

Married At First Sight Chapter 3127-Tatum did not want to invite Enrique and his daughter into his room. He said to the Tran family's father and daughter, "Mr. Tran, please wait a moment. I will go back to the room and get my phone. Then we will go to the coffee shop on the first floor of the hotel and sit down. Have a cup of coffee and chat slowly."

Enrique smiled and said, "Okay."

Tatum turned around and went back to the room to get his mobile phone, then came out.

"Come on, I'll treat you two to coffee."

After Tatum closed the door, he took the lead and walked forward, calling for the Tran family's father and daughter to follow.

Enrique followed his footsteps and said sheepishly as he walked, "Mr. York, how can I ask you to treat me? I took the liberty of disturbing you. I should treat you."

Tatum smiled and said, "A cup of coffee doesn't cost much, Mr. Tran; you don't have to fight with me."

Enrique also laughed. He thought this young competitor was quite good. He just didn't know what the other person's cooking skills were?

Enrique really wanted to join Ormond's family as a chef. One was for money, the other was for fame.

He began to learn to cook after graduating from technical secondary school and has been doing this for more than ten or twenty years now. He considered himself to be an excellent cook.

His daughter also liked cooking and had learned to cook from him since she was a child. She planned to enter the catering industry in the future.

He just wanted to make a name for himself so that he could help his daughter in the future.

In Annenburg, people who know how to cook like to say, "The cooking is delicious, and only if Miss Ormond can take a bite will it prove that you are good at cooking."

The Ormond family offered a very attractive salary package.

Therefore, Enrique really wanted to succeed in the exam.

but....

Enrique was extremely embarrassed. This was not the first time he came to take the exam, but he came twice. This was the third time.

After the first two interviews, he failed the retest, and the dishes he cooked failed to impress Miss Ormond.

After two defeats, he returned home and calmed down to study the recipes carefully. He practiced hard for another two years. Everyone who has tasted his dishes now praises his cooking.

Before Enrique came to take the exam, he worked as a chef in a local restaurant in his hometown, and the salary was not low.

However, when compared to the Ormond family's salary, it was still insufficient and unremarkable.

Let's put it this way: when the Ormond family hired a new chef, even the entertainment reporters in Annenburg would report it. People on the street would even place bets on the Ormond family's new chef, speculating on how long they could stay at the family home. There were many people participating in the bet.

Although Enrique was also from Annenburg, he was not from the urban area. He worked in a restaurant in a county under the jurisdiction of Annenburg, and his family was from the countryside.

Arriving at the coffee shop on the first floor, the three of them found a seat and sat down.

After each ordered a cup of coffee, Tatum asked Emery, "Does Miss Tran want some snacks?"

Most girls love desserts.

The women in the York family, from the oldest to the youngest, all love desserts. Now that Grandma May is getting older, they don't let her eat so many desserts, and she even secretly eats them to her heart's content behind their backs.

This makes them—the grandchildren—really helpless.
