

Chapter 4385

This staff member of the An family didn't know who Charlie Wade was,

But he naturally heard Margaret's name like a thunder!

As soon as he heard Sara say that Charlie was Margaret's son, this person was instantly shocked!

He immediately thought that the An family had been searching everywhere,

For so many years for the whereabouts of that son left behind by Margaret, but there had been no clues.

Could this be the important clue that is being delivered to the door?!

Thinking of this, he immediately approved the plane's landing request,

While hurriedly picking up the phone to report to his higher-ups.

The two words, Margaret's son, were like a thunderbolt,

Causing the An family's butler to rush into the medical center with a roll.

At this moment, Marshal was still trying his best to comfort his mother while forcing himself to endure the pain.

To the old lady, he, the eldest son, had become her spiritual pillar at this moment.

The housekeeper ran over in a panic, not caring about everyone outside,

And directly pushed open the door, saying breathlessly,

"Madam. .... Madam... ..the young master ....."

Marshal saw the always stable housekeeper actually has some panic,

And even venture into the father's ward, can not help but reprimand:

"Uncle Hale, what's wrong with you?! Don't you know to knock on the door first?"

The others also gathered around at this time, wondering if something urgent had happened.

The housekeeper looked like facing a hundred thousand fires and said,

"Young master ..... there will be a plane from China landing soon ....."

"From China?" Marshal frowned and asked, "What kind of people are coming?"

The butler swallowed and spoke,

"It's the daughter-in-law that Missy appointed back then!"

"What Missy ....." Marshal did not even react at once.

The old lady, who was incomparably sad, suddenly blurted out at this time:

"It's the child marriage that Margaret gave to her son!"

"It's Charlie's fiancée! Where is she?"

The housekeeper said, "She's on the plane, she's about to land!"

Marshal was surprised and asked, "Mom, what's going on here? Charlie ..... Charlie has a fiancée?"

The old lady said with some excitement: "When he was a child, your sister gave him a marriage,"

"The other party is your brother-in-law's good brother,"

"But at that time the child was still small, your sister only told me about this matter,"

"Should not have talked to you ..... later they met with an accident,"

"This matter was then mentioned by no one and charlie disappeared,"

"The girl was also too young, I thought this thing must have just ended up ....."

Saying this, the old lady suddenly widened her eyes,

All excited with a crying voice asked: "Marshal ..... tell me ..... Is Charlie coming back ....." "

"Charlie?!" Marshal all of a sudden also showed some emotional excitement, said without thinking:"

"God has eyes! Dad looked for Charlie for so many years but has not found him,"

"Charlie if this time comes back, this will make up for Dad's great regret ....."

The old lady trembled with excitement, turned to grab Nicolas's hand, crying, and said,

"Nicolas, did you hear that? This time maybe it's really Charlie's return,"

"Our grandson is back! You can't leave now! You have to wait to see your grandson!"

As soon as these words came out, the various parameters on the monitor beside Nicolas rose!

The doctor was immediately excited and said,

"Master's physical condition has rebounded!"

"Heart rate, blood pressure, and blood oxygen have all increased!"

When the crowd heard this, they were instantly surprised.

Since the old man was in a coma, his physical signs had been declining,

Not to mention rebounding, and there was no chance of stopping the decline,

So now there was a sudden rebound, which naturally made everyone happy.
