

Married At First Sight Chapter 3415

Married At First Sight Chapter 3415-Looking at her home so closely, Carrie didn't dare enter the house. Her resentment towards Camryn deepened.

Thinking about how her parents had transferred the property under their name to his younger brother's name and that his younger brother was still in school, the business was left to Camryn to manage.

Carrie even complained to her parents.

"One day, I will make you all kneel before me and lick my shoes!"

Carrie cursed viciously but ultimately did not dare to drive closer. Instead, she turned the car around and drove away from the Newman family villa.

She went to Spring Blossoms again, but Camryn was not there either.

When she asked two workers, they both refused to answer her.

Carrie really wanted to smash Spring Blossoms. However, she didn't dare to do it. Because after the impulse, she wanted to go in again.

Camryn would not show mercy to her.

"If you're not here, then I'll go to Wildridge Manor to make trouble!"

Carrie came out of Spring Blossoms and drove straight to Wildridge Manor. She knew that the York family would not have any problem with Camryn because of her causing trouble, but if she didn't make a scene, she wouldn't be able to vent the anger in her heart.

Unexpectedly, when she went to Wildridge Manor, she found that the villa was very lively today and the gate of the villa was open, as if a distinguished guest were visiting.

Carrie originally wanted to take the opportunity to go in and cause trouble, but suddenly remembered what Mr. Labbe said.

Mr. Labbe said that it seemed that a big shot had come to Wiltspoon. He didn't know whether the news was true or not, so he wanted her to confirm it.

However, her news in Wiltspoon still depended on Mr. Labbe. How could she be sure of it? She didn't have the ability to do so.

Even if she is still the second daughter of the Newman family, if any big shot comes to Wiltspoon, he will not see her, the second daughter of Newman.

Who does she think she is?

It was true that Carrie was arrogant and brainless, but she also knew that her status in the upper-class society of Wiltspoon City was not very good.

The gate of Wildridge Manor was open, as if a distinguished guest were coming. Could it be the big boss that Mr. Labbe mentioned?

Should she take the opportunity to go in and see who the big boss is?

Thinking of this, Carrie drove closer.

As a result, she was stopped.

Carrie rolled down the car window and cursed the security guard who stopped her car: "Don't you have eyes? You dare to stop my car. Do you know who I am? Your Second Young Lady's biological sister, your Second Young Master's sister-in-law!"

The security guard said seriously, "Miss Newman, you cannot go in. Please leave now."

The last time Carrie came to cause trouble, she and her car were put on the blacklist at Wildridge Manor.

The security guards on duty who were in charge of guarding the gate of the villa all remembered Carrie's license plate number and knew what she looked like. As long as they saw her coming, they would not let her enter the villa.

Just drive them away.

These were the words of the Second Young Lady, Rosella.

Carrie always used to bully Camryn. Now that she is down and out, she always wants money from Camryn. She has hands and feet, but doesn't she know how to find a job to support herself? All she knows is to bully Camryn and Trenton.

The security guards all looked down on Carrie.

"Tell my elder sister to come out. I'll ask her how you do things. If you dare to stop me, see how she deals with you. Be careful that she fires you all."

In order to get in, Carrie even said that Camryn was her older sister. But she never regarded Camryn as her older sister.

The security guard still had a serious expression and said, "Our Second Young Madam ordered that as long as you come, you can't go in no matter what time it is. Miss, please leave now; otherwise, don't blame us for being rude. The Second Young Madam had several ferocious wolfhounds raised, saying that Second Miss Newman really likes being chased by wolfhounds."
