770 NOT A MAN, BUT A DEVIL

"So, what can you offer?" Cane's voice was very cold and dark. He looked like he had lost a lot of weight, which only emphasized his sharp features. He looked gloomy and wherever he went, people would shudder even when they only caught a glimpse of him.

He was akin to someone, who had never touched any joy or happiness in his life.

The aura that he gave off was akin to that moment when they were in slavery. His eyes filled with hatred and his present alone was very suffocating.

Even though Nolan and Gallot were also the alpha of their respective packs, none of them could be very dominance like Cane did. He looked like a sovereign, who stared disdainfully at his lowest subject. The king of the devil...

"Let me go and I will tell you what lady Cyanhad planned. All she had planned with king Al... No... with Alan..." Gallot corrected himself, afraid it would piss Cane off to call Alan as the king, though in reality, the alpha didn't give a shit about it.

"Speak," Cane curtly.

He was standing in front of the naked Gallot and Nolan, the two of them were beaten up, trembling because of the cold weather.

Everyday, they would be dragged around to be humiliated and after that a healer would be called to keep them alive. This life was worse than death.

Cane refused to meet with them until now when they said there were important things they would divulge about the activity of the king... the Decratic.

Not so long, Abby came also with her five knights, but she immediately averted her eyes to see the condition of the two of them.

Liam immediately took off his cloak and Cedric did the same to cover Gallot and Nolan, not out of pity, but because this sight was not appropriate for Abby to see, but they needed to hear this since this was related to Decratic.

Cane didn't object that, he only stared down at Gallot, indicating for him to keep talking.

However, all Gallot said was something they already knew. From Kellan, who led the warriors and besieged Diandem pack, where alpha Colter was trapped there, until the black magic that they used.

Gallot became even more frantic when he watched how Cane and the Serafim was not interested with his information.

Nolan chimed in, he remembered something more crucial that he learned from Zeke. "Alan is in the untouched land in the Celestial Moon pack, Zeke said, there is something there. You must have learned about this, you must be aware that the activities of the monsters are very strange! They don't hibernate like usual, even though it is winter! They have been going to the north, because Alan and Zeke are doing something there!"

Cedric asked a few more question, while Cane let him and after an hour of interrogation and they were sure there was nothing could be squeezed out of Nolan's mouth, Cane went to get a glass of water to drink, drank the water and crushed it within his grip. www.NoVeltw.com

"What are you doing?!" Cedric was alarmed.

Blood dripped from his wounds when he approached Gallot with pieces of sharp shards in his hand. The alpha crouched down, his eyes were fixated on Gallot.

"No more you can give us?"

Gallot wrecked his brain, trying to remember an important information like Nolan did, he even tried to come up with something, but before he could make an elaborate story, Cane had shoved the pieces of sharp shards in his hands into his mouth.

Thankfully, Liam was quick enough to react, he immediately covered Abby's eyes to prevent her from seeing such brutal thing and took her away from there.

"You don't need to do that! He had told useverything he knew!" Cedric snarled at Cane, but one look from the alpha was enough to shut him up.

"Which made him useless now."

Chill ran down their spines to witness the brutality of the alpha, as Cane pinned Gallot down, forcing him to swallow the sharp shard, which cut his mouth and throat. His eyes bulged, as he kept vomiting blood from between his fingers.

"You are being unnecessary cruel!" Cedric remarked. www.NoVeltw.com

"This is how we are doing thing in OreganContinent," Cane replied coldly. He watched with interest how Gallot was dying.

He was not going to die, at least not yet. He needed to suffer a little bit more. Cane closed Gallot's mouth, while he was struggling, until he swallowed all the sharp shards and passed out.

Meanwhile, Nolan wetted himself, he had never been so scared in his entire life before. His hatred and wrath toward Cane for him killing his son had evaporated, replaced by a complete fear for him.

"Y-you said... you said you will let me go if I-I told you important information," Nolan said. He reminded Cane of their agreement.

Cedric was about to order someone to release alpha Nolan, but Cane had different idea.

"Whip him thirty times and tie him up againbehind the carriage!" Cane ordered his warriors, which shocked Cedric because he was going back on his own words.

"Y-you said, you will spare me!" Nolanscreamed like a banshee.

Cane threw him a nasty look."I changed my mind."People like them didn't deserve respect. Panic in Nolan's eyes."I only want to let you know that you have been used. Your son was being mind controlled, that's why he was killed. Do you really thing those people will back you up?"

The shocked rendered Nolan mute. If that was the truth... then... everything that he had done and sacrificed... he was a mere pawn since the beginning...

"You don't keep your words," Cedric statedwhen Cane walked past him."What kind of man who doesn't keep their words?"

Cane glanced at him. His eyes were very cold."The kind who has gone through hell and return as the devil itself."

"Alpha!The luna is missing!" Aliana said.

Cane was in the middle of discussion with Cedric when he heard this, he dropped everything and immediately rushed out of the room, while Aliana filled him in about what happened.

Hanna and Ameer were inside the bedroom with Iris, but when Ameer went out to get food and Hanna didn't pay close attention, since she thought they were inside the bedroom and the five warriors were right outside, Iris suddenly went missing. www.NoVeltw.com

"I have asked warriors to search for her."

Aliana watched the alpha shifted into his beast and dashed toward Iris's bedroom.

Once he arrived there, Hanna was crying, while Ameer tried to console her.

"I am sorry, alpha... I don't know how shecould go missing. She was here inside the room with me, there is no way she could go out. There is no way out but the front door,"Hanna explained through her sobs.

Cane stood in his place quietly, while Aliana told him she had called for help from the warriors to look around the pack house. There was no way Iris could go missing all of sudden.

"What happened?" Ethan came into thebedroom too, he just heard that Iris went missing because there was a ruckus among the warriors and immediately came here.

Aliana filled him in and he listened to her explanation, looked a little bit awkward. The relationship between them were not really good after the kiss, there was this tension between them, in which Ethan was the only one, who felt that, while Aliana returned to be herself and made the gamma frustrated because she saw what he did as a mistake only.

Eventually, Cane moved to the bed, he crouched down to see underneath and push it to the side. He remembered Iris happened to hide under the bed when she was having a meltdown in the past.

"I have looked everywhere, the place missused to hide when she was little, but I couldn't find her." Hanna was being hugged by Ameer.

Blue Moon pack was Iris's home, she had lived here for her entire life until recently, therefore, she knew every nook and crane of this place, especially when she used to sneak out and not let anyone to find her.

Cane stared at the floor, he didn't move and all of them started giving suggestion about where to look for her.

But then, Cane crouched down and pushed a tile of the floor to reveal a stair that led you down. Everyone was shocked when they saw this.

Cane knew Iris was still inside the room, her scent was not in the corridor if she really left. Well, to be fair, he was able to find her in a cave back then, why wouldn't he be able to find her now?

"No need to follow," Cane ordered them tostay there.

Without hesitation, Cane went inside. www.NoVeltw.com knew Iris was here, because her scent was getting strong. But what made him frown was the fact this place was very dark. Iris was afraid of the dark. She wouldn't come here.

After the stairs led him down he met with a tall wall, where there was stairs that led him up. He needed to climb this. This second stairs was very high, as if he was climbing a tower instead, but Cane couldn't be bothered where it would take him, as long as it led him toward his mate, he would go through hell to get her back.

Thankfully, it didn't take long for him to find her, but this place...
