Even After Death by Liling Champ Chapter 1181-Mason shook his head. "I'm fine. I'll wait here. Since we don't have anything to do, let's talk about you."

"I know you didn't intentionally hide your identity to get close to me."

"You've been actively using this Vanessa identity for two years, after all. You couldn't possibly know what would happen two years into the future."

That was why people should learn to think on their feet. A lot of trouble could be avoided with some quick thinking.

Only dumb people like Krystal would be manipulated by someone else.

Olivia told Mason about some of the things that happened to her. Even though she just glossed over the things that Ethan had done, Mason's gaze still grew colder as he looked at Ethan.

"So you hid your true identity for self-preservation?"

"Yes. We haven't found the people that tried to kill me. I've been investigating in secret all these years."

"But the person is a professional. There were scapegoats at every turn. I couldn't get to the mastermind."

Mason patted her on the head. "You've been through a lot."

The hardships she endured in the 20-odd years of her life were more than most people had to go through their entire lives.

As time passed, the snow started to fall heavier. Linus came back through the snow, carrying a sealed envelope in his hand.

"Dad, the test results are here." i "Have you taken a look?"

Linus glanced at Olivia with complicated emotions. "I haven't."

Mason took it with trembling hands.

Olivia, who had been calm, started to feel nervous as well.

Ethan wrapped his arm around her shoulders. "It's going to be fine either way."

Olivia subconsciously grabbed his sleeve.

The usually stoic Mason had never been as nervous as he was at that very moment. His fingers slowly unraveled the white strings and took out the test results.

The expression on his face became even more complicated when he saw the words written on it.

Olivia didn't know what was going through his mind. "Mr. Heath, what's the result..."

Before she could finish her sentence, Mason drew her into his arms.

Mason's body was trembling. Olivia could feel some warm tears on her neck.

She didn't need to ask anymore.

The results were clear.

Mason's voice was trembling with excitement. "My dear child, you've suffered too much. I'm sorry."

So, that boy in the picture was her father. She found her grandfather before her parents. It had been so many years. She finally found her family.

She asked cautiously, "Are... Are you really my grandfather?"

"Without a doubt."

She slowly wrapped her arms around Mason and patted him on the back. "Don't get too excited."

"I'm just overjoyed. Natalie actually gave birth to my son, and I have such an outstanding granddaughter."

Mason didn't even wipe the tears on his face. He pulled Olivia toward Linus and said, "Come, greet your uncle."

Linus stared at Olivia. He didn't expect the first woman he ever fell for in over 30 years of his life to become his niece. It was like fate was playing a trick on him.

2 Olivia also felt a little awkward. She knew Linus had feelings for her, yet he had become her uncle.

She muttered, "Un—Uncle."

Olivia suddenly remembered something. "Does this mean Ms. Heath is my aunt?"

That was a mess.

Mason shook his head. "She's not. I disowned her before I came over."

Even After Death by Liting Champ Chapter 1182-It was Olivia's turn to be shocked. "Because of what happened tonight?" "It's not just this incident. I've given her too many chances. Since you're my granddaughter, I won't allow you to drift aimlessly away from home.

"Come home and become part of the family, Olivia."

"Grandpa, I... I don't think I'm ready for that yet."

"What's there to think about? We're related by blood. I looked into the Fordham family a few years ago. But I thought you were Jeffs biological father. That's why I didn't probe further. ?

"We've been separated for so many years. Please give me the chance to make it up to you, okay?"

Mason pleaded with Olivia in a humble tone.

"Don't you want to know about your grandmother and me? Come back with me, and I'll tell you everything."

Mason didn't give her any chance to turn him down.

"If your grandma knew you've been wandering in the world alone, she would feel bad for you, too."

Olivia had always yearned for family. She didn't have any retorts to Mason's words.

"Look, I'm not in the best of health. You've been telling me not to stay up late.

It's getting late, and I haven't taken my meds yet. I'll just stay here with you and waste time ..."

Olivia sighed. "Alright, you win, Grandpa."

Mason held her hand. "Good girl. Come home with Grandpa."

Olivia looked at their hands as tears welled up in her eyes. 1 The man who always used to bring her home had already passed. If Jeff was watching over her from above, he would be happy to see that she had found her real family, right?

Ethan quickly stood up when he saw that Olivia was leaving.

Mason knew that a lot of Olivia's suffering in the past was caused by Ethan.

He glared at Ethan. "I'm bringing my granddaughter home. You don't have to follow along." 3 Ethan was dumbfounded.

Mason was acting like he didn't want to keep up pretenses anymore.

Linus blocked Ethan's way. "This isn't your home, right? Since you're already divorced and have a place of your own. You shouldn't stay here so shamelessly."

Ethan could only watch as Mason took Olivia away. He couldn't do anything.

Things would be very hard for him. He hadn't even gotten back into a serious relationship with Olivia yet.

Now that Olivia had become a member of the Heath Family, there was no way that the over-protective Mason would allow them to get married again.

Mason probably wouldn't even allow him to get close to Olivia.

Ethan lamented his misfortune. <>

Linus had it worse. He couldn't do anything but come to terms with his lost love and get used to the reality that Olivia was his niece, i Mason was overjoyed. He lost a doctor but found his granddaughter, 1 "Linus, go make arrangements for Olivia's identity. Her being Vanessa has to be kept secret. You have to make sure Yale gets the memo."

"Father, I'll get on it. I'll take care of V- Olivia's matter."

Linus was still not used to Olivia becoming his niece.

Mason held her hand tightly. "Olivia, I'll be here for you from now on. I won't allow anyone to bully you ever again!"

His gaze grew cold. "I won't forgive whoever is trying to kill you when I find them."

Olivia stared at Mason's face blankly. He looked rugged, but his eyes were filled with bloodlust.

Was that how it felt to be protected by family?

Even After Death by Lifting Champ Chapter 1183-At that moment, Olivia remembered the arrogance that she had seen on Marina and Krystal's faces.

They were able to be so cocky because they had the love of their families supporting them. Their family would help them no matter what they did.

Things had changed for her, too. She had family. She was no longer alone.

It was getting late. Linus brought her back to the guest room she used to stay in.

He stood at the door hesitatingly, with snow still falling heavily outside.

Olivia broke the silence. "Uncle Linus, is there anything else?"

"I had feelings for you before."

Olivia met his gaze and smiled. "Yeah, I know."

It wasn't something he could be proud of. It was going to be something embarrassing he would think back to for years to come.

Olivia could imagine how awkward he was feeling.

She said gently, "Maybe you felt close to me because we're family. I can understand that. Just like how I felt inexplicably close to Mr. Heath."

She was able to do away with the awkwardness with a single sentence. She possessed way more emotional intelligence than his dumb sister Krystal.

"I know you lead a hard life before this. Since you're part of the Heath Family now, no one will be able to bully you." <sup>1</sup> That was Linus' promise to her. Since they couldn't become lovers, he would watch over her as her uncle. <sup>i</sup> Olivia smiled. "Thanks, Uncle Linus."

He patted her on the head. "Rest well."

Olivia closed the door.

Linus took a deep breath. Who could say for sure if his feelings for her were romantic or familial?

But this was fine as well. At least he could watch over her forever as her uncle.

It was good.

It was a sleepless night for many people.

Olivia tossed and turned in bed. Everything that happened that day felt like a dream.

She had a grandfather and an uncle who was only slightly older than her. It was a very ridiculous turn of events.

Who would've known her grandfather was someone so important? <sup>1</sup> Ethan couldn't sleep either. He smashed three ashtrays in the study.

Kelvin carefully handed him the fourth. He rubbed his nose and said, "Mr. Miller, it's a happy thing for Mrs. Miller to find her family. Why are you unhappy?"

“All these years, you’ve been fighting with Yale. Mr. Heath was forcing you to marry Krystal a while back. Now, you don’t have to do that anymore. Isn’t that great?”

“What do you know? Have you forgotten that Mr. Heath is very protective of his own? I’ve done so much to hurt Olivia in the past. 5 “He would probably be happy to see me dead. He wouldn’t let me off the hook.”

Kelvin thought about it for a moment. “Maybe even worse. He might get the Tiger Squad chop off your limbs and throw you into the ocean.” 3 The Tiger Squad was a covert special forces unit that was under Linus’ command. Not even Ethan had power over them.

“It was already going to be hard to mend my relationship with Liv. Now, it seems like it would be impossible for me to marry her again.” 3 “There’s no use feeling sad, Mr. Miller. I think this is fine. Mrs. Miller has had a hard life. With Mr. Heath by her side, things will start to get better for her.”

Even After Death by Liting Champ Chapter 1184-Ethan’s gaze was deep. “We still can’t tell if it’s a good or bad thing yet. Glory and danger often come hand in hand.”

No matter what would happen, Ethan would never hurt Olivia again.

Tatiana was also having a sleepless night. She had a bad feeling the moment Mason left the house.

Something big was about to happen in the Heath Family.

She had been married to Mason for so many years. He had always treated her with respect, but only respect. He had never loved her.

A few years back, she would still argue with her because she didn’t feel like it was fair for her.

He looked at her coldly and said, “The moment you used drugs to get with me, you should’ve known that I would never love you. I can only give you power and status, but nothing else.” i She gradually got used to this life. Mason wouldn’t love her but wouldn’t love anyone else.

Not many people could get everything they wanted in life. She considered herself lucky that she was married to such an outstanding man.

Tatiana knew that he had a woman in his heart. He called her name repeatedly when he lost consciousness.

She had tried to look for this woman, but nothing turned up in decades. Perhaps the woman was already dead.

Men were prone to remembering their first loves.

Tatiana stopped caring after a while. But when she saw how Mason lost control at the banquet, she knew it was all over.

But that woman appeared in these circumstances. Krystal didn't even know what kind of danger was approaching them.

Tatiana didn't know who Krystal took after.

Krystal packed her stuff and went to the villa that her mother arranged for her.

She didn't feel happy even though the place was very luxurious.

She called Yale, and he came rushing over.

As soon as he got there, Krystal threw her pillow at her. 1 "It's all your fault. Last time, the doctor you brought almost killed my father. This time, your plot caused me to make a fool of myself before my father.

"He's driven me out of the family now and wants to cut ties with me. Are you happy now?"

"What? Cut ties?" Yale's expression changed drastically. Did that mean his hard work all these years was wasted?

He quickly changed his tone.

"That's just something Mr. Heath said in a fit of rage. He loves you so much. He would never actually cut ties with you.

"This incident is my fault. I didn't think things through. We were both deceived."

“What? How are we deceived?”

“This is a trap that Ethan and Olivia set for us.”

Krystal was confused. She said irritably, “Why would he do that?”

“Didn’t you want to marry him? He did this so he would never have to marry you.

If Mr. Heath grows to hate you, he won’t need to marry you anymore.”

“That’s right. That bitch has always hated me!” Krystal thought about the slap she gave Olivia a few years ago.

No wonder Vanessa slapped her when they met at the village. So, this was the revenge that they had been plotting all this time.

With tears flowing down her cheeks, Krystal said, “I don’t understand why Ethan would do this to me. I love him so much. I’ve helped him so much.”

“Some people are just heartless. Krystal, only my love for you is true. Ethan has always been a heartless man.

“He was even able to do all those cruel things to his ex-wife. I could only imagine the things he would do to you.

Everyone is a pawn to him.”

Even After Death by Lifting Champ Chapter 1185-Yale hugged Krystal from behind.

“Ethan only cares about his status and personal interests. He abandoned his wife and married Marina in order to get the Carltons on his side. He’s a despicable man.”

“That’s not right. If he only cares about his interests, why didn’t he try to get me on his side? Is the Heath Family not better than the Carltons?” Krystal suddenly found the fault in Yale’s logic.

A hint of somberness flashed in Yale’s eyes. He quickly changed the subject.

“Maybe the reason he didn’t try that is because he is plotting something else.

Think about all he has done so far, Krystal.

“He’s an ingrate. He has been doing things that humiliated you. He even caused you to be driven from your home.”

As Krystal was crying, Yale reached out to wipe away her tears.

He said affectionately, “Don’t be afraid. I’ll stand by your side no matter what happens. I’m the one who loves you the most, Krystal.”

Krystal raised her head to meet his tender gaze. There was a glow in her eyes as she asked, “Do you really love me?”

“Without a doubt. Krystal, don’t you feel my affection for you after all these years?”

Yale sighed. “It must be my fault. I must have failed to express my feelings properly. I will try to treat you better.”

Krystal had been chasing after Ethan for many years.

She was starting to fall for Yale since he said such nice things when she had been abandoned by everyone else.

Truthfully, Yale wasn’t as handsome as Ethan, but he was still charming. He was tall and elegant. She felt safe in his arms.

At that moment, Krystal was starting to be moved by Yale’s confession. So, he took the opportunity to go on the offensive.

“Krystal, you must be hungry since you haven’t eaten anything. I’ll make you some food.”

“You can cook?”

“All good men can. I learned how to cook for you. Just wait.”

Yale let her go and went to open the fridge confidently.

No one had lived in this villa for some time.

Even if the housekeepers cleaned the place, there wasn't enough time for them to stock up the supplies. The fridge was completely empty.

"There aren't any ingredients. I can't cook even if I want to."

Yale took her hand. "Let's go. I'll take you out for a bite. What do you want to eat?"

Krystal didn't really have an appetite. She was humiliated because she had been driven out of her home.

She wasn't in the mood for food, but her stomach rumbled against her will.

"If you don't say anything, I'll decide for you."

Yale brought her out. She thought he would bring her to some high-end restaurant. Instead, he brought her to the night market.

It was snowing. The lights shone brightly like stars. The night market was very lively. Many couples were hanging out there.

That was something Krystal had never experienced throughout her entire life.

She never knew that the street food she looked down on could taste so good.

"Are you cold?"

A gust of cold wind blew on her neck. She nodded.

Yale immediately wrapped a scarf around her neck and put a hat on her head.

"This way, you won't be cold anymore."

Krystal raised her head to look at his handsome face. Her heartbeat suddenly quickened.

It would only take one instant to fall in love.

Yale gazed at her tenderly. "Krystal, look around you. Ethan isn't the only man in the world. Take a look at me, too."
