

Chapter 228 Scandal

A piece of dreadful news was in circulation the next morning.

"Shocking news! Loraine was caught red-handed by her ex-husband in an orgy with a famous artist and twenty male models!" it stated.

The headline was so catchy and outrageous, no one could resist taking a look.

The article sported a set of pictures.

In the first photo, Loraine and Mr. T could be seen entering an office together. People had already seen that photo so they started to think it was fake news.

They were about to begin cursing at the person who wrote the article, but as they scrolled down, they saw the next. A group of male models were in a line, filing into the office.

It began to seem a bit more real and people's interest was recaptured.

In the next photo, a furious-looking Marco was rushing into the office.

This was followed by another picture showing the male models fleeing from the office, disheveled.

Everyone reading took a deep breath to stabilize themselves from the shock before continuing.

The last photo was of Marco leaving the office and slamming the door before walking away with a frigid expression.

The photos were even more shocking than the headline as they seemed to prove what the headline had said.

People were shocked by this big scandal.

"Am I dreaming? I think so. What sort of scandal is this?"

"The men who went into the office where Loraine and Mr. T were left half-naked. It's too suspicious."

"So Marco went to catch them in the act? I never imagined Loraine to be a dissolute woman. If I were Marco, I would be livid."

The news circulated quickly across the internet until it was trending.

It had gone past regular social media platforms. Even Loraine and Mr. T's fans, who hoped they would be a couple, felt disappointed.

"I am heartbroken. I didn't expect them to be of loose moral!"

"I thought this was a love story about a wealthy male artist and an accomplished female CEO. However, it turned out to be a Roman orgy. I am so upset! Who would have thought?"

Their fans were brokenhearted. Some fans refused to comment on the article in hopes that the situation would be explained soon.

Those who were not fans left vile comments.

"I always knew Loraine was not some innocent woman. As you can see, it didn't take long for her to get corrupt."

"I can't believe Mr. T engaged in such a vulgar act. I have always regarded artists as godly."

"He is not worthy to be called an artist. He's just a rich guy who hyped himself up without having any skills. He's not a true artist. I'm sure he has been doing these things in secret all this while, and he just got caught this time."

As the news gained momentum, some supposed insiders came up with a theory about Loraine, saying she was grooming these young men, and as rising stars, they had no choice but to sleep with her.

This time, Loraine and Mr. T lost all of their supporters. They were vilified by the entire Internet, thereby losing countless fans.

Lily was lounging in a private villa, reading the negative comments triumphantly.

"I'd like to see how that bitch would try to recover from this now that I've ruined her reputation."

Mia stood beside her, showering her praises. "This is all thanks to you, Lily. If I was the one who exposed such sensitive information, I would have just gotten in trouble. Speaking of... Marco isn't going to come after us for involving him, is he?"

Mia only wanted to revenge on Loraine. She didn't want to risk offending Marco.

Lily narrowed her eyes and said with a scoff, "There's no cause for alarm. Loraine is a shameless whore. No respectable man would be able to endure such an atrocious scandal. Surely Marco won't defend her anymore. He might even want his own revenge on Loraine."

Mia wasn't convinced.

She recalled that Loraine had already won Lily in the past. She wouldn't have teamed up with Lily if not for the fact that no one else was willing post the photos.

Lily glanced at her and laughed arrogantly. "Don't worry. I am going to marry Marco. Do you think he would worry about such a trivial issue? Destroying Loraine is simple. And I will even destroy the whole Universe Group one day."

With this situation, the collaboration between Bryant Group and Universe Group would surely be called off.

The Fowler family would use the opportunity to partner with Bryant Group.

Lily's confidence made Mia relax a little. She decided to take her word for it. She let out a sigh of relief. "Perfect! That bitch is getting what she deserves. Congratulations are in order. I wish you and Marco a happy marriage. No one in the world deserves him more than you, Lily."

Lily smiled as she imagined herself in a wedding dress, getting married to Marco.

Chapter 229 Expose His Identity

Public opinion on the internet was getting more and more intense, and even the public relations department of Universe Group could not do anything about it.

The situation was not one that could be solved through ordinary PR methods. After some internal discussions, the company could not reach an agreement on what decision to take. So, they reported to the chairman, Aldo.

The Torres family then held its own emergency meeting.

Aldo sat at the head of the table, looking dignified.

Rowan, being used to giving orders in the army, was wearing a cold expression and looking very frightening.

The two of them looked at Wesley, without saying a word, but their eyes were hard and fiery enough to make him scared.

Under the fiery gazes of these two, Wesley couldn't help but tremble and raise his hands in surrender.

"I'm sorry. It's all my fault. I shouldn't have let such photos go out," he said in apology.

Aldo slammed his fist on the table and shouted angrily, "Who said this is about the photos?"

And Rowan snorted in displeasure. "Look at you, Wesley. You've wrongly influenced Lorrie!"

Wesley, drenched in guilt, touched the tip of his nose and murmured in embarrassment, "Rowan, why are you saying the same thing as Marco?"

But when he looked up at Rowan, he saw him glaring at him, angrier than ever. Wesley shrank back and dropped his gaze. "I know I did wrong. I just wanted Lorrie to see the newly signed stars of Starlight Entertainment. I didn't mean to do anything reckless!"

Lorraine quickly stood up and came to his aid. "I just wanted to help Uncle Wesley by checking the new employees in his company. We didn't do anything else."

"But of course, if Lorrie liked any one of them, she could have taken him home," Wesley murmured.

Instantly, Rowan landed a stinging slap on his shoulder and Aldo also raised his cane as if to beat him with it.

Wesley had to jump out of their reach and hide behind Lorraine. "I was doing it for Lorrie. She was married to Marco for three years. But he didn't..."

Before he could complete the statement, Lorraine turned around and covered his mouth, embarrassed.

"Stop talking nonsense!"

Wesley kept his mouth shut and shrugged helplessly.

Aldo shouted at him in anger, "You say you did it for Lorrie, eh? But look at the people you were presenting to her! Have you no shame?"

Of course, none of them was against Loraine finding a new boyfriend. In fact, they all hoped that Loraine could find someone she loved and get married again.

But the reason why they were so angry with Wesley was because of the caliber of men he had introduced to her.

Meanwhile, Loraine was beginning to feel more and more uncomfortable. She felt that if they continued to talk like this, the whole thing might end up in a big quarrel that could cause enmity. So, she tried to change the direction of the discussion.

"Grandpa, the most important thing now is how to solve the problem. Those photos might have been taken secretly at the company. We can check the surveillance footage to find who that person is," she suggested.

Rowan nodded and got up on his feet. "I'll have someone look into it."

Aldo sighed and shook his head worriedly. "Lorrie, this will have a great impact on your reputation. No matter how hard you try to explain, people might not believe you."

"I'm also affected. Why is no one worrying about me?"

Wesley grumbled.

But nobody took him seriously at all.

Aldo spat at him, "Do you really need us to worry about you? Then maybe you should start by not being so frivolous!"

With the current state of things, it would not be enough to only explain that Loraine and Wesley had been checking the employees. Wesley's playboy image and his relationship with Loraine would still cause people to have all sorts of guesses. So, it was necessary for them to come clean and clear completely.

After thinking for a long time, Aldo said, "It seems that the only thing we can do is to expose Wesley's identity."

Wesley said nothing in response.

The reason why he had kept his identity hidden all along was because he didn't want to be bound by the burdens associated with his family.

But he didn't want anything to negatively affect his niece either.

"What? You don't want it to be done?" Aldo asked, looking at him with a frown.

Wesley quickly raised his hands in surrender. "Of course, I do."

Soon, Universe Group and Starlight Entertainment jointly issued a statement to clarify the situation.

"In view of the rumor spreading on the internet recently, we hereby declare that the purpose of Loraine Torres' visit to Starlight Entertainment was to find a new partner for her project. She was only going to select one of the male artists signed by the company. She left after discussing it with the CEO in his office for more than ten minutes. Any contrary stories should be disregarded."

But unfortunately, people didn't buy this explanation. They felt that the statement was not convincing at all and they made their opinions known in the comment section.

In response, Universe Group issued a new statement.

"We hereby introduce Mr. T to the public. He's not only the president of Starlight Entertainment, but also Loraine's uncle, and his name is Wesley Torres."

This new statement caused a huge stir.

People were shocked.

It turned out the two were uncle and niece.

If that was the case, then it was a family affair, so there was nothing strange or worth gossiping about it.

Some people tagged Marco with the intention of bringing his attention to the statements and see what his response would be.

Chapter 229 Expose His Identity  +120 Points at most

"How would you feel when you caught your ex-wife and her uncle together?"

Our ads aim to provide better support for authors.

 I want no ads >