Chapter 2411

Under the watchful eyes of the crowd, Sawyer's evil-slaying sword and Briggs's folding fan finally collided with each other.

To be precise, it was Briggs's folding fan that pierced Sawyer's blade.

"Bang!"

There was a loud bang.

When both sides' weapons touched, a powerful energy wave swept around, with the collision point at the center.

Wherever the energy wave passed, sand and rocks flew, smoke and dust rose, and some spectators who were close to the stage could not open their eyes because of the wind and sand.

On the other hand, the two people on the stage were in a stalemate after the collision.

Briggs's folding fan, like a sword, touched Sawyer's blade.

Equally matched, one was chopped down and the other stabbed in the air.

This scene stunned everyone in the audience.

"F*ck! He actually blocked it? What happened?"

"Master Sawyer's sword had just become as powerful as a master. The attack's impact was absolutely devastating. I didn't expect that the little boy actually used his ingenuity to break through the force and block this fatal blow. He is really capable!"

"D*mn it! What happened? He didn't die?"

"..."

Everyone talked about it; some were surprised, some were annoyed, and some were regretful.

Most of the audience was not satisfied with this result.

On one hand, they harbored an inexplicable hostility towards Briggs, but on the other hand, they were optimistic about Sawyer and made a significant wager.

They originally thought that the sword could have determined the outcome just now, but they never thought that the little boy they looked down on actually had extraordinary strength.

He could accurately identify the flaws and combat them with the terrifying force of the sword.

They had to admit that he was really amazing.

At this moment, even Noemi and others couldn't help but look up to him.

They were curious before why Dustin was so confident in Briggs, but now that they saw him, they found that Dustin was right.

Briggs had a lot of surprises in store for him.

“Hmm?”

On the stage, Sawyer frowned as he looked at Briggs, who was so close yet unharmed.

Like the audience, Sawyer thought he could easily kill Briggs when he drew his sword.

Unexpectedly, the opponent blocked his full-strength attack with just a folding fan.

Who is this kid?

“Buzz~!”

Sawyer did not give up. He held the sword's hilt with both hands and began to press down hard.

The evil-slaying sword in his hand trembled slightly, and the blue light became stronger and stronger.

He now aimed his blade at Briggs's shoulder and neck.

As long as his strength was sufficient, he could completely defeat the opponent with one force and seriously injure him with the opponent's weapon.

Chapter 2412

After all, he was an ascetic monk. He was far superior to ordinary warriors, especially in terms of physical strength.

However, although the idea was good, Sawyer soon found something wrong.

Because no matter how hard he tried, his blade could not move forward.

It was as if what was stopping him was not a folding fan but an unshakable mountain.

Obviously, the opponent's strength was even greater than his!

"How is it possible?!"

Sawyer's pupils shrank, and he was secretly shocked.

In terms of strength, he has always been confident; why can't he get the slightest advantage over Briggs?

Could this child in front of him be born with superpowers?

"I don't believe you have any flaws!" Sawyer gritted his teeth and did not give up. The evil-slaying sword in his hand suddenly turned, changed from chopping to chopping, and cut horizontally towards Briggs's neck.

This sword did not have a strong power, but it was fast—so fast that it was unexpected.

Briggs did not dodge, and when Sawyer's fast sword chopped at his neck, the folding fan in his hand, like a sword, stabbed Sawyer's chest fiercely.

This posture was like a life-for-life exchange.

If it were a normal person, he would subconsciously choose to dodge or defend.

However, Sawyer was unmoved. He was confident that he could chop off Briggs's head before Briggs stabbed him in the chest.

"Clang!"

"Bang!"

Two strange sounds rang out almost at the same time.

The first sound was slightly faster, and it was Sawyer's sword that accurately chopped Briggs's neck.

However, Briggs's Acala Mantra blocked it when it touched the skin.

The blade chopped on the mantra, sounding like a metal collision and splashing a circle of fine ripples.

The second sound was slightly slower; it was the sound of Briggs's folding fan hitting Sawyer's chest.

Although this attack did not seriously injure Sawyer, it forced him back several steps.

The collision between the two sides this time immediately determined the winner.

Simultaneously, it also caught the audience at the scene off guard.

Most of them were optimistic about Sawyer, and some even placed heavy bets.

They thought that Sawyer could easily deal with Briggs.

However, up until now, the situation was beyond everyone's expectations.

Not only did Sawyer not win, he even lost the fight.

It only forced him to retreat a few steps and did not cause any substantial damage, but it inexplicably made those who had placed heavy bets nervous.

Deep in their hearts, they had a terrible premonition.

No way? No way?

Sawyer was not going to lose?

With this thought, it became uncontrollable.

Many people became more and more afraid and panicked as they thought about it.

The situation was completely out of their control.

Chapter 2413

"Master Sawyer, you deserve to be an ascetic monk." Your physical strength is indeed strong. I admire you." Briggs glanced at the white mark on Sawyer's chest and couldn't help but praise him.

If an ordinary warrior was hit in the chest by his folding fan, he would be disabled, if not dead. As a result, it hit Sawyer, but only knocked him back a few steps and did not cause any damage.

Admittedly, Sawyer's physical strength was far superior to that of warriors of the same level.

“Kid! Are you humiliating me?”

The words of praise originally sounded particularly harsh to Sawyer, causing his face to sink immediately. From the beginning to the end, Sawyer only viewed Briggs as prey. Unexpectedly, this prey unexpectedly turned the tables and forced him to lose his face, which naturally left him feeling deeply sad.

There was a hint of anger stemming from feelings of shame.

“Master Sawyer, you misunderstood. I really think that you are extraordinary. After reaching Grandmaster, you can jump over the dragon gate and ascend to heaven in one step.” Briggs said it sincerely.

Sawyer had cultivated both internal and external strength, making him much stronger than warriors of the same level. The only regret was that the opponent was already 36 years old and had never broken through the shackles and become a martial arts master.

Therefore, his strength was greatly limited, and he couldn't fully exert his due advantages.

Of course, Sawyer's excessive focus on perfecting his body likely contributed to the delay in breaking through.

This resulted in extremely high physical strength, but greatly reduced cultivation progress. This was a common problem for warriors who cultivate both internal and external strength.

“Kid! Stop talking nonsense here!” At this moment, Sawyer became more irritable. “Aren't you just showing off here because you have a tortoise shell to protect your body? If you have the ability, you can remove the tortoise shell, and let's fight with real swords and guns to see who is more powerful.”

Briggs had the Acala Mantra to protect his body, which could save his life at every critical moment.

Before his true energy ran out, the opponent was genuinely a little helpless.

Of course, if there were no Acala Mantra, he would only need three swords to deal with Briggs.

“Okay, Master Sawyer, since you're so interested, I will stop using my body protection skills and have a good fight with you.” Briggs did not refuse but agreed immediately.

This response left Sawyer slightly perplexed. What he had just said was utterly angry, and he never imagined that Briggs would concur.

After all, as long as he had the Unmovable Hades Curse, Briggs was basically invincible.

Normal people wouldn't give up their huge advantages and use their weaknesses to touch the opponent's strengths.

However, Briggs did it.

Either the other party was a fool or had absolute self-confidence.

The self-confidence was almost arrogant, and Briggs didn't take him seriously at all.

Chapter 2414

"Kid, did I hear you right now? Are you sure you don't need the body protection skills?" Sawyer was shocked and suspicious.

He couldn't understand what Briggs was doing.

Was Briggs deliberately playing a trick on him?

"Of course, a man's words are difficult to go back on. There are so many audiences watching. Can I regret it in public?" Briggs smiled faintly.

Upon hearing this, Sawyer felt instantly uplifted: "Kid! You are really brave! Dare to fight me without using body protection skills; I respect you as a man!"

At this moment, Sawyer almost laughed out loud. He didn't expect that there were such stupid people in the world. His random provocation completely fooled him, leading him to forfeit his own advantages and the chance to win the ring.

Of course, for him, this was undoubtedly a godsend.

"Master Ethier! He is deliberately provoking you; don't be fooled!"

The audience under the ring was already in an uproar, especially Halle, who was traveling with him. She stood up excitedly and started shouting.

"Yes, Master Ethier! Winning the game is the most important thing. Don't waste time talking to him. Just go all out and quickly resolve the battle!" Sullivan also shouted.

Although Rivka, next to Sullivan, didn't say anything, she also frowned.

In their opinion, Briggs's behavior was indeed a bit stupid.

Briggs was clearly in an invincible position, but he had to cut off his advantage and fight a monk head-on. No one could understand it.

“This kid is so arrogant! He simply doesn’t take Master Sawyer seriously!”

“The arrogant will be punished by heaven. Without the body protection skills, he is a lamb to be slaughtered in front of Master Sawyer!”

“Okay, okay! Today, let Master Sawyer teach that pretty boy what it means to be dangerous in the world and unpredictable in human hearts.”

“...”

Briggs’ words overjoyed some audience members who supported Sawyer.

They felt anxious and afraid after witnessing Sawyer’s previous beating.

If Sawyer couldn’t beat Briggs, they would suffer heavy losses.

But now, Briggs’s arrogance gave them hope of victory.

Sawyer stretched out three fingers and said confidently, “Kid! I don’t like to take advantage. Since you don’t use body protection skills, I will only use three swords. As long as you can block my three swords, I will admit defeat immediately, but if you can’t, don’t blame me for being too ruthless.”

“Okay.” Briggs smiled and nodded, and at the same time raised one hand and made a gesture of invitation: “Then please use your sword, Master Sawyer.”

Chapter 2415

“Giving up the use of the Acala Mantra and fighting a monk head-on, is that young man a little too confident?”

In the audience, Cassidy frowned, looking very puzzled. She was quite optimistic about Briggs just now, but she didn’t expect him to do this. It was really unexpected.

“I don’t think a young man is a frivolous person. Given that he had the courage to agree, he ought to be extremely confident, right?” Noemi said it thoughtfully.

Although she didn’t understand Briggs’s intentions, she knew he was very powerful.

But this kind of behavior that makes people feel a little bit uncomfortable is really not advisable.

“Kid! I want to see how capable you are today.”

On the ring, Sawyer’s long sword turned, and the true energy in his body gushed out instantly. His momentum became particularly domineering and sharp.

Simultaneously, the blue light emanated from the evil-slaying sword in his hand, accompanied by piercing roars. Arcs of electricity flashed indistinctly around the blade.

It was very deterring!

Facing Sawyer’s power-accumulating moves, Briggs put one hand behind his back and gently waved his folding fan with the other hand, his face still calm. He looked like he was standing still, even if a mountain fell on his head.

“Thunder and wind!”

Sawyer shouted loudly, and the evil-slaying sword that had accumulated to the top suddenly slashed at Briggs.

“Boom!”

As soon as she drew the sword, thunder erupted.

It was deafening and soul-stirring.

The people in the audience were dizzy and covered their ears.

At the same time, a huge sword light wrapped in lightning slashed at Briggs from top to bottom.

This sword was earth-shaking, and the wind and clouds changed color.

Wherever the sword light passed, the sound of wind and thunder rolled in.

Before the sword light arrived, a bone-scratching wind had already hit Briggs, blowing his hair upright, his robes rustling, and his eyes unconsciously narrowing.

“Good swordsmanship!” Briggs smiled slightly, without dodging or avoiding.

He turned his wrist and used the folding fan as a sword, stabbing at the oncoming blade.

This fan looked ordinary. There was no terrifying power, no cold air, and no heart-pounding lethality. It was just an ordinary straight stab, which was completely insignificant compared to Sawyer’s blade.

“Kid! See if you can survive this!”

“Without using body protection skills, this pretty boy can’t survive a single move in front of Master Sawyer!”

“Humph! If you fly into the fire, you’ll destroy yourself!”

Upon seeing Briggs’s counterattack, which was merely a soft fan, many male audiences sneered with expressions akin to those of a dead person.
