

Married At First Sight Chapter 3126-“Mr. York, I am the one who went to Ormond’s house with you for an interview.”

The person who went to Ormond’s house for an interview with him?

Tatum remembered that when he went to Ormond’s house, he took a taxi there alone. After arriving at Ormond’s mansion, he registered his information and then took the car arranged by the butler and entered Ormond’s mansion.

Ormond’s house occupied a very large area. Although it was not as large as their Wildridge Manor, it was still a bit far to walk from the main entrance to the main house.

Therefore, the butler would arrange for a car to welcome the guests in.

Soon, Tatum reacted.

It was not the one who went to Ormond’s house with him, but his competitor.

The other party actually inquired about him.

He looked like he had some skills.

He also vowed to win the position of Ormond’s chef.

Tatum got up and walked over, opened the door, and saw a man and a woman standing in front of the door.

The man was in his forties, middle-aged. The woman appeared to be no more than twenty years old, exhibiting a youthful appearance that resembled that of a middle-aged man, possibly a father and daughter.

This was what Tatum guessed.

“You are?”

Tatum glanced at the two of them sharply, and then his eyes fell on the middle-aged man.

The girls next to the middle-aged man had surprise in their eyes when they saw Tatum. They didn’t know whether they were surprised by Tatum’s youth or Tatum’s handsomeness.

“Mr. York, excuse me, my name is Enrique Tran, and this is my daughter, Emery Tran.”

Enrique introduced himself.

Tatum nodded. “Hello, Mr. Tran.”

He nodded to Emery again in greeting.

“Mr. Tran, do you have something to do with me?”

Tatum didn’t ask how the other party knew his surname.

If people can find out his surname and know that he lives here, they must have channels.

He didn’t feel compelled to investigate further. As long as they didn’t find out that he was the sixth young master of the York family in Wiltspoon.

They wouldn’t be able to find out even if they thought about it.

Province X was far away from Province G, where Wiltspoon was located. The York Corporation’s business was so big that it didn’t even have much business in Annenburg, in Province X. There were quite a few franchised chain stores.

The York Corporation’s business territory had not expanded here, not because it didn’t have such big ambitions, but because there were already several large groups stationed here, headed by the Ormond family. There were many business conflicts between the York Corporation and the Ormond family.

If the York Corporation entered Annenburg in the province No matter the group’s power, moving to other people’s territory could easily overwhelm it.

In Havenmill, which was adjacent to Annenburg, there was also the Leroux family, a century-old, famous family. The Leroux family also had a lot of business in Annenburg.

Therefore, the York Corporation had some business in Annenburg in Province X.

The York Corporation was not well-known in Annenburg, Province X.

Unless everyone searched for York Corporation on the Internet, they would know what kind of company York Corporation was, but everyone searched for other companies on the Internet when they had nothing to do.

Enrique smiled and said, "There's nothing wrong. I just took the liberty to come and interrupt and talk about cooking."

He looked Tatum up and down again and praised him. "I didn't expect Mr. York to be so young. Usually, the people who go to Ormond's house to interview for the position of chef are mostly middle-aged people like me. Interviews often do not include those who are too young. No chance.

Miss Ormond would say that she is too young and has not learned to cook for a long time. The food she makes will be more delicious than that of ordinary people, but for her, it will not be edible. So when hiring a chef, too, young people will be kicked out directly."
