

Chapter 1051 Eat The Contract

Trevor glanced at Caitlin coldly.

Caitlin noticed the cold look in Trevor's eyes, but she was quite confident that he could do nothing about it.

Sky Film and Television Company was a small company, not worth mentioning.

Since Ivanna refused her offer, Caitlin would destroy the company Ivanna belonged.

After destroying the company, she would obtain possession of Ivanna. No artist in the world could refuse her.

Trevor ignored the arrogant lady and turned to Alec. "We have a lease contract. You have no right to evict us without a legitimate reason."

"I won't rent the place to you, so get out of here right now," Alec sneered.

Trevor sat at the meeting table and said, "Have a seat first."

He then took out a contract from his briefcase.

"This is the lease contract we signed. If you want to breach it, be my guest. However, we signed a long-term contract and, according to the contract, you have to pay our company one million dollars. Don't you remember that?"

One million dollars!

Due to the fact that Trevor had signed a long-term lease contract with the real estate company, the amount agreed upon as liquidated damage was particularly large.

Alec's expression soured when he saw Trevor take out the contract.

He had forgotten all about the liquidated damage. When Caitlin came to see Alec in person, he was so excited that he forgot about the liquidated damage and promised to help Caitlin evict Sky Film and Television Company.

With the thought of getting a promotion with the support of the Sanderson family on his mind, Alec grabbed the contract and tore it into pieces.

He then proceeded to stuff the pieces in his mouth and swallow them.

"Oh my God!"

Alec's unexpected action startled everyone. Even Caitlin took off her sunglasses in surprise.

"Liquidated damage? What are you talking about? Did we sign the contract? You must be mistaken," Alec said, pretending as though nothing had happened.

He had a smug expression on his face. He felt no shame at what he had done.

Trevor's only reaction to Alec's action was a slight raise of his eyebrows.

What Alec had done was to please Caitlin. He would do anything to please her.

Trevor was not angry, but several of the employees of Sky Film and Television Company were enraged.

"Shame on you! You are violating the law! Do you still have a conscience?"

Alec, however, felt no shame at these comments. Smiling smugly, he said, "Since you can't prove that we signed a contract, you will be illegally encroaching if you choose to remain here. Move out of here, or I'll call the police to arrest you."

Trevor, still sitting on the chair with a confident look, smiled.

"Who said there was no proof?"

Trevor took out another contract from his briefcase and said, "I didn't expect you to eat the contract, but it doesn't matter that one was only a copy. This one..."

Copy?

Alec's eyes widened in surprise, and a feeling of dizziness washed through him.

He roared, "Copy? Why didn't you tell me earlier? This must be the real one."

Alec had no choice now. Caitlin was still watching behind him. If he wanted to be in the good books of the Sanderson family, he had to do something.

"Give me the contract!"

Alec ferociously snatched up the contract.

Trevor, however, just stared at Alec, saying nothing, a faint smile on his lips.

Under Trevor's gaze, Alec repeated his previous action. He swallowed the contract again, enduring the nausea it caused him.
