

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3360-According to Desmond, there was no need to be polite to his brothers, and Duncan did not need to see them off because he had difficulty moving.

Liberty, who was far away in Jensburg, sneezed twice. Her car stopped at the Fortress Hotel's entrance.

She took out two tissues and rubbed her nose. After getting out of the car, she threw the tissues into the trash can at the hotel's door.

Then, she, along with her secretary and several management staff, walked into the Fortress Hotel to discuss business with clients.

"Miss Hunt."

When people at the Fortress Hotel saw Liberty, they all treated her with respect.

Liberty had not yet integrated into Jensburg's business community. Everyone in the hotel knew that Liberty was Serenity's biological sister and that the York Corporation owned the Fortress Hotel, so they naturally respected her.

Not to mention, even if Kevin were here, he would still show Liberty a great deal of respect.

Liberty smiled back and walked straight in with her people, not stopping.

She made an appointment with her client, but her client hadn't arrived yet. She called her client and said it would take more than ten minutes to arrive.

She was eager to collaborate with others and fulfill their orders, which naturally required her to wait.

After arriving in the private room she had booked, she sat for a while and received a message that the client was about to arrive. Liberty immediately led her people downstairs to greet her client.

A few minutes later, she welcomed her clients into the hotel.

After more than an hour, Liberty successfully won the client's trust, leading him to immediately sign a contract with her. She felt relieved and signed another deal. This deal was larger and could at least guarantee the workload for the next three months following the start of the year.

Whether you work part-time or are your own boss, you are always afraid of not having a job. Without orders, workers won't be able to attend classes and their income will decrease.

When there are no orders, being a boss is even more difficult. Factory rent, labor, and various expenses have to be continued. In addition to the income, the company requires additional investment to sustain its operations.

Liberty personally escorted the client downstairs, stopping at the hotel's door. After the client shook hands with her, he smiled and said, "Miss Hunt, please come back, and I wish us happy cooperation."

"It's a pleasure to work with you. Take care, Mr. Dube."

Mr. Dube waved goodbye to Liberty, got into his car, and drove away as Liberty saw him off.

After Mr. Dube's car drove away, Liberty told her secretary to drive.

The Fortress Hotel was a five-star hotel in Jensburg, and people came and went every day.

Two cars drove over, but Liberty didn't take it seriously.

Unexpectedly, the two cars suddenly accelerated and rushed over.

Liberty and her people instinctively moved back to avoid a collision with the first car, and then the second car collided with them.

"Miss Hunt, be careful!"

The bodyguards following Liberty, led by Jim, quickly pushed her back.

Because he pushed too quickly, Liberty recoiled and fell to the ground.

"Miss Hunt."

The manager, who reacted quickly, went to help Liberty.

The hotel security guards quickly gathered around.

He scolded the drivers of the two cars, asking whether they knew how to drive and why they were driving so fast in front of the hotel.
