

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2626

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2626-“Mister Wolf, let’s go in as well. Ever since Mister Orpwood knew about what happened with the Poisonwielder, he has been desperate to meet you. I’ll take you to him first and then to a few other old friends, how about it?” Fletcher asked.

“Sure. I want to talk to Mister Orpwood about the Southern Boss as well!” Leon nodded.

He followed Fletcher to the Dragon Corps’ office because of his enthusiastic invitation to reunite with a few old friends. On the other hand, he already found out that the Southern Boss was hiding in the western region and committed horrible crimes.

Hence, he needed to discuss with Mister Orpwood and seek his help to track the Southern Boss down.

After all, the western region was vast and no one knew where the Southern Boss was hiding.

Leon could not possibly find the Southern Boss on his own. If he had the help of Mister Orpwood and the Dragon Guards, it would be much easier.

“Also, do I have permission to tell others about your actual identity?” Fletcher asked.

“Well, sure! There’s no outsider here, so you can go ahead!” Leon said.

He hid his name and identity on the mission to pursue the Poisonwielder because Alfred warned him about it in case the mission failed.

Also, the Tiddertons were present at the time and it would not be appropriate for Leon to expose his identity.

However, they were now in the Dragon Corps’ branch without others, so there would be no harm in revealing his identity.

Since Fletcher was about to take him to Mister Orpwood, it would be impossible for him to hide his identity any longer if he wished to talk about the Southern Boss.

“Alright, then!” Fletcher felt more at ease with Leon’s permission.

Without further delay, he led Leon into the building.

Meanwhile, in Mister Orpwood’s office, Leon soon met Mister Orpwood as they stepped inside.

He was a man in his fifties. With a serious look on his face, he radiated a sense of authority and one could easily tell that he was someone formidable.

At the moment, Howard stood before Mister Orpwood.

He was one step ahead of Fletcher and Leon, so he was currently explaining the situation of the Morrisons seeking help and the Southern Boss committing murder. 1 Fletcher and Leon’s arrival interrupted the report.

“Mister Orpwood.” Fletcher bowed respectfully.

“Fletcher, who is this? You know the rules. You aren’t supposed to bring an outsider in here!” Mister Orpwood said with displeasure when he saw Fletcher stepping in with an unfamiliar young man.

The Dragon Corps was a special organization and unrelated personnel were not allowed inside.

However, Fletcher took someone in and interrupted an important report without permission, so this upset Mister Orpwood.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2627-“Fletcher, why are you doing this?” Howard sighed when he heard Mister Orpwood.

He already told Fletcher not to bring an outsider into the building. Yet, Fletcher refused to listen to reasons and even brought Leon to meet Mister Orpwood.

This was foolish of him and he would likely be punished for it.

However, what happened next shook him.

“Mister Orpwood, this is Mister Hugh Wolf. He’s not an outsider,” Fletcher said.

Just as he was about to inform Mister Orpwood of Leon’s identity, he was interrupted.

“Hugh Wolf? That sounds so familiar,” Mister Orpwood was taken aback and soon recalled something.

Sensing his shock, Fletcher smiled and explained, “Mister Orpwood, he’s the one who took the Poisonwielder down on his own.” “What? It is him! Wonderful!”

Mister Orpwood was shocked and stood abruptly.

When he heard the name Hugh, he already guessed who Loen was. upon hearing Fletcher’s affirmation, he burst into laughter.

“Mister Wolf, we’ve finally met again! I’ve already heard about how you eliminated the Poisonwielder and other heroic acts you committed. I’m so pleased to meet you in person!” He walked around the table and approached Leon, before shaking his head with an impressed look on his face.

“You are too kind, Mister Orpwood. It’s my pleasure to meet you today,” Leon smiled modestly.

“Very impressive! You are formidable, yet modest about it. What a hero!” Mister Orpwood smiled.

Not only was Leon capable, but he was also modest and kind.

He was far more impressive than Mister Orpwood imagined.

“What? How is this possible?” Howard rubbed his eyes in disbelief.

He initially thought that Mister Orpwood would punish Fletcher for bringing Loen over without permission.

To his bewilderment, Mister Orpwood’s reaction was completely different from what he anticipated.

Not only did he not punish Fletcher, but he also seemed rather impressed by Leon.

Howard never saw Mister Orpwood praising someone so much, so it was unbelievable.

“Fletcher, what’s going on?” Snapping out of it, Howard asked in confusion.

“Howard, I told you that Mister Wolf is special. He works for the Dragon Corps as well and is a Platinum Dragon Guard! When we worked with the Dragon Guards from the southern region to take the Poisonwielder down, he was the one who saved US all and took the Poisonwielder down on his own,” Fletcher explained.
