

Chapter 984 A Bet With Corrin

Shayla's face twisted with disdain when she heard Corrin's words.

Was he joking? After all, Liam was undisputedly the strongest among the contestants. How could a small fry like Nathan take him on?

Unable to contain her scorn, Shayla sneered, "Really? Why do I feel certain I'll win today's battle?"

When Corrin saw Shayla's unwavering confidence, the smirk on his face widened. "Since you're so sure, let's make a bet. If your man loses, you'll have to spend a night with me. But if he wins, I'll cut off my dick. What do you say? Care to take the wager?"

Corrin was sure about his abilities and never once contemplated the possibility of defeat.

When Shayla heard these words, a subtle smile played on her red lips.

She did not think for a second that Liam could lose to Corrin.

Amused by the thought of Corrin suffering the consequences of losing the bet, Shayla nodded and agreed to it.

Corrin let out a smug laugh before returning to his seat next to Nathan as he awaited the commencement of the battle ring.

Soon, the four major forces began to draw lots. The initial pick was the most advantageous one, allowing the chooser to target the weakest participant among the contenders.

Upon reviewing the drawn lots, Liam noted the sequence: Dunbar, Maureen, Corrin, and Shayla.

Examining the outcome, Shayla grinned nonchalantly. "Seems like luck isn't on my side. Maybe I should've let you handle drawing the lot."

Liam remained silent and directed his gaze toward the battle ring.

Each of the four teams had two contestants, but one was typically stronger than the other one.

The key member of Dunbar's side was a bespectacled gentleman named Zander, who looked harmless.

Shayla briefed Liam about him. "That's Zander, the key member on Dunbar's side. His actual level of strength is uncertain, but since Dunbar regards him as the key member, he must possess formidable abilities."

Liam acknowledged this with a nod.

When Zander entered the battle ring, the first thing he did was turn his gaze toward Devin. Without hesitation, he declared, "I choose Devin as my opponent."

Caught off guard, Devin approached the battle ring with an air of annoyance.

The first person to be selected was typically perceived as the weakest, a fact well known among the participants.

After his recent defeat to Rickets, Devin was already in a sour mood. However, he suppressed his frustration, aiming to take this chance to prove himself before Shayla.

Upon entering the battle ring, Devin coldly pointed at Zander and vowed, "You'll regret choosing me!"

Unfazed, Zander adjusted his gold-rimmed glasses and said with a smile, "Let's begin."

As the referee signaled the start of the battle, Zander and Devin simultaneously unleashed attacks.

Devin's strike was fierce and unrelenting, accompanied by a formidable gust of wind caused by the movement of his fists.

But Zander, despite his seemingly ordinary appearance, managed to overpower Devin effortlessly.

Zander skillfully deflected Devin's killer strike before giving him a resounding slap that sent him flying back.

When Devin rose again, his face was covered in blood.

Swallowing his anger, he reluctantly admitted defeat. "I concede..."

Before Devin could complete his sentence, Zander lunged towards him. He was determined to deny Devin the opportunity to concede, intending to directly kill him instead!

Zander grabbed Devin's head and covered his mouth with one hand. Then, he lifted his knee, aiming it right at Devin's chin.

In the blink of an eye, Devin felt the threat of death looming over him. Despite himself, he soiled his pants in fear.

Suddenly, a new presence appeared on the battle ring and repelled Zander with a gentle palm.

It was none other than Liam.

With Liam's intervention, Devin was able to finally acknowledge defeat, securing his survival.

Of course, Liam had only rescued Devin since they were in the same team. Devin could still be of some use to him, and it would be a waste to let him die so soon.

Zander, needless to say, was displeased with Liam's intervention. With a scowl, he said, "You like to show off, don't you? I'll wait for you to challenge me. Let's see if you have the courage to do that!"