

Chapter 687

687 BLACK RAIN AND DARK SKY (29)

"You better not talk to her for a while, don't even show your face in front of her, because it will make her upset," Cane said lightly, despite how scary he looked like, his tone was rather gentle, as if he was giving some sage advice, which confused Lou with this mild reaction. "Give her time to calm down, if you provoked her now, she will not want to see you ever again, she can be very stubborn."

Cane didn't need to know the detail of what Lou was going to say to Iris or why he looked panic like this. It didn't take a genius to guess what happened.

This merchant should be smart enough to see this coming when he exposed himself of how he abused those children, knowing how Iris always had a soft spot for the little one, but unfortunately, Lou didn't think that far.

Lou narrowed his eyes. He was being suspicious. "How do you know she will still be angry with me?"

"Because she is my mate, I know her from inside and out," Cane replied simply.

However, it sounded lewd in Lou's ears, making him shivered uncomfortably... what he meant with inside... out? He didn't even want to think about that.

"Make sure not to show your face in front of her for a while, she will be easily having conversation with later."

There was no hostility, there was no anger, there was no malicious intention from the way Cane talked to Lou, as if he gave the merchant a genuine advice, which made him actually considered it.

It seemed, Cane was using a different approach with Lou. Something that was unusual, something that was seemingly not him at all.

"I will come later," Lou finally said, he didn't want to take Cane's advice, but he was considering it. He was scared to face Iris's wrath to be honest. "Let's move, let's move!"

he waved his hands to his men.

However, one of them reminded him. "Master, we need to stop because we need to let the children to rest and sleep."

"This is what that Luna told us to do." One of them chimed in too.

Annoyed, Lou grumbled and said nothing, as he slammed the door to his carriage, he was in bad mood and Ethan, Dean and Pax were having a good chuckle, witnessing the whole ridiculous thing unfolded.

On the other hand, Cane didn't waste time to clean himself and put on clean clothes before he approached Iris and cuddled her to sleep.

After what happened in the Black Market, being with his mate was heaven. He could sleep better with her in his arms, she was his only solace against this chaotic world.

The next day when Iris woke up, she was surprised to find Cane was already by her side.

She blinked her eyes a few times and rubbed her face, thinking she was seeing thing, but it was real. Cane was here. She raised her hand and nudged his cheek. It was solid. The warmth that emanated from his body was also real, there was no doubt in that.

What a pleasant surprise she got! Her toes curled because of how excited she was to see him again, back into his arms. Her sleepiness disappeared and somehow, she became excited, giddy to see her mate.

Why she didn't wake up when he was here? It was either she slept too deep, or Cane moved too gently, which didn't startle her at all.

Iris raised her hand and caressed his forehead, she smoothed his unkempt hair and traced his brows, down to the scar on his face, the bridge of his nose, his eyelids, his lips, chin, jaw... Iris wanted to touch every inch of him.

And when she saw Cane didn't wake up, she pushed herself up slightly to kiss his lips, it was a peck, but when Cane was still sleeping, she became a little bit bold, as she nibbled on his lower lip. She kissed his nose, chin and neck.

Iris realized what she was doing could wake Cane up and how tired he was after such a long journey to get here, it was selfish of her to satisfy her own needs by disregarding his need to rest.

But... she couldn't help it. She wanted him.

Iris bit her lip, scolding herself for being very lewd, she was supposed not to be like this, but despite how harsh she scolded herself, she kept doing it.

this time, she sucked his neck, leaving a red mark on his skin, the same thing that Cane had done to her in the past, but unfortunately, the red mark didn't last for long for Iris liking, because it only appeared for one second and disappeared in the next.

Stupid healing ability! Iris scowled, as she tried again.

"How long do you want to do this, Iris?" Cane asked gently, as he tightened his arms around her body and this startled her.

In what world, Iris could assume that Cane was not awake during the whole thing she had done to him. The alpha was woken up, the moment he realized Iris was awake, but he stayed still when his mate stared at him intently.

And just like what Cane had expected, she was being naughty again.

Iris stuttered, her face turned very red because she was embarrassed to be caught red-handed. "I... I thought you were sleeping," she said softly.

Iris tried to save herself by burying her face against his chest, she knew that she couldn't escape him with his arms wrapped tightly around her body.

However, Cane lifted her red little face and stared at her lips. "How do you expect me to be asleep when you were touching me, Iris?"

"I am sorry..." Iris said.

She could be very fierce and assertive days ago when she ordered Lou's men around and set the rule during their journey to the Golden Light pack, but right now, she was nothing but a meek woman, who mewed in her mate's arms, blushing from her cheek to her neck, down to her chest.

"Hm." Cane leaned over and kissed her lips, as he mumbled. "Let me taste your sorry..."

Timidly, Iris reciprocated the kiss, as she tangled her legs against his and this made Cane grunt against her mouth.

And when she thought, Cane wouldn't be mad at her, Iris actually started to grind herself against his, which made Cane broke their kiss and stared at her intently, rendering her to stop what she was doing, blinked her eyes innocently, as if she had done nothing wrong.

The alpha was helpless against his mate. "What do you want Iris?" he whispered, asking her.

Iris hesitated, but when Cane started to kiss her neck, down to her breast and pulled down her dress, she softly spoke. "I want to be kissed... down there."

After she said that, her entire body turned red, she felt so bold and embarrassed to actually voice out what she was thinking, but Cane smiled against her skin.

Cane obliged to what his mate wanted, as he slowly undressed her. He could see the anticipation in her eyes and this made him hard, the thought of his mate wanted him was enough to turn him on.

Despite the lack of sleep and how tired he was, he wouldn't turn her down. He would always desire her, missed the connection between them and the intimate moment they shared together.

Iris was satisfied when she could feel his skin against hers, the flames that burned so bright between them when Cane started to kiss her gently.

He kissed, licked and nibbled on her skin, made her curled her body in delight when he took her nipple into his mouth and bit her tender flesh lightly, while his finger pinched and pulled her other nipple.

Iris felt very hot, her body was burning, as she kept calling his name, grabbing his hair.

Cane stopped his assault when Iris was breathless and slowly moved down to her lower body, but he didn't miss her bump.

A rare genuine smile appeared on his lips when he saw her little bump, moving up and down, as she breathed raggedly.

Cane kissed her tummy, licked her skin, which made Iris laughed.

"It tickles..." Iris said between her chuckles and Cane laughed with her. He caressed her bumps and moved down to where she wanted him to be and the laugh died down, as it replaced with a moan.

This carriage was not the same carriage that had been engulfed by Haco's spell, thus all of the people out there could hear them, which caused the awkwardness on their faces.

Out there, people tried to ignore the soft moan from inside a certain carriage, but it was clear to see they were trying too hard and the atmosphere became very stiff and unpleasant. They started to scratch their heads, even though it was not itchy at all.

Not to mention how the carriage moved lightly with the activity inside.

Probably, it was only Ethan, who was not bothered by that, he praised himself for being immune for what was going on, since he had seen it countless times and he had passed the period where he would be surprised over this kind of thing, but it couldn't be said the same to a certain merchant.

Three days later, they arrived in the Golden Light pack, where alpha Colter and Koda themselves, who greeted them, along with Laluna too, she looked beautiful, though a little bit skinny for someone, who had a baby less than a year old.