DON'T TOUCH ME!

Still blushing and with Hanna constantly teased her, Iris reached her bedroom.

Cane's bedroom was the next door and both rooms were connected by a door and a bathroom, but this would be the first time for them to sleep separately and somehow, Iris was a little bit unsettled with the fact. She didn't like to sleep alone, especially when she could sleep better with Cane close to her. She felt safe with him...

However, Kaz stopped them before Iris could open the door.

"Luna Iris, wait!" Kaz shouted, as he rushed toward them.

Iris caught his sight from the corner of her eyes and turned around, while Hanna frowned because of how loud he was shouting at them.

"What happened?" Hanna asked when Kaz was already in front of them. The old man was slightly panting.

"I forgot to tell you that this is no longer your room, luna. Come here, I will take you to your room." Kaz looked polite, but there was nothing polite in what he was saying.
