

The Ex Husbands Revenge

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2583-“Howard, I’m not trying to protect Mister Wolf, but I know him. He couldn’t possibly take innocent lives or commit robbery! I’m sure there’s been a misunderstanding...” Fletcher said.

“Misunderstanding? How can it be a misunderstanding? This kid was the only one alive at the scene. He even stopped us from sending Jaxon to the hospital only to kill him for good to prevent the truth from coming out. Who else could be the culprit if not him?”

The Feaks glared at Leon with resentment.

“What a load of nonsense! I didn’t kill Mister Jaxon! I’ve already told you that he is fine and that I’ve treated him!” Leon snapped.

He tried multiple times to explain that Jaxon was safe, but the Feaks kept cutting him off.

With Fletcher’s interference, he finally had the chance to explain.

Suppressing his rage, he briefly explained the process of him curing Jaxon.

“What?” The Feaks were all shocked.

Since Leon was too young, none of them trusted his skills and did not believe he could actually cure Jaxon.

On top of that, they all saw the red palm print on Jaxon’s chest earlier and all assumed it was left by Leon when he murdered Jaxon.

Yet, Leon claimed that he cured Jaxon.

This was so unbelievable that they were all shocked.

“Kid, you aren’t just running your mouth to evade punishment, are you?”

“If you’ve cured Jaxon, why is he still unconscious on the ground?”

“Yeah, and what’s with the palm print on his chest?”

The Feaks snapped out of it and remained confused as to whether Leon was telling the truth.

The entire event was simply too peculiar and none of them was convinced that an amateur like Leon could revive Jaxon without the help of any medical equipment.

If he truly accomplished such a thing, his skills in medicine would be unrivaled.

‘Mister Jaxon was badly injured and it’s normal that he doesn’t wake up right away. As for the palm print on his chest, it was left there by the actual culprit, not me! If you don’t believe what I said, you can go over to check his breath and heartbeat! Then, you will know if I’m telling the truth!’ Leon scoffed.

“Well... Alright! We are going to check on Jaxon. If it turns out that you are just saying nonsense, we won’t spare you!” The Feaks said.

They approached Jaxon with doubts and before they could get any closer, Jaxon suddenly moved.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2584-Jaxon coughed and slowly regained consciousness.

“Jaxon, are you okay?” The Feaks were all shocked and rubbed their eyes in disbelief.

They all thought that Jaxon was killed by Leon. To their surprise, Leon was telling the truth and he cured Jaxon.

This was a miracle and they would never believe this to be true if they did not see it themselves.

“This is great!” Overjoyed, the Feaks gathered around Jaxon and carefully helped him up from the ground.

“Grandpa, Dad, why are you here? Where am I? How did I get here?” Jaxon asked weakly as he took in his surroundings.

After getting attacked by the Southern Boss, he passed out immediately and did not know what happened afterward.

He woke up to his family surrounding him on top of a mountain, so he was confused.

“Well,” Roman and the others were rendered speechless.

They now knew that Leon took Jaxon to the mountain to cure Jaxon, which meant that Leon could not be the culprit.

They all wrongfully accused Leon. Feeling embarrassed, neither of them could come up with the words to answer Jaxon’s question, nor could they face Leon.

“Jaxon, it’s complicated. We thought that Mister Wolf killed you and attacked him. He probably took you here for treatment and to avoid us,” Roman said.

All four of them blushed in shame for wronging and attacking Leon.

“What? Grandpa, you got it all wrong. How can Mister Wolf do this?” Jaxon was shocked when he realized that Leon came close to being the scapegoat for someone else’s crime.

“We know that now,” Roman sighed.

After all that happened and with Jaxon confirming the truth, Roman finally recognized that they were foolish.

Gritting his teeth in determination, he approached Leon.
