “You're going to make a necklace out of these?”

“Yes.”

“Why are you making a necklace out of teeth?”

“Protection,” Arella said. “There’s power in the things Luna beats. Her power. Her magic. She’s a protector, so we can use these for protection spells.” 2

“How do you know this?” Kai said.

“I saw it,” Arella said.

“Of course you did,” Kai said. “Do you know how to work the spells?”

“Not yet, but I should soon.”

“You know, you could have told me what was going to happen,” Kai said.

Arella smiled. “You think it’s creepy.”

Kai opened his mouth.

“It’s okay. Everyone does. You’re right. We’ll always be weirdos,” Arella said.

Kai ruffled her hair. “Why didn’t you ask Alpha Alaric or Alpha Conri to get you the teeth?”

“You were the one who would remember.” 2

Kai nodded.

“You hungry?” Thea said, coming up to them with Conri still attached to her, Alaric holding her hand, and Ophelia and Cassandra skipping next to them.

“Yes, Luna,” Arella said.

“Let’s go get dinner,” Thea said.

Kai grabbed Thea’s free hand, and they went to the dining hall.

In the middle of pack dinner, Thea’s parents arrived home.

The whole pack welcomed them home, bowing their heads as they passed by. Thea watched the commotion, heard people call the man Beta, and figured these people must be her parents. She didn’t recognize them. She didn’t even know their names.

Thea stood up as they approached her. The woman was tall with dark blonde hair and the same turquoise eyes as Thea. A smile lit up her already pretty face. She walked gracefully toward Thea and gathered her into a hug.

“I missed you, dear,” she said.

Thea didn’t say anything. The woman let go, and the man pulled her into a hug.

“I missed you, Thea,” he said. He breathed in. “You smell different. Did you get your wolf?” 1

Just then the Alpha and Luna walked up to them.

“Walter, Naomi,” Alpha Ulric said. “Let’s go to my office. There are things to catch up on.”

A few minutes later, the triplets, Thea, Alpha Ulric, Luna Ada, and Thea’s parents were in the Alpha’s office.

“We didn’t want to tell you this over the phone, and since you were coming home soon, we felt it best to wait,” Alpha Ulric said.

“Tell us what?” Beta Walter, Thea’s father, said.

“Thea got her wolf early Monday morning,” Luna Ada said.

“That’s great news,” Naomi said. She smiled at Thea.

Thea could see she got her turquoise eyes from Naomi. She believed this woman was her mother, but she didn’t remember her. It made her feel homesick, like she missed having a mother. A mother who was only three feet from her. The triplets rubbed her arms and hands.

“I knew you had a wolf,” Beta Walter said.

“There’s more,” Alpha Ulric said. “Thea didn’t shift on her birthday because Zoe, her wolf, sensed it wasn’t safe. She left her so the people who were interested in her would believe she didn’t have magic. It worked. We haven’t seen anyone following her in a while. When Zoe tried to come back, their bond was broken, but she forced her way in and kicked Thea out in the process. We couldn’t feel her. The wolf couldn’t even mind link. She ran out to the woods and howled, calling to the moon goddess to bring Thea back. The whole pack woke up and called out with us. A light descended and merged with the wolf. Then she shifted back to Thea. When she woke up, she didn’t remember any of us. She hasn’t gotten her memories back yet. We don’t know if she will.”

Her parents looked at her.

“I’m sorry I don’t remember you,” Thea said.

A tear fell from Naomi’s eye. She quickly wiped it away.

“It’s okay, dear,” Naomi said.

“She’s been relying on the triplets to fill in blanks,” Luna Ada said. “The matebond has made her trust them.”

“She is gifted,” Alpha Ulric said. He told them about

Xavier and the rescue mission.

"It's been an eventful week," Beta Walter said.

"It has. Do you have anything to report now, or should we debrief tomorrow?" Alpha Ulric said.

"Let's debrief tomorrow," Beta Walter said. "I'd like some time to process." 6
