

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3386-Audrey, who was only a few years old in his memory, had already become a grandmother.

They were all old.

Previous Matriarch's granddaughters were all married and had children.

If the previous matriarch were still alive, she would definitely be very happy to have three powerful granddaughters. There was no need to worry about success. She could let any granddaughter carry the heavy burden without worrying about it.

It's a pity...The previous matriarch couldn't see the achievements of her offspring.

After waking up, Old Mr. Jimenez knew that he was not dreaming and that everything was real. He really saw Audrey, but he burst into tears.

He thought of the previous matriarch and felt sorry for her.

The eldest sister is like a mother. She raised Clarissa, but in the end, she fell into Clarissa's hands.

The previous matriarch treated Clarissa as her sister and daughter and loved and trusted her extremely. Indeed, the only one who could harm the head of the family was Clarissa.

Clarissa's younger sister did not have such ambitions, and she was also a very gentle and kind person. But even with such a temper, Clarissa did not let her live.

"Knock, knock."

There was a knock on the door.

"Uncle Jimenez, Uncle Jimenez, are you awake?"

Audrey's voice was heard at the door.

Uncle Jimenez wiped his tears, sat up, and quickly adjusted his emotions before responding to Audrey: "Ms. Audrey, I'm awake."

Soon, Audrey and Darrell pushed the door open and walked in.

As soon as she came in, Audrey turned on the light.

“Uncle Jimenez.”

The couple came over and wanted to support Old Mr. Jimenez, but he refused their support.

Uncle Jimenez smiled and said, “I feel much better now. I slept for a whole day. It’s already dark outside. I haven’t had a good night’s sleep in a long time. I slept for a whole day, and now I feel much better. After meeting Miss Audrey, nothing will happen to me.”

He was very worried.

After being saved by the miracle doctor and his companions, he lived with them for decades. He was always taciturn and rarely told them what was on his mind.

They went out to inquire about his past and then verified it with him bit by bit.

After decades of getting along with them, he slowly came to trust them and became old friends with them.

They all had apprentices, but he did not accept any. However, their apprentices were familiar with him and treated him with respect as an elder.

Every time he saw his friends’ apprentices, he would think of the two daughters of the previous matriarch.

If the Farrell family had not changed its owner, Audrey would have become the head of the family long ago, and Harlow would not have had to die.

“The old gentleman and his friends are downstairs. Let him check Uncle Jimenez’s pulse later.”

Audrey smiled. “Old Madam York is here too. Would you like to go meet her, Uncle Jimenez? Everyone is downstairs.”

It was time to eat.

Audrey and her husband came upstairs just to wake up Uncle Jimenez and ask him to come down for dinner.

Serenity and Zachery, the old lady, Remy, and Callum and Camryn all came.

With the addition of senior executives like Old Mr. Jimenez, the business was bustling tonight.

Uncle Jimenez nodded. "I know Madam York. She was very fierce when she was young. Her husband is not as good as her, but she and her husband have a very good relationship. Her husband is the most dotting man I have ever seen. Madam York can live so freely and get whatever she wants because of her husband's dotting on her."

Uncle Jimenez talked about Old Madam York's past and glanced at Darrell twice.