

Chapter 992 A Petal

As Liam became more agitated, Shayla pressed her lips, wishing she could help but realizing it wouldn't make a difference.

She understood Julie's importance to Liam and realized she couldn't sway him.

"Stop. If you keep going like this, you'll harm your body's potential," Maureen intervened just as Liam was about to act, offering a warning.

"What? You want to get involved, too? If you're not thinking straight and want to jump in, I won't hesitate to kill you as well!" Liam turned, his glare freezing as he looked directly at Maureen, clearly unhappy about her involvement.

Maureen was shocked to see Liam's hostility aimed at her. Even with her mask hiding her face, Shayla could sense her disbelief.

Maureen was incredibly frustrated and wished she could give Liam a lesson with a good beating.

He couldn't even recognize a friend!

Her words were meant to help, yet he was contemplating killing her!

"Maureen, we believe you can save us! We're willing to pay whatever it takes for your help. Please!" Dunbar and Corrin, seizing on Maureen's words, turned to her desperately.

"There are better ways to handle this. Why choose a path that wastes your potential?" Maureen's tone remained chilly, disregarding their pleas, focusing instead on Liam.

Liam didn't understand what she was talking about.

Before Liam could ask more questions, two sharp petals mysteriously pierced Dunbar and Corrin's necks, abruptly ending their lives in a horrifying manner!

Blood gushed out instantly, making the underground arena look like hell.

In just a few seconds, Dunbar and Corrin's skin turned a deep shade of purple, and they showed no signs of life.

Even Liam was completely surprised by Maureen's approach.

He hadn't clearly seen how Maureen had made her move.

This made Liam become cautious, keeping a close watch on Maureen.

Maureen's fast execution with Dunbar and Corrin showed she was really good at what she did, making Liam get ready for anything she might do next.

Meanwhile, Shayla went pale. Her strength matched that of Dunbar and Corrin, meaning Maureen could also easily end her life if she wanted.

Shayla shuddered at the thought of how quickly Maureen had dealt with the two men.

She had always known Maureen wasn't just any opponent, but she hadn't realized how powerful she truly was until now.

Liam and Shayla watched Maureen carefully, ready for any sudden actions from her.

Surprisingly, Maureen took a step back and announced, "From now on, the primogen mine is yours."

Liam and Shayla were both surprised by Maureen's unexpected announcement.

With her words lingering, Maureen motioned with a wave of her hand, and her subordinates followed her out of the underground arena.

As Maureen walked past, Liam suddenly felt something placed into his hand.

Opening his hand, Liam discovered it was a petal.

What was Maureen's intention behind giving him this petal?

Chapter 993 Mine Accident

As Liam watched Maureen walk away, he gently held the petal in his hand, thoroughly puzzled by her kindness toward him.

He looked down at the petal, certain that Maureen had given it to him with some purpose, but he had no intention of studying it at that moment.

The most important thing for him now was to get the primogem mine and save Julie!

Now that the crisis had been completely resolved, Shayla returned to her usual captivating appearance. She curved her lips slightly and gazed at Liam with her gorgeous eyes. With a flirtatious smile, she said, "Liam, does Maureen like you? I think you will suffer a lot in the future. Why don't you just get together with me? I'm way better than that old woman, Maureen. I'll definitely make you happier."

Shayla showed off her stunning figure while she said this, making her seem more tempting.

However, this trick was wasted on Liam. With a scowl, Liam interrupted Shayla, who was still trying to show off her figure. "Stop this nonsense. Let's go and get the primogem rock first!"

Seeing Liam's intense concern about this matter, Shayla reined herself in and nodded in agreement.

Both of them set off for the primogem mine.

Liam was brimming with anxiety the entire way. After all, he was impatient to get his hands on the primogem rock and save Julie.

However, when the two of them arrived in front of the primogem mine, they were met with a strange scene. All the guards sent by the forces to protect the primogem mine were lying on the ground in a pool of blood.

Liam's brows knitted at this scene, and he rushed into the depths of the mine.

As they scrutinized the path along the way, Liam and Shayla realized that the huge primogem mine had already been excavated!

The most precious primogem rock was gone!

Both Liam's and Shayla's faces were dark, unable to believe what they were seeing!

Shayla mumbled, "This... Who on earth could do this? All the elites of Dunbar and Corrin were dispatched to the underground battle ring. They wouldn't have the power to come here and rob it. Is this Maureen's doing? After all, she has stayed away from the fight right from the beginning. She is the most likely candidate to do this!"

Liam shook his head when he heard Shayla's analysis and retorted, "That's impossible. If this is really Maureen's work, she didn't need to go out of her way to help me. Besides, we have witnessed her strength and know for a fact that killing us all is a piece of cake for her."

As Liam stated this, his expression darkened.

Now that the primogem rock had been stolen, his only hope of saving Julie was shattered!

Liam curled his fingers into fists, rage coursing through his veins.

No matter what he had to resort to, he had to get the primogem rock back!

At that moment, his phone suddenly rang.

He looked at his phone's display and saw that Purple was calling him. When he answered the call, he was greeted with Purple's grave voice.

"A source informed us that Leandro sneaked into the Rosefinch Tower today. When he left the building, a large contingent of Primogem Warriors followed him out. I don't know what his intentions are. You need to watch out for yourself!"

Liam's brows furrowed on receiving this information.

Apart from the four major forces, Rosefinch Tower was the most powerful force. They formed an important bridge in providing human samples to the grey industry for the scientific research of the Duncan family in Invone.

Liam suddenly had a bad feeling.

Leandro had gone to the Rosefinch Tower and left with a large number of Primogem Warriors today, so he must be up to no good.

As Liam surveyed the plundered mine he was standing in, his instinct told him that this was somehow connected to Leandro.

After ending the call, he turned to Shayla and said, "Let's quickly go back to the Hoffman family's residence!"

Our ads aim to provide better support for authors.

