

The Alpha: Claiming His Enemy's Daughter Novel Online Free, Chapter 546

546 THE TRAITOR 2

Lil Thing had been roaming around the pack and ended up in the orphanage, where he was taken custody by the children there, as they loved it. Of course, the furball couldn't shake them off and end up as their play thing.

Meanwhile, its owner didn't really care about it.

On the other hand, the warriors were dumbstruck to see how this white furball could be so docile with little children, despite witnessing how ferocious this creature was when in the last battle. It could be said, this bear killed their enemy more than them, but it didn't even extend its claw when the children climbed on top of its body.

"It's okay," Iris said, she walked forward when Zephyr shielded her from Lil Thing. She extended her hand and caressed its head, as it whined against her touch, as if complaining.

Even though it was proven that Lil Thing was harmless to children, but Zephyr had witnessed the feral side of this white furball, so out of instinct and duty, he needed to step forward and protect Iris.

"It's okay, that's furry creature is fine," Eron said to Zephyr, as he handed over another chess for him to put inside the carriage. "The one that you need to pay close attention is the merchant." The alpha had emphasized to not let Iris engaged with the sorcerer as much as possible.

"It is so hard to find a way to talk with you," Lou complained, as he approached Iris and pushed the white bear aside. "I heard you drink a few nights ago, do you want to try to drink in broad daylight?" Lou had this brilliant smile on his lips, as he made a bold offer. 1

Of course, hearing this, the seven warriors immediately jumped in to interrupt. They still remembered their punishment to chase after the monsters in the Goffa mountain and now they didn't want to imagine what else their alpha would do to them if they let this to happen. 2

"Luna, you need to get into the carriage."

"Luna, you come here for a while, there is something I want to ask."

"Luna, have you met the horses that will pull your carriage? Come, I will introduce you to them." ( 1

They tried to use all the excuses they could think to get Iris away from the merchant, even though some of them sounded very ridiculous.

Meanwhile, Lil Thing was not happy Iris was taken away again. 1

"Is it wise to force a retirement on Kaz? He has been around for decades," Jace asked Cane, he returned to the study room once he had shown Carla her bedroom in the pack house. 1

"Not every decision needed to be wise," Cane said curtly. He had done so many unwise decisions, thus it was not being wise that he was looking for.

Jace wanted to retort it, but seeing Cane's expression, he knew it was a futile attempt and it was better for him not to try and irk the alpha.

"Have you found out the other traitor?" Cane asked next. 1

Jace scratched his head. "No. Not yet. No clue." The beta frowned. With Lyle, they got the clue from Aderan, who had gotten it from the queen, but from what they learned, Lyle was the only traitor.

Jace had been keeping his eyes on him and used to feed him with false information, so the king got the wrong news, with that, they could slightly control what kind of information the king had from their pack.

However, there was no way Lyle knew about the secret passageways inside the pack house, because all the Blue Moon pack warriors were either working in mines or guarding the entrance of their pack. They didn't come closer to the pack house, let alone knew about the secret passageways. 4

Even Redmond, who used to come in and out as he liked in the pack house was clueless about the existence of the secret passageways.

"We are going back to square one again regarding this traitor..." Jace muttered under his breath, he looked upset.

"What about the member of our pack?" Cane suggested and this made Jace frown even harder.

"Do you suspect the member of our pack?" It crossed Jace's mind, but then it was hard for him to go through with that, the thought the member of their pack had betrayed them was too disturbing. 2

"Check on them," Cane said and then stood up to go to the front yard, they were going to depart in an hour.

The alpha was not thrilled to investigate his own pack member and learn they betrayed him, but then it would be even more dangerous if they looked past it.

However, without Cane realized it, his intuition was proven right in a way, because it was indeed his pack member, who had disclosed about the secret passageways. 1

But, he would have never imagined who that person could be... 5

"Miss Aria, lady Cyan said she wanted to see you," Lett o called Aria, who was staring at the town through a small window in her bedroom. She had stayed in the capital city for more than two months, but she had never stepped outside of this tower. 2

Only a handful of people knew her existence here. Life looked so blurry in her eyes, as she didn't know what to do and what to expect.

Therefore, she held onto the only emotion that she knew; hatred. It was so easy to hate something and her favorite person for her to hate was; iris. 2

She would end up like this if it was not for her. She wouldn't live a miserable life if she did not come to the picture. Even if Cane didn't love her the way she did, she knew he wouldn't be with someone else and she would be the only woman by his side.

Cane. What he was doing right now? Did you still remember me? Did I ever cross your mind? 2

Those questions were the most frequent questions that came into Aria's mind, while she indulged herself in misery. She loved him, despite everything he had done.

She loved him and would give up anything for him, but he didn't want it and now, she would do everything to get back to him.

If she couldn't be the person he loved, then she would be the only person, who would be in his mind. Aria loved Cane and she was willing to do everything to get his attention, for him to remember her, even though her way was so twisted. 1

"Miss Aria?" Lett o called Aria again, she was sitting near the windowsill, staring outside. Her stomach looked so huge, she would die within a few weeks from now on.

"Hm?"

"Lady Cyan wanted to see you..." Lett o repeated again carefully, because Aria's mood was a little bit sour nowadays. She refused to see his master, unless she was so thirsty and wanted his blood to quench her thirst.

"What that blind woman wanted with me again?!" Aria snarled. She had laughed to Cyan's face when she saw her the last time. She was blind and now from what she learned, Cyan's existence in this palace had been kept secret, just like her. 3

Aria hated that woman, even more when she heard that she failed with her grand scheme against the Howling Wolf pack, but what irked her more was the fact Iris was still alive. 1

If she was going to fail, at the very least, she should kill that slut!

Aria was not sure about the details and how Cyan got blind, but then she couldn't care less about that trivial matter. "I- I don't know, miss..." Lett o said, he flinched. He could feel her wrath filled the air.

Aria then stood up and walked out of the door, pushing Lett o out of her way. She hated this slave boy. See? It was so easy to be hateful and she lived with that emotion.

"What do you want?!" Aria asked, once she entered Cyan's bedroom. It was not big or luxurious, just like her bedroom when she was still the king's mistress, but it was convenient enough and was way nicer than Aria's small one. 1

"Sit down, there is something I want to discuss with you," Cyan said firmly, it was a tacit understanding that they didn't like each other, thus it was better to lower their interaction and go straight to the point. "Tell me about your former pack, Winter Moon pack."

Aria was Leane's personal maid, they came from Winter Moon pack before Leane found Cane was her destined mate and she moved almost right away to the Howling Wolf pack. 2

Therefore, as the future luna's personal maid, of course, Aria had the privilege to know about those secret passageways. She was also the one, who told Cyan about the situation in the Howling Wolf pack and how many people still perceived Iris as Gerald's daughter and harbor ill feeling toward her. 4This kind information looked insignificant, but it was a tool for Cyan to sow discord between the Howling Wolf pack people.

While men used to use cunning tactic to set a trap, woman used to play with emotions, the way they schemed was different and subtle. It was not a direct approach or a threat like men used to do, but it could leave a long impact.

This method suit Cyan the most, since she was also a mind controller.

"What do you want to know about Winter Moonpack?" Aria narrowed her eyes.

Winter Moon pack joined hand with Red Claw pack to fight for the throne, but they failed.

The Alpha: Claiming His Enemy's Daughter Novel Online Free,Chapter 546

546 THE TRAITOR 2

Lil Thing had been roaming around the pack and ended up in the orphanage, where he was taken custody by the children there, as they loved it. Of course, the furball couldn't shake them off and end up as their play thing.

Meanwhile, its owner didn't really care about it.

On the other hand, the warriors were dumbstruck to see how this white furball could be so docile with little children, despite witnessing how ferocious this creature was when in the last battle. It could be said, this bear killed their enemy more than them, but it didn't even extend its claw when the children climbed on top of its body.

"It's okay," Iris said, she walked forward when Zephyr shielded her from Lil Thing. She extended her hand and caressed its head, as it whined against her touch, as if complaining.

Even though it was proven that Lil Thing was harmless to children, but Zephyr had witnessed the feral side of this white furball, so out of instinct and duty, he needed to step forward and protect Iris.

"It's okay, that's furry creature is fine," Eron said to Zephyr, as he handed over another chess for him to put inside the carriage. "The one that you need to pay close attention is the merchant." 3 The alpha had emphasized to not let Iris engaged with the sorcerer as much as possible.

"It is so hard to find a way to talk with you," Lou complained, as he approached Iris and pushed the white bear aside. "I heard you drink a few nights ago, do you want to try to drink in broad daylight?" Lou had this brilliant smile on his lips, as he made a bold offer. 1

Of course, hearing this, the seven warriors immediately jumped in to interrupt. They still remembered their punishment to chase after the monsters in the Goffa mountain and now they didn't want to imagine what else their alpha would do to them if they let this to happen. 2

"Luna, you need to get into the carriage."

"Luna, you come here for a while, there is something I want to ask."

"Luna, have you met the horses that will pull your carriage? Come, I will introduce you to them." ( 1

They tried to use all the excuses they could think to get Iris away from the merchant, even though some of them sounded very ridiculous.

Meanwhile, Lil Thing was not happy Iris was taken away again. 1

"Is it wise to force a retirement on Kaz? He has been around for decades," Jace asked Cane, he returned to the study room once he had shown Carla her bedroom in the pack house. 1

"Not every decision needed to be wise," Cane said curtly. He had done so many unwise decision, thus it was not being wise that he was looking for.

Jace wanted to re tort it, but seeing Cane's expression, he knew it was a futile attempt and it was better for him not to try and irk the alpha.

"Have you found out the other traitor?" Cane asked next. 1

Jace scratched his head. "No. Not yet. No clue." The beta frowned. With Lyle, they got the clue from Aderan, who had gotten it from the queen, but from what they learned, Lyle was the only traitor.

Jace had been keeping his eyes on him and used to feed him with false information, so the king got the wrong news, with that, they could slightly control what kind of information the king had from their pack.

However, there was no way Lyle knew about the secret passageways inside the pack house, because all the Blue Moon pack warriors were either working in mines or guarding the entrance of their pack. They didn't come closer to the pack house, let alone knew about the secret passageways. 4

Even Redmond, who used to come in and out as he liked in the pack house was clueless about the existence of the secret passageways.

"We are going back to square one again regarding this traitor..." Jace muttered under his breath, he looked upset.

"What about the member of our pack?" Cane suggested and this made Jace frowned even harder.

"Do you suspect the member of our pack?" It crossed Jace's mind, but then it was hard for him to go through with that, the thought the member of their pack had betrayed them was too disturbing. 2

"Check on them," Cane said and then stood up to go to the front yard, they were going to depart in an hour.

The alpha was not thrilled to investigate his own pack member and learn they betrayed him, but then it would be even more dangerous if they looked past it.

However, without Cane realized it, his intuition was proven right in a way, because it was indeed his pack member, who had disclosed about the secret passageways. 1

But, he would have never imagined who that person could be... 5

"Miss Aria, lady Cyan said she wanted to see you," Lett o called Aria, who was staring at the townthrough a small window in her bedroom. She had stayed in the capital city for more than two months, but she had never stepped outside of this tower. 2

Only a handful people who knew her existence here. Life looked so blurry in her eyes, as she didn't know what to do and what to expect.

Therefore, she held onto the only emotion that she knew; hatred. It was so easy to hate something and her favorite person for her to hate was; iris. 2

She would end up like this if it was not for her. She wouldn't live a miserable life if she did not come to the picture. Even if Cane didn't love her the way she did, she knew he wouldn't be with someone else and she would be the only woman by his side.

Cane. What he was doing right now? Did you still remember me? Did I ever cross your mind? 2

Those questions were the most frequent questions that came into Aria's mind, while she indulged herself in misery. She loved him, despite everything he had done.

She loved him and would give up anything for him, but he didn't want it and now, she would do everything to get back to him.

If she couldn't be the person he loved, then she would be the only person, who would be in his mind. Aria loved Cane and she was willing to do everything to get his attention, for him to remember her, even though her way was so twisted. 1

"Miss Aria?" Lett o called Aria again, she was sitting near the windowsill, staring outside. Her stomach looked so huge, she would die within a few weeks from now on.

"Hm?"

"Lady Cyan wanted to see you..." Lett o repeated again carefully, because Aria's mood was a little bit sour nowadays. She refused to see his master, unless she was so thirsty and wanted his blood to quench her thirst.

"What that blind woman wanted with me again?!" Aria snarled. She had laughed to Cyan's face when she saw her the last time. She was blind and now from what she learned, Cyan's existence in this palace had been kept secret, just like her. 3

Aria hated that woman, even more when she heard that she failed with her grand scheme against the Howling Wolf pack, but what irked her more was the fact Iris was still alive. 1

If she was going to fail, at the very least, she should kill that slut!

Aria was not sure about the de tail and how Cyan got blind, but then she couldn't care less about that trivial matter. "I- I don't know, miss..." Lett o said, he flinched. He could feel her wrath filled the air.

Aria then stood up and walked out of the door, pushing Lett o out of her way. She hated this slave boy. See? It was so easy to be hateful and she lived with that emotion.

"What do you want?!" Aria asked, once she entered Cyan's bedroom. It was not big or luxurious, just like her bedroom when she was still the king's mistress, but it was convenient enough and was way nicer than Aria's small one. 1

"Sit down, there is something I want to discuss with you," Cyan said firmly, it was a tacit understanding that they didn't like each other, thus it was better to lower their interaction and go straight to the point. "Tell me about your former pack, Winter Moon pack."

Aria was Leane's personal maid, they came from Winter Moon pack before Leane found Cane was her destined mate and she moved almost right away to the Howling Wolf pack. 2

Therefore, as the future luna's personal maid, of course, Aria had the privilege to know about those secret passageways. She was also the one, who told Cyan about the situation in the Howling Wolf pack and how many people still perceived Iris as Gerald's daughter and harbor ill feeling toward her. 4 This kind information looked insignificant, but it was a tool for Cyan to sow discord between the Howling Wolf pack people.

While men used to use cunning tactic to set a trap, woman used to play with emotions, the way they schemed was different and subtle. It was not a direct approach or a threat like men used to do, but it could leave a long impact.

This method suit Cyan the most, since she was also a mind controller.

"What do you want to know about Winter Moonpack?" Aria narrowed her eyes.

Winter Moon pack joined hand with Red Claw pack to fight for the throne, but they failed.

The Alpha: Claiming His Enemy's Daughter Novel Online Free,Chapter 547

547 PROFIT FOR THE PACK

"Wait," Iris said to stop the other warriors from taking her away from Lou. "I want to talk with him for a while."

Dyne immediately came to her and mouth his word, knowing his luna was perfectly capable to read lips even though she could hear right now. ^

'You can't do that, luna, the alpha will be angry.'

"For a while," Iris replied shortly and then went to approach Lou, whose smile was so bright to see the au burn woman rushed to him.

"Yes? Do you have something to discuss with me? I can come with you on the journey if this is really important," Lou said cheerfully, while the white bear followed beside Iris as well, it nudged her hand, asking to be patted. 1

"I want you to try something."

"I will try anything if its for you," Lou said with a wink and this caused the seven warriors growled at him with warning, but like usual, the merchant couldn't care less with them because they didn't hold any value in his eyes. 1

On the other hand, Iris didn't pay much attention to the way Lou tried to flirt with her, as she called Aliana to get her the thing she wanted.

Aliana immediately came to Iris, her eyes lit up to realize the luna got her clue.

It was harmless, though Aliana knew she would get a trouble if the alpha learned about it, but she couldn't help it. They had the famous merchant from the Rosantine guilds from Karam continents in their pack, it was a waste if they didn't make the best out of him.

"Here, luna," Aliana said, as she handed her a small pocket of tea and a waterskin, where inside, it contained with the alcohol tea.

"What is this? Poison?" Lou asked, he stared at the two items that Iris gave to him after Aliana handed it over to her.

Iris narrowed her eyes. "Do you think I will poison you in the daylight among so many people?"

"So, will you poison me at night when there is no one?" Lou countered and this left Iris speechless. 1

"You have trust issue."

"Not really, but I don't use to put anything inside my mouth, just in case I am being poisoned."

"This is not poison, okay." Iris furrowed her brows and seeing her like that made Lou chuckled.

"I told you I will do anything for you, even if you gave me poison, I will drink it with a smile on my face," Lou said dramatically and this made the other warriors, who heard him, grimaced. They really needed to get their luna away from this merchant, but she was adamant to talk with him, thus they didn't have any other options, but to let her, more so Aliana was there and they were surrounded by so many people. The merchant wouldn't do something outrageous, right?

On the other hand, Lou must have a very thick skin for not being overwhelmed and intimidated as he was surrounded by the seven warriors, who threw him dagger looks.

"I told you, I will not poison you," Iris said this firmly, she was being offended.

"Okay, okay. I will try this." And within a second, Lou had gulped down half of the water inside the waterskin and his brows shot up. "This is alcohol! But, why it tasted like tea?" He tilted his head in confusion, but then he remembered something. "Ah! This must be the famous alcohol tea from the Howling Wolf pack, many people have been looking for this, but because this pack fell into slavery, it disappeared in the market." 1

Aliana's eyes lit up even more, she nudged Iris to continue with the conversation, since the other person didn't need more explanation about the origin of the alcohol tea and how this kind of tea gained some fame a decade ago.

However, knowing how much Cane disliked the fact she talked with Lou, Iris smoothed her way out. "I want you to help with this." "Ah! I almost forgot this pack is actually produced this tea!" Lou's eyes lit up with the thought of making more profit.

"Yes. That's why I want to ask you to help me with this."

"I told you, I will do anything for you!" Lou said cheerfully and Eron and Zephyr were about to step in to warn the merchant that what he said was not appropriate. "Let's discuss about this!"

Aliana was going to interrupt as well, but Iris stepped back and pushed her forward. "You can discuss this with Aliana, because she knew about it better than me." Iris smiled innocently. "You promised to help with this, I hope you can keep your words, Lou." ( 1

And after saying that, Iris waved her hand and turned around, she beckoned Lil Thing to come with her and gave the creature a treat, which made the white furball melted around her ankles.

On the other hand, Lou was not pleased with this arrangement. He didn't want to have any discussion with some random people, but Aliana had blocked his way before he could go after the luna.

"Let's discuss this!" Aliana said happily. She was thrilled it happened sooner than she expected and the luna was smart enough to pick up her clues. She didn't mean to manipulate her, but well... she wanted to help the pack and let Iris know more about this pack's potential, since she was the luna of the pack.

Lou growled at Leana, but immediately controlled his frustration and expression when there were more growls around him.

Meanwhile, there was another person, who was not happy. The gamma stared at Aliana, who was talking with Lou, she looked excited explaining about the alcohol tea and how many they could produce for sale. 1

Her eyes glinted with enthusiasm.

If there was one thing Aliana had in common with her older brother, Jace, it was how they were both very good at managing something. Not surprisingly, Aliana was trusted by the alpha to manage the orphanage and Jace watched over their pack while the alpha was away.

However, Ethan couldn't say he was happy to see Aliana stared at Lou with such look. 1

"Gamma Ethan."

Ethan startled because someone nudged his arm and the gloomy on his face vanished almost in an instant, he smiled brightly like he usually did.

"Carla!"

The young girl grinned. "Gamma Ethan, did you know that the alpha appointed me to take over Kaz's position? He told Kaz to teach me everything that I need to know within six months!" she said enthusiastically.

"1"Congratulation! I know you will do a great jobthan him!" Ethan said cheerfully, he ruffled her hair casually. "Good job, Carla!" 1

Carla blushed when she heard Ethan praised her and lowered her head. "Gamma Ethan, when will you return?" They had been away for months and now when they just returned, they had to leave again. 1

"I don't know, I think it will take a long timebefore I comeback." Knowing there were a lot of things that was happening, Ethan didn't think he would be back for another year.

Carla's eyes dimmed, her expression was gloomy. "Don't you miss the pack when you were away?"

"Of course, this is my home, our home, our land. I will miss it, but I need to go to protect it from bad people, so we will have home to come back." Ethan looked at Carla gently.

He noticed this young girl because she used to be with Aliana a lot when she took care of the orphanage.

However, for Carla, she had noticed Ethan long before that. There was one time when she was nine, they were in the slavery at that moment, she did something wrong and the guards wanted to beat her to death, but Ethan took the beating for her, cursing at them to hit a child. 1

The Gamma must have forgotten about that event, but Carla would always remember that. The reason why she came to Aliana and volunteer to help with the orphanage.

"I will wait for your return," Carla said bashfully, but Ethan only ruffled her hair and told her to learn more, so she could take over the pack house. 2

After a few more 'I proud of you', Ethan walked to help the other and check on Joel, since he couldn't move and need help, leaving Carla stared at his back.

Half an hour later, all the preparation was completed and Cane came to approach Iris, but his eyes narrowed dangerously when he saw the white furball around her legs, while she was sitting on one of the chesses. 2

Out of instinct, he looked around and found Lou was getting frustrated with Aliana, while the other five warriors surrounded him.

Eron and Dyne stood by Iris, as they chatted lightly.

"Iris," Cane called her and she turned around with her bright smile. "What that thing is doing?" 1

Iris followed Cane's line of sight and knew what he meant was Lil Thing. "I don't know, I think it wants a treat." 1

"Let's go to our carriage, we are going to leavesoon," Cane said, as he took Iris's hand and walked to ward their carriage. 1 On the other hand, Lou was fuming because with Cane was there and Iris entered the carriage, there was no chance for him to talk with her again. They were so close! But, why he couldn't have a conversation with her?!

Inside the carriage, Cane handed over a letter for Iris.

"What is it?" Iris had never received a letter before.

"A child in the orphanage in the capital city wrote for you," Cane replied.

The Alpha: Claiming His Enemy's Daughter Novel Online Free, Chapter 548

548 THE MERCHANT WAS BEING LED ON

"A child wrote to me?" Iris's eyes lit up when she received the letter and opened it. It seemed, Cane had not yet read it, since the letter was still sealed.

Inside, Iris found not so nice handwriting, which made her chuckle, even though the handwriting couldn't be considered acceptable, but the letter was clear and not confusing to read.

Because of how big the letters were, it took three parchments to convey a short information.

"What is it?" Cane caught Iris was frowning after she read the letter.

"Joyce said prince Kellan didn't take her to the palace and now he took her sister Annie with him to the Celestial Moon pack after the war against the Red Claw pack." Iris's eyes darkened. Her mood turned very sour and Cane could feel it.

When she was in the capital city, Joyce would gush how prince Kellan would take her to the palace, so she could live with her sister there, but now after everything that happened, it seemed, prince Kellan only took all the children, who were under his possession without taking new one from the orphanage. ( 1

Iris didn't know whether this was a good news or not. 1

"Hm." Cane nodded. "I got report Kellan is in the Celestial Moon pack." With that reply, Iris stared at him and he answered the question that she didn't voice out loud. "Howling Wolf pack and Celestial Moon pack were Kellan's strongest supporters when he was still a crown prince. It would be easier for him to reach the Celestial Moon pack than Howling Wolf pack."

Kellan must have fled since he didn't have a stronghold in the palace, because the untimely death of the king. From what Cane had gathered, Alan had killed all the princes and princesses, who could challenge him for the throne and hunt down those, who tried to escape. 1

It was a common practice for new sovereign when they sat on the throne to pain the palace with blood. This was what Cane's mother avoided.

It didn't mean Kellan would be able to escape his death, despite being in the Celestial Moon pack, but surely it gave him a chance to survive. 2

Meanwhile, knowing Alan and the dispute between him and Cane, it was only a matter of time before that stupid man set his eyes on him to destroy his pack. Cane wished for Koda to succeed the throne, but it seemed, it wouldn't happen in the near future. 1

On the other hand, it was an absolute concern for Cane to strengthen the southern packs before Alan did his first attack, for the meantime, he must have fun to chase after all the royal princes and princesses.

"Cane." Iris looked conflicted when she called his name, as he leaned over to let her know that she got all of his attention and waited for her to speak. "Will you... support prince Kellan like your father did...?"

Iris was not sure about this, but Howling Wolf pack and Celestial Moon pack had a long history together, Cane's father and alpha Derick were good friend and both supported prince Kellan in the past.

Therefore, Iris had a mixed feeling about this. However, Cane's strong answer startled her.

"Over my dead body, Iris." Cane's voice was so cold and dark. It was not even a question in the first place. There was no way he would support such damnable person, who held no value whatsoever. 3

After Iris's initial surprise with Cane's vicious answer, she leaned over and rested her head against his chest, seeking for comfort. Her emotions were a mess every time the topic of Kellan was brought up.

Seeing how distraught and upset Iris was, Cane caressed her back and hugged her tightly, giving her the comfort and the feeling of protection that she needed. However, their peaceful moment was being disrupted by Lou's loud voice and the warriors, who tried to chase him away from the alpha and luna's carriage.

Cane frowned deeply, he really didn't have a patient for this merchant.

"Cane! Come out! I need to talk with you about something important! Come out now!" Just like Cane, Lou's patient had run so thin because he couldn't even have a proper conversation with Iris.

Even so, at the very least, Cane should have a discussion with him, right? They had a handful of deals, but the time where they really talked about their business could be counted with one hand. It would be Jace or other people, who relayed Cane's order.

This arrangement irked the merchant.

Lou was a profiteer and should know to keep his cool, but with this certain alpha, he felt like his years of experience went to the drain. Cane really a testament of his patience.

"Cane! Come out now! Are you going to leave without having any discussion with me?!" Lou was so annoyed. 7

Iris lifted her head to see Cane's expression with the commotion outside of their carriage. She could see the storm in his dark eyes.

"I swear, I am going to kill this man one day," Cane said through his gritted teeth. He didn't have patient to be calm at this moment. With a lot of things that was going on and how he had lack of sleep for days, dealing with Lou was the last thing in his mind. 2

But, hearing that, Iris chuckled, but she immediately stopped when Cane's directed his cold gaze at her. 1

"Glad someone is enjoying this moment." Cane leaned over and bit her lip before he decided to come out. 2

"Why did he bite me...?" Iris muttered sullenly, as she licked her lips and watched the interaction between Cane and Lou through the window.

The merchant looked for death to actually demand Cane to talk with him in such way...

"Finally, you graced me with your presence!" Lou said sarcastically.

Cane waved his hand to dismiss the other warriors to give them space. "You can cry with tears of joy now," the alpha replied lightly, as he leaned his back against the carriage, knowing Iris must be curious enough to listen to their conversation. "What do you want?" 4

"I want to know what you are going to do with the power struggle in the capital city," Lou said, he ignored Cane's remark and glanced at the carriage, knowing Iris was there. He was very blunt with his obsession with the alpha's mate and if it was not because he was still useful and he didn't do anything too outrageous and inappropriate for Iris, aside for being an eyesore, Cane wouldn't have tolerated this merchant and had plotted his demise in the first place.

It was pretty easy to do so when this annoying merchant was surrounded with his people in his territory.

"My standpoint in that matter is none of your business." Cane drew the line clearly. He didn't want Lou to get involved more than necessary.

1

"Of course, that's my business." Lou crossed his arms in front of his chest. "The black market is in the Moon Dew pack and currently that pack stands by the royal family. All of my business is there, it will be pain in the ass if you keep spreading rumor about me being your ally, but you support the Red Claw pack." Lou clicked his tongue impatiently. "I am not risking my entire business for you, alpha." 1

In the end of the day, he was still a merchant, he looked for profit and couldn't care less, who was sitting on the throne, even though personally in his opinion, Sabian could do better job to be a king than that spoiled Alan.

Well, the result would be tight if you compared Alan with Lil Thing, since both held the same capability. 4

But then, a grin appeared on the corner of his lips. "Unless you have a plan to take Moon Dew pack and make it under your territory, I am not going to stand by you." Lou shrugged his shoulder. "I am just saying."

Since Cane could take down all the packs in the south, the merchant thought taking down one more pack in the east wouldn't be a problem.

"It will be difficult, but it's not impossible." Cane nodded. "The right aid will be needed to make it happen." 1

Lou looked ecstatic to see how this alpha complied. It was a rare moment Cane was easy to talk with.

"What do you need?" Lou was ready for a long discussion and delayed their departure, but Cane was having none of it.

"I will write you a letter once I come up with an idea," Cane said and then opened the carriage door to enter. "Finish your magical device here and the tunnel in the Riverside pack, after that meet me in the Silver River pack."

And with that, Cane closed the door of the carriage, leaving Lou cursed under his breath. "Don't talk to me like that! I am not one of your employees!" 1

Inside the carriage, Iris chuckled to hear how frustrated Lou was, as she nestled against Cane's chest. "I thought you already have a plan for Moon Dew pack. Why don't you tell him about that?" Cane caressed her head. "Let him think that he is the one, who is planning it and he will come with more ideas. With the resources he has, there is a possibility he will come with a better plan than I do." Cane hugged Iris closely. "More sources always welcomed." 1

Since everything that had transpired, Cane's whole plots and schemes were ruined, he needed to think of a way to make the best out of this situation and started from scratches again.

The Alpha: Claiming His Enemy's Daughter Novel Online Free, Chapter 549

549 THE SITUATION IN THE CAPITAL CITY

The royal family was supported by people from Golden Light pack and Moon Dew pack, while Red Claw pack had Winter Moon pack in their corner.

The problem was; Moon Dew pack and Winter Moon pack came from the same place, they were from the eastern side of the kingdom. So did Red Claw w pack and Golden Light pack came from western side of the kingdom, thus the tension in the border of the four packs were very high.

On the other hand, in the north, there was alpha Derick from Celestial Moon pack and in the south, alpha Cane had all the seven packs wrapped around his fingers. Both alphas had not yet decided where they stood in the matter of power struggle in the capital city.

"Kill them all," Alan said viciously, a brilliant smile appeared on the corner of his lips, as he sat down on the throne. He couldn't believe it! He made it for the throne! 1

Below him were prince Mateo, prince Arlo, prince Iggy and princess Laina.

"Alan!" Prince begged, fear in his eyes. He had never been his father's favorite, but his title alone guaranteed a good life for him. "I have never set my eyes on the throne! I will leave the capital city!"

"You will have a horrendous death!" Prince Arlo roared. "This is how you repay me for what I have done?!" He screamed on the top of his lungs with anger. It was him, who led one of the groups of warriors in the battlefield against the Red Claw pack and Winter Moon pack, but as a payback, Alan ordered his women and children to be killed before his eyes.

Meanwhile, prince Iggy was only six years old, he didn't know much what was happening and why he couldn't see his mother, but he knew for sure, he would be hurt. He could sense danger surrounded him. He stared fearfully at the warrior beasts that surrounded him, as he tried to be brave and not to cry, though his small body was trembling.

He was only a child, who knew nothing, but his existence alone was a mistake in Alan's eyes.

Crying, princess Laina, who was only thirteen years old approached Alan, who was sitting on the throne. "Brother, please... don't do this. We never dream of the throne..."

Alan tilted his head at princess Laina, she looked so fine and within a few years, she would be a true beauty. It was a waste for her to be killed. 2

"Please, brother... please..." princess Laina cried so hard, her face turned red. Hearing their pleading for their lives made Alan even more drunk with greed and power hunger. This was a taste of power, a taste of the throne, where he could do everything, anything that he wanted and get rid of anyone that hurt his eyes, once he sat on the throne.

Alan stood up and approached Laina, he squatted down and pinched her chin, smiling, as he turned her body to face their other three siblings. He held her head, so she wouldn't be able to turn her head. "Fine. If that's what you want. Kill them all, except her." Alan signaled for the beasts to go through with the execution. "Open your eyes, don't you dare to close them."

Laina screamed when the first beast started to tear prince Iggy's small body apart, as the little prince let out a gut wrenching cry, while the other warrior beasts did the same to the two princes. All of them had been drunk on Rottingbane leaves, thus they didn't stand a chance to withstand the attack for long.

Everything happened so fast, it flashed in Laina's eyes, as she witnessed everything and threw up.

"Fuck!" Alan immediately jumped back when Laina couldn't hold herself back and started to vomit upon seeing the cruelty before her eyes. "Lash her! Lash her to death! How dare she ruin my cloak!" Alan was freaking out to see a small part of his cloak was dirtied by Laina.

At this point, the poor princess couldn't even beg for his mercy, as she went through a great shock, which rendered her unable to speak and move, as she was being dragged out of the bloody throne room to receive her death sentence.

Not long after that, the head of the royal sorcerer entered the throne room. His brows furrowed when he witnessed the horrendous scene, but there was nothing new from this, since this was everyday sight since a few days ago when Alan started his killing spree against all the remaining royal family.

"I have called you, since two hours ago," Dexter said in a dark voice. He waved his hands and all the beasts and royal guards left the room, dragging the remaining bodies of the poor princes, leaving only a pool of blood in the middle of the throne room.

"You don't summon a king, Dexter." Alan glared at Dexter, as he watched all the guards leave. "Don't you dare to command my people using your nasty mind controller!" Alan was agitated, knowing this sorcerer used his ability again.

However, Dexter was so calm when he approached Alan, but his serene expression changed in a split of second when he was close enough to wrap his fingers around his neck. A killing intention exuded from his body, as he gave him a murderous look at Alan, who was trembling in fear now.

"Watch your mouth, Alan. You are no king in my eyes." The words dripped with venom and it was true. He didn't hold this young man as a king, neither he thought of him as his nephew. They spared his life with only a single purpose and if it was not for that, Alan would have died a long time ago.

Hearing that, Alan nodded vigorously, afraid with what Dexter could do to him. If you considered Alan as a cruel person with twisted mind, you should see what Dexter had done.

"Now sit down in that fucking chair and listen carefully what you are going to do as the new king." Dexter didn't have a patient to keep his pretense and keep up with this spoiled man child. He pointed his finger at the throne and Alan climbed on it hastily, afraid this dark sorcerer would do something outrageous to him.

"Y- yes." Alan sat down like a little child and tried to listen to what Dexter said, but deep down, he was seething. He was the king, why he was treated like a child?

Shouldn't he fear him? He was the fucking king! Someone with the highest status in this whole continent! How could he was being ordered like a mere guard?

However, Alan was a coward, there was no way he expressed his grievances.

Once Dexter had subdued Alan, he clapped his hands and the guards escorted four men, they were the former king's righthand men. "We are going to deal with them first."

"Cane should be among them." Alan's eyes turned gloomy and vicious. He was going to crush that alpha one day and now he was sitting on the throne, it was only a matter of time.

He would fuck his mate and his mistress in front of him!

The Alpha: Claiming His Enemy's Daughter Novel
Online Free, Chapter 550

550 JOURNEY TO THE SILVER RIVER PACK

Koda received a letter from alpha Cane, this was the reply he got when he wrote about his failure to secure the throne for his great grandson. He ed for alpha Cane's suggestion.

Because it was Cane's suggestion for him to return to the capital city and immediately gathered the forces to secure his great grandson's position, but unfortunately, he was too late the time was too short to gather all the forces that was needed, thus he had to suffer defeat.

After this, Koda didn't know what to do. He was not a strategist, especially when the Red Claw pack was left without an alpha and the former alpha should step up again to fill the empty position, while he was still grieving of the death of his son.

"What is it?" Alpha Colter asked. He looked so old and he supposed to be retired by now, but he couldn't do that and was called to lead the pack again.

The hatred that the Red Claw pack member for the royal family ran so deep after they learned lady Cyan had killed their alpha by using dark magic and now, her son was sitting on the throne against the real crown prince."Alpha Cane suggested for us to fetch the Serafim. We need to take the Holy Kingdom to our side," Koda said after he read the letter and then handed it over for alpha Colter to read it himself.

"Hm." Alpha Colter nodded after he read the detail of the plan alpha Cane had suggested for them. "This is a great plan. We need to move quickly and reach the Serafim first before the royal could get their hand on her, even though it will be hard for us to convince the Holy Kingdom to side with us."

"I don't think so, the Serafim is here because she heard about the rumor of the dark magic and if we let her know that the king, who was sitting on the throne right now has a dark witch as a mother, I don't think it will be hard for us to convince her to be on our side."

Koda read the situation and the hidden meaning behind Cane's suggestion better. Even though Cane didn't write it down, they should be smart enough to think about how to convince the Serafim and the Holy Kingdom to side with them after all the information the alpha had provided. 1

"Order someone to figure out where the Serafim and her entourage stay." Alpha Colter had been away for too long from this struggle of power, thus he was a little bit slow with his response.

"Alpha Cane has provided us with the information from the previous letter. The Serafim and her knights are currently in the Winter Moon pack's harbor. 1

If the only harbor in the southern kingdom was Chrystal Moon pack, then the second harbor was in the Winter Moon pack and the two of it were the only harbor in this continent.

"Good. Good." Alpha Colter nodded in satisfaction. "Alpha Cane has great informants and is resourceful. It's great he is on our side. Too pity he couldn't send his people to help with the war against the royal family. With seven packs under his control, he has a lot of warriors under his possession." Alpha Colter then looked at Koda. "You must hold onto this alpha and keep him by our side no matter what."

Not only the southern packs were under Cane's control, but the alpha himself was an asset, as he was a great strategist, it would be their greatest loss if Cane changed his stand and supported the royal.

"Don't worry, alpha Colter, alpha Cane and Alan is not in a good term. The one we need to worry is prince Kellan, who has fled to the Celestial Moon pack, because alpha Cane's father and alpha Derick were prince Kellan's supporter in the past."

Alpha Colter thought about it. "You are right, we need to do something about it,"

Koda felt great to work with alpha Colter again, since he was his beta in the Past. "Don't worry, Half day on their way to the Silver River pack, they stopped for a while for lunch before they resumed their journey again.

But, there was a little bit of commotion there.

"What happened?" Iris asked when she stepped out of the carriage and stretched her body.

"I don't know, I will check," Aliana said, as she was frowning. "I don't think this is a monster attack..."

The commotion was a little bit different than the noise they would make if there was danger around them, it was most like a flustered growl.

Meanwhile, Cane was dozing off inside the carriage, feeling comfortable with his mate's presence, he couldn't fight his tiredness and now Iris wanted to bring the lunch for him when she heard the commotion.

However, Iris didn't need to wait for Aliana to know what happened because from a far she could see the white furball rolling on the ground, while the other beasts stared at it dumbfoundedly and growled to make it move away, but the silly bear simply spread its limbs and laid down on the ground, looking so tired. 1

It seemed, Lil Thing had been following them from the Howling Wolf pack and now, this lazy creature was spent, because it was not usually running too far for too long. In a long journey, Lou would put it inside a comfortable cage with lot of food and enough water, thus for it to follow them, of course, this white bear had overworked itself to follow this entourage.

"Why the bear is here?" Iris approached Lil Thing and squatted down next to it, the lizard on her shoulder peeked through her curls and shook its tail, seemingly was not happy with this creature that almost swallowed it months ago.

"I am not sure," Ethan said, he shifted back into his human form and approached Iris. "I just realized it when this creature approached us an hour ago."

"Is Lou around?" Iris looked around, thinking the merchant would pop up from behind the trees.

"No. I don't think the merchant is nearby." Ethan squatted down next to Iris, frowning at the bear, which tongue lulled from the side of its mouth. "I have sent a hawk to ask Jace about Lou's whereabouts."

"Can someone get me water?" Iris asked. She was speechless to see Lil Thing followed them. Did the bear thought they were going to go sightseeing and would return after?

Dyne gave Iris water, where she poured it into Lil Thing's mouth and the bear let out whimpered.

"Can you get more? I think we need to feed it too, it looks like it's going to die from exhaustion." Ethan's frown deepened. "What we should do with this bear now?" "Bear back to the pack house or take it with them. The first option was more enticing.

But, before Iris could answer that, they startled when they heard Cane's voice from behind them.

"What is that creature doing here?!" Cane growled darkly. 3

Send me proof of highest tier purchase via Instagram and I'll send you a mini comic. Every month there will be a new mini comic for the highest tier buyers.