

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3210-Tatum was considered a person with a successful career. He didn't think about expanding his business or enjoying life, but he came all the way here to work as a chef.

Elora wanted to know why.

Tatum answered honestly, "Because it's difficult." I've loved cooking since I was a child, and I've also learned cooking skills from teachers. I've painstakingly studied various major cuisines, and I think I have some experience. Although I have achieved some success in starting my own business, there are mountains outside the mountains, and there are people outside the people. I still have to keep improving. The customers' mouths are the key to motivating me to keep improving."

He was a cook, and if the guests find it delicious, it means that his cooking skills have passed the test. When guests give him suggestions, he makes changes to improve his cooking skills. When he meets a customer as picky as Elora, her comments motivate him even more.

Elora guesses that he came here because he found it challenging to apply for the Ormond family's chef job. After she was silent, she said, "Being your own boss is different from working for others. Mr. York, have you thought about it clearly? If you work as a chef in my house, it will be equivalent to being a private chef. You won't be able to receive guests from all over the world, which may not be of much benefit to you."

Tatum looked at her, smiled, and said, "I think there are few people who are as good at eating as the eldest lady. Working here, I don't have customers from all over the world, but I can make the eldest lady never tire of eating. After working here for a year and a half, I think my cooking skills will improve a lot. "When I return to Wiltspoon in the future, the restaurant I run will be able to attract customers like a cloud."

He will guide his chefs to make more delicious meals to satisfy guests from all over the world, so that they can eat authentic hometown dishes and the best dishes in Wiltspoon.

Elora: "..."

Well, her mouth was too picky. If the chef could eat the food, it would be a delicacy to others.

She liked this meal tonight.

She thought Tatum's cooking was okay, but to say it was the most delicious would go against her conscience.

It was also possible that Tatum had not shown his true strength.

However, his meal tonight had conquered her family's stomachs.

Everyone said it was delicious.

In addition, Tinsley always praised Tatum in front of her, so Elora wanted to meet Tatum.

Tinsley had to admit that, from Elora's perspective, Tatum was indeed a handsome guy—a rare handsome guy.

He seemed to have a pretty good tutor, judging by his conversation and behavior.

“Mr. York, you want to work in my house for a year and a half.”

The tone was quite loud.

Elora cursed in her heart.

Others think that it would be great if they could work with her for a month.

Tatum actually wanted to work for a year and a half.

When she became the master of the house, no one in her family could cook for more than half a year. The longest time she worked was five and a half months, which was half a month less than half a year.

Tatum smiled and said, “It would be better if I could keep doing it.”

Challenging his cooking skills was the main purpose of his trip, and the secondary purpose was to make Elora fall in love with him.

Two people develop a relationship.

Grandma gave them one year. Tatum promises that if he can stay here for a year, he will win Elora's heart. After completing his mission, he took Elora back to Wiltspoon to meet his grandma.

Of course, completing the task half a year in advance would be preferable. His brothers took less than a year to win the wives chosen by their grandma.

Tatum didn't want to lose to his brothers, so he hoped he could win Elora within half a year.

Of course, his first priority was to gain a foothold in the Ormond family.

Tinsley took the sentence and said with a smile, "Mr. York, you want to keep doing it, so you have to work harder. My sister has a very picky mouth. We think the food you cooked tonight is delicious, but my sister can't say a word of praise. If this is what you're trying your best to do, I think it would be great if you could work for a month."
