

Chapter 5358

But he changed his mind and thought: “Keep the fcuk out of it, the tripod is gone, what’s the mystery of the teacher’s sect...”

“I might as well have a real relationship with this ba5tard surnamed Wade, maybe I can also get a little preferential treatment from him...”

Thinking of this, he immediately blurted out: “Master Wade, the magic of this medicine cauldron does not lie in the simple cooking of medicine! It lies in the fact that you take the same medicinal materials and the same amount of medicine is boiled together in it and other vessels and the medicinal effect of the medicine boiled in it is stronger than the medicine boiled in other vessels!”

Hearing Mateo’s answer, Charlie couldn’t help asking curiously: “If you cook medicine with a slow fire, the medicine it cooks will be more effective than others?”

“Yes!”

Mateo nodded repeatedly, and explained: “And this kind of effect is very miraculous, no matter whether you use it to make a decoction or use it to boil medicinal paste to make an elixir, it can make your finished medicine more powerful!”

After speaking, Mateo said again: “You can say, I am now prescribing a prescription, this prescription can nourish yin and nourish yang, and make a man regain his glory. If it is boiled in an ordinary casserole,”

“It may take three days and nine medicines to take effect. It only takes six doses of medicine in two days to have the same effect in this cauldron.”

Mateo was a little excited when he said this, and he explained with enthusiasm: “This is not the most important thing, the most important thing is that the nature of this medicine will also undergo a qualitative change.”

Let's take those rich men in their seventies and eighties as an example. If the same prescription is not brewed with this medicinal cauldron, even if he drinks it for a month, he can at most be able to sing every night, but the quality of this night is not good. That is to say, the speed of regaining his glory, he can only reach 60 points, which is barely a pass;"

"However, if he drinks the medicine brewed from this medicine cauldron, he will not only be able to sing every night, but he will regain his glory."

"At that level, it can reach 70 points or even 75 points! This is very powerful! It not only concentrates the effect of the medicine but also sublimates it."

Zhovia, who was on the side, couldn't help but listen to his serious introduction. Her face turned red with embarrassment, and she couldn't help but spit in a low voice: "Bah! The obscene monk. You are evil! You are disrespectful!"

Mateo was suddenly embarrassed, and he quickly explained: "Everyone... I don't mean anything else. Just to make an analogy..."

Charlie knew people like Mateo, although he was very powerful and a Taoist disciple, he was actually very worldly, and he only wanted to use what he had learned to cater to the rich and powerful, just like the so-called eminent monks who are keen to preach for the rich and famous are the same.

On weekdays, he must come into contact with some rich nobles. After these wealthy and nobles have reached the peak of their material life, they will definitely enter the kind of people who seek to be young when they are old,

To be healthy when they are sick, to be strong when they are impotent, and to be reborn after death. And a person like Mateo is an expert who can meet their needs to a certain extent, so he must have some means in this regard.

However, Charlie doesn't care about these things. What he cares about is that this medicine cauldron can be improved by cooking medicine with a slow fire. It must be that its magic lies not only in the internal formation but also in its special material.

If that's the case, wouldn't he be able to get the double blessing of materials and formations if he used spiritual energy to refine medicine?

Thinking of this, Charlie became even more excited. Seeing Mateo's submissive appearance, he was not as disgusted as before, so he asked him: "By the way, what services do you usually provide for those powerful people?"

Mateo said truthfully: "Master Wade, what I can provide is nothing more than healing the living, saving the dead, strengthening the body, self-cultivation, feng shui secrets, fortune-telling, and dream interpretation."

"And thanks to this medicinal cauldron and the prescriptions left by the masters of Taizhen Dao, the medicines refined are still somewhat famous in the circle of dignitaries, so as time goes by, they have been mixed up with the name of a celestial master..."

Charlie nodded and asked, "I heard that you are acquainted with the An family in the United States?"

Mateo said without hesitation: "Yes... the old lady of the An family began to convert to Taoism 20 years ago, and it was introduced by one of my clients at that time."

"Then she became a lay Buddhist of Taizhen Dao, besides often preaching for her deceased daughter and son-in-law, she often asked me to help with divination, as if she wanted to find out the whereabouts of her grandson..."

Charlie was stunned, and couldn't help feeling a little bit Moved, he immediately asked him: "How was your divination for her?"

"Divination..." Mateo said awkwardly: "I am proficient in divination to some extent, but the combination of her grandson's name and birth date, it is really strange that I couldn't figure out why..."

Charlie heard this, he can't help shaking his head secretly, even Lai Qinghua, who has studied Fengshui secrets all his life, couldn't figure out his information, not to mention Mateo, a half-hearted Taoist.

But from Charlie's objective point of view, Mateo is indeed a master. In the Taoist temple, this person has to learn Taoism, manage it, and practice martial arts hard. But even so, he can not only achieve the strength of the eight-star warrior, but he can also master certain medical skills and divination techniques, which is enough to prove that he is a very smart and talented person.

If he were a person of other martial arts, even if he spent all his life practicing martial arts, it would be impossible to reach the height of an eight-star martial artist.

At this time, Mateo thought that Charlie asked about An's family, and then recalled that Sara took the elixir he gave to save the old man of An's family, so he thought that he wanted to make friends with An's family,

So he quickly said courteously: "Master Wade, Mrs. An talked with me on the phone a few days ago, and she said that she will come to Aurous Hill in a while, if you want to get to know An's family, I can help you get started."

Charlie frowned: "You said Mrs. An is coming to Aurous Hill?"

"Yes." Mateo said, "Not only the old lady, but the old man and other members of the An family will also come,"

"Anyway, that's what the old lady said on the phone, and she knows I came to Aurous Hill one step earlier, so said hello to me and asked me if I found anything here."

Speaking of this, Mateo suddenly thought of something, and suddenly realized:

"Oh, oh! Master Wade, if you want to get to know the An family, how can I help you... I guess the An family comes to Aurous Hill because they wanted to find you."

"After all, it was your elixir that saved the old man's life! There is a high probability that they are coming to Aurous Hill to ask for your favor!"

Charlie's heart suddenly became tangled.

He also knew very well that if his grandparents came to Aurous Hill, their purpose must be to find him.

It's just that Mateo didn't understand the details, and didn't know that he had three identities with the An family.

The first level of identity is naturally the grandson of the An family;

the second level of identity is the lifesaver of the An family at Sara's concert; and the third level is the real owner of the blood-saving heart pill.

Mateo thought that the An family came to find his third identity, but Charlie knew very well that if his grandparents came to Aurous Hill, they must have come for his first identity!

They just want to start from Aurous Hill and find his whereabouts again.

Thinking of this, Charlie couldn't help feeling a little apprehensive.

He wasn't ready to meet his grandparents' family yet.

What's more, the enemy was ahead, and he didn't want to cause trouble before that.

He has just begun to touch the peripheral forces of the Warriors' Den and has not followed the copper mines in Cyprus and the smelters in Turkey to trace upstream.

At this time, Charlie hopes to develop in Aurous Hill in a low-key manner, while improving his strength and influence.

If the An family come to him at this time, on the one hand, they might find clues about him in Aurous Hill, on the other hand, his actions would definitely attract the attention of the Warriors' Den!
