

Chapter 898

898 LET'S KILL HIM!

Iris then told Cane about what she felt and how she felt this slightest attachment on him, or how her heart ached when she felt what he felt.

"I thought you could only feel the otherperson's feeling and see their memories when they were inflicted by dark magic and you absorbed it."Cane frowned. He hovered above her, while Iris had her back laid down on the makeshift bed inside the carriage.

They had arrived in the pack house, but Cane didn't want to move yet before he got the whole explanation from his mate.

"At first, I have the same thought, but I canfeel the power is growing within me ever since Na's life essence completely became one with me." Iris became more sensitive with dark magic and she could feel it strongly from Rei and some of the people that came with him. Needless to say, they must have tangled themselves with black magic."I feel the power is growing..." she muttered to herself.

It was very subtle, until Iris didn't notice it, but she knew that she was way more powerful than before and surprisingly, it was not the end of it too.

As if there was a pile of mysteries that was ready to be discovered, her power was the same, it waited for her to tap on it.

Iris raised her hand and touched Cane's wound on his face."I am certain that I feel like I can read Cedric's mind when he was nearby."

Cane furrowed his brows."Like a mindlink."

Iris blinked her eyes."Cane, what exactly had happened to you and your pack member, why you can't use mindlink?"

It was a painful memories and Cane was reluctant to talk about it, he was not in the mood to revisit that experience again after he shut it down and Iris could tell.

"Do you know that I can make the otherperson to see my memories?"w@©.Novel@oRm.com

"You did it with Cezi," Cane replied, heremembered Iris mentioned it by passing, therefore she was not sure whether he listened to it or not.

"Yes." She narrowed her eyes."Let me trysomething." Iris closed her eyes and tried to concentrate, but it was hard when Cane kept touching her earlobe."Cane, stop it,I can't concentrate!" Iris opened her eyes and glared at him, as she swatted his hand away. "Stay still."

"Okay."

The look on his mate's face when she tried to concentrate was adorable. It was not his fault, if he wanted to touch her, right?

In the beginning, Cane didn't know what Iris was trying to do, but then he felt it. He just felt it and knew."Are you trying to read my mind?"

Iris opened her eyes and pursed her lips. "Didn't work." She indeed tried, but it wasnot the same like when she projected her own memories to other. "I thought I can read someone else's mind.

Decratic's followers can do that."WŪ(w).ne(v)élw(o)Γ(m).com

"Maybe you need a little bit more practice."Cane kissed her forehead, comforting her."I could feel it."

Cane then told her about how he and the other pack member lost their ability to be able to communicate with each other through mindlink. It was not dark magic, but poison, the strong one, to the point, their offspring wouldn't be able to have mindlink too.

Probably the effect would wear off after a few generations.

Iris was silence for a while, she hesitated to let Cane knew about this, but decided to tell him."Cane, I think I can restore mindlink between you and your pack member. But, I am not promise it will work, but I can try..."

"You can?"

"But,I am not promise. I can try, but I amnot promise it will success," Iris said hastily.

This was the main reason why she didn't tell Cane when she tried to heal him, because she didn't want to see the disappointment in their eyes if she happened to fail and more so, she would feel under the pressure if Cane knew she tried.

But, Iris learned from her mistake not to keep anything from her mate.

"Understood," Cane said, he kissed herforehead to reassure her, as if telling her to take her time.

"Thank you." Iris sighed deeply when Canecaressed her forehead, but there was something that caught her eyes, it was a little dot on his palm."Where did you get this? Lou?" Iris caught his hand and recognize that small dot.uw(w).ne-vê©worm.com

She had one, Lou gave her and it was indeed a life saving.

"Yes, I asked one." A few days ago, he askedLou to draw this for him. He needed this, especially when Rei was here.

In conclusion of their discussion, Iris only thought her power was growing and she was not only limited seeing wolf spirit, but person too.

However, Cane had different idea about Cedric. Therefore, later that night when Iris had fallen asleep, he asked Aliana to stay inside the bedroom to accompany her, while he went to see Lou.

The merchant almost got a heart attack when he saw Cane entered his bedroom. He created barrier around his room, but this damn alpha could neutralize it.

"Seriously! Can you stop entering my roomwithout permission!? What if I am naked!?"Lou whined like a maiden.

Yet, Cane only spared him a glance before he marched toward the sofa, where Lou put Cedric. The merchant was being petty. He didn't even have an ounce of sympathy to let Cedric slept on the bed. Not that Cane would complain.

"Did someone try to enter the bedroom?"Like usual, Cane ignored Lou's complain.w(w)u.Nôvêl©órm.©om

"Aside from you, there was no one," Lougrumbled. This alpha had bothered his sweet sleep again and now he was going to continue his sleep, he didn't care what Cane wanted to do with Cedric.

However, when he finally laid down on the bed, he couldn't sleep because he was curious of what Cane wanted to do with Cedric.

Therefore, he got off the bed and approached the alpha again."What are you going to do now?"

The merchant frowned because Cane was trying to flip Cedric's body, not so careful to keep his head still intact after it almost severed completely.

"Cane, if you kept doing that, I would end upthinking that you were a pervert, you know."Lou gave Cane a disdainful look when the latter pulled up Cedric's clothes to see his back.

And his hunch proved correct.

There, Cane could see the glaring sign, the birthmark on the knight's back. This symbol became very familiar with him recently.

On the other hand, Lou poked his head and saw it too. He was flabbergasted and then growled in frustration.

"No! I don't like this!" he disgruntled.

And for the first time, Cane agreed with him. He didn't like this. Having Cedric as one of Iris's protectors would only complicate the situation. He was still unsure whether to let him lived or not, because of the implication on them afterward.

Lou suddenly got an idea."Cane! No one knows about this except the two of us." He looked excited."Let's kill him!"
