

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3282-Tatum hadn't yet fallen in love with Elora, and he hadn't even started pursuing her, so he first showed off the doting nature of a man in the York family.

"Second Miss."

Tatum and Uncle Joly stood at the office's entrance.

As soon as the door opened, the two people greeted Tinsley respectfully.

At this time, it was just time to get off work.

The secretary was also preparing to go downstairs for dinner.

Tatum borrowed the company cafeteria's kitchen to prepare lunch for Elora, and the timing was perfect. He sent the freshly prepared meals upstairs a few minutes before getting off work, so that he could perfectly miss the company employees.

It wouldn't take up Elora's working time.

It took several minutes for him and Joly to go from the cafeteria to the office building, then take the elevator to the top floor.

"Uncle Joly, Tatum, you are here." Tinsley stumbled and opened the door for the two individuals.

"We just got off work." Joly and Tatum walked into the office one after another.

"Miss."

The two of them first called Elora respectfully, then walked to the sofa, put down the insulated lunch box, opened it, took out the steaming meals one by one, and placed them on the coffee table.

Elora came over.

"Eldest Miss, Second Miss, please have a meal. Nothing happens. Uncle Joly and I will go out first. When the two ladies have finished their meal, please call, and we will come in and clear away the tableware."

Tatum has already served a bowl of soup to each of the sisters.

In addition to the daily three dishes and one soup, there were also two boxes of snacks. One box was for Elora, and the other was for Tinsley, who was just eating.

Elora hummed.

“Miss, we are waiting outside the office.” Joly said it with respect.

Elora nodded.

Joly and Tatum exited the office silently.

The sisters didn’t talk when they ate, so they could eat faster.

Soon, the two sisters finished the meals delivered by Tatum.

Tinsley said, “Tatum not only cooks delicious food but also has great eyesight. He prepared meals for us—no more, no less, just enough for the two of us.”

Tatum had only been working for two or three days, and he had already figured out the appetites of the two sisters. He was a very observant person.

Elora took out the napkin and wiped her mouth. After putting down the napkin, she said to Tinsley, “Two boxes of snacks.” You can send one back to your office. If you are hungry in the afternoon, you can eat snacks to cushion your stomach.”

Tinsley said bluntly, “Then I’ll take a box.”

“Tatum sent two boxes, and one is just for you.”

Elora opened a box of snacks and discovered that they were all the ones she usually ate, so she repackaged and kept it for herself. She gave her sister another box of snacks to take away.

“When you go out, ask Uncle Joly to come in and clean up.”

Tinsley was not in a hurry to leave. She looked at Elora and suddenly asked in a low voice, “Sister, do you feel that Tatum is really considerate of you?”

Elora tapped her forehead angrily. “I don’t think he was considerate. Usually, if I don’t go to the hotel to eat, I will ask Uncle Joly to deliver food. I mentioned that if the road delay exceeds ten or twenty minutes, it affects the food’s taste. The road delay compromises the food’s taste. After such a long delay, the insulated lunch box maintains its warmth. It’s definitely not as good as freshly cooked.

I often don’t eat well, don’t have enough to eat, and there are no snacks that I can eat. During the working day, I rarely eat comfortably, right?”

