

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3289-“Isn’t Tatum doing a good job? Elora is not picky about the food he cooks.” Mrs. Ormond asked suspiciously, and without waiting for Joly’s answer, she said regretfully, “The food he cooks is really delicious, but he is the boss himself, so he may not be able to accept the change of status all of a sudden.”

Working as a private chef for the Ormond family was the same as being a servant.

Tatum was capable; he was bossy, and he was not short on money. He came to work as a private chef just for a challenge.

It was normal if he could no longer tolerate the situation. Alas, it had only been two days, and he had to change again.

Mrs. Ormond had long been numb to the fact that her family changed chefs every now and then.

“Alonzo particularly likes how Tatum made it early, diversified, and made it look like various small animals. Both Alonzo and Elora like it very much.”

Joly waited for Mrs. Ormond to finish speaking before he respectfully explained, “Madam, it’s not that Tatum is quitting; the eldest lady is going on a business trip and asked Tatum to go with her. The eldest lady asked me to temporarily arrange for someone to replace Tatum.”

Mrs. Ormond asked with concern, “Elora is on a business trip. Does it take so long? Did any branch have a major problem?”

“Madam, I don’t know about this. I am delivering food to the eldest lady. This is what the eldest lady ordered. Madam, there is no need to worry. The eldest lady will take action herself and handle the problem properly, regardless of its nature.”

Joly was extremely confident in Elora, thinking that there was nothing that she could not handle.

Mrs. Ormond had long since left things alone, believing that Elora could handle any emergencies.

Elora was no longer the old Elora who just took office.

“Tatum will follow. Just let him take care of Elora’s three meals a day. He doesn’t need to worry about other things.” Mrs. Ormond was on guard.

Ormond's family had many daughters, and Mrs. Ormond's son was young and had to rely on Elora for support. Even though she hoped Elora could find a boyfriend soon, she didn't want her to marry far away.

Tatum was young and handsome. Although he was working as a chef for the Ormond family, he also had a very good career. He had opened several restaurants and businesses and owned a large fortune.

Mrs. Ormond was afraid that Elora would have a relationship with Tatum.

Joly said, "Madam, don't worry. I've told Tatum countless times. He is obsessed with cooking, and he won't have any evil intentions."

Mrs. Ormond cursed in her heart. Her daughter was so outstanding, and she was the head of the Ormond family. Who knew if Tatum would be interested in her?

It was better to be on guard. Mrs. Ormond would never have approved her daughter taking Tatum on a long trip if she hadn't been so picky.

Mrs. Ormond said, "I think Tatum's character is not that bad. I hope he will live up to our trust in him. Joly, you won't be back for dinner tonight. When Alonzo comes back, explain to him why Tatum doesn't cook so that he won't cry willfully."

Joly responded respectfully.

It was easy to settle matters with Alonzo. Alonzo wouldn't dare to snort as long as Joly informed him that Elora had taken Tatum on a business trip.

Mrs. Ormond went out.

Joly asked the chef, who temporarily replaced Tatum, to do the work, but he himself had to get busy.

...

Wiltspoon.

Camryn didn't go to the Spring Blossoms when she came back from the company; she went directly back to the Newman family mansion. As soon as Camryn arrived home, Trenton appeared with a limp.

Callum knew that Camryn was coming back today and did not return to the company in the afternoon, so he waited at home.