Chapter 471 I Won't Leave

Shirley was stumped. She didn't know what to say.

Why was this guy so tactful? Shirley had asked Higashino for a favor. Now Antwan wanted Shirley to do him a favor.

In other words, Shirley gained nothing.

"What do you want me to do for you? Let me see if it's reasonable. If it exceeds my limits, I won't agree!"

Shirley thought about it again and again and finally compromised.

Braden, look. I've trespassed my bottom line for your sake!

"Don't be so nervous. You look like I'm going to threaten you. Do I look like that kind of person?"

"You do. When you don't go crazy, you don't look like a good person. When you go crazy, you are not human at all."

Shirley did not forget how scary this guy was when he went crazy. It was no exaggeration to call him a monster.

But now, they were temporarily on the same boat. They could coexist peacefully for a short time, but it did not mean that she had recognized him.

Antwan sighed helplessly. "Looks like my image in your eyes won't turn positive. But today, I don't have any bad intentions..."

"Then tell me, what do you want me to do?"

"Nothing. I just want you to stop thinking about anything. Just have a good meal with me."

Antwan said as he dipped the hot lamb slices into the sauce and placed it in the small bowl before Shirley. He said sincerely, "Taste it. It's really delicious."

"Eh, is that all?"

"That's right. That's the request."

The next day.

Shirley woke up from her headache and was still in a daze.

She looked at the completely unfamiliar room. It was all black and white, and it was so simple that there was no decoration. There was only a book on the bedside table.

Who am I? Where am I? What happened?

Three questions popped up in her mind. She had drunk too much last night, and she had no impression of what had happened.

She lifted the blanket and saw that her clothes had been changed into a pair of ill fitting pajamas. She wasn't wearing any underwear!

She was stunned. Her mind went blank.

"Shirley, you're awake. Good morning."

Antwan was holding a cup of coffee and dressed casually. He leaned against the door frame and greeted Shirley with a smile.

"Ah! Shirley had no idea when Antwan had appeared. She was shocked.

"Antwan, what's going on? Why am I... You..."

Because she was too nervous, she couldn't even say a complete sentence.

Antwan smiled, "Don't be nervous. Nothing happened between us last night. Although I like you, I won't take advantage of you."

"Really?"

Shirley revealed a doubtful expression.

After all, Antwan was full of tricks and had a "terrible" reputation. She knew he could do such a thing.

Chapter 473 Protect Her

Tracy rushed to Antwan's home.

From the moment she married into the Stewart family, she had been competing with Matilda. After fighting for so many years, she had never lost except for the matter of "getting a good daughter-in-law".

Her daughter-in-law had made some achievements. Not only was her career all the way smooth, but she also gave birth to twins for the Stewart family. This could suppress Matilda for the rest of her life!

"Matilda, what are you doing so early in the morning? I know I've been having a good time lately. Are you jealous?"

Ignoring the servants, Tracy rushed into the living room on the first floor and shouted.

Matilda walked out of Antwan's room and stood at the top of the stairs. She sneered,
"I am really envious. After all, it is not easy to have such a shameless daughter-in-law!"

"Daughter-in-law?"

Tracy frowned and said proudly, "My daughter-in-law is capable, isn't she? She has a good career and a perfect family. Even if you are jealous, you can't do anything about it..."

Tracy's pride disappeared when Shirley and Antwan came out of the room.

"What's going on? Shirley, why did you come out of Antwan's bedroom? Do you also dislike their family and come to teach them a lesson?"

Shirley lowered her head. She didn't know how to explain.

"Tracy, you're so stupid. A man and a woman are coming out of a room, so what do you think they can do?"

Chapter 474 Stop It!

Tracy didn't expect her stubborn son to really come. She just wanted to intimidate Antwan and Matilda.

After all, in the Stewart family, Braden was no different from the future head of the family. No one dared to offend him.

Matilda's arrogance faded a lot. She whispered, "We can solve this kind of embarrassing matter ourselves. There is no need to tell others. Besides, Braden is currently in a hot relationship with the eldest daughter of the Gilmore family. He doesn't have the time to deal with such trivial matters!"

"Now it's a trivial matter? Didn't you want to call the police just now?"

Tracy coldly looked at Matilda and said arrogantly, "Let me tell you, Matilda. My son and Alina just did it for fun, and he always loves Shirley. Antwan even dared to get close to Shirley! This time, my son will definitely not let Antwan go!"

Matilda swallowed. Her originally arrogant expression was now panic. She nudged Antwan, who was beside her, and said coldly, "Son, it's all your fault. Hurry up and fly back to Newchark!"

At this time, she felt that the best strategy was to send Antwan away.

When their family tried to "usurp the throne", the relationship between Braden and Antwan was already like fire and water.

Braden had already done his best to let Antwan off. Now that Antwan was flirting with Shirley, if Braden really came, he would kill Antwan.

"Weren't you so proud just now? Why are you so timid now? It's obvious that you have a guilty conscience!"

Tracy stood in front of Antwan and hit the nail on the head.

Antwan smiled sloppily and said, 'Tracy, I don't want to run. I just want Braden to come over quickly. I will explain it to him clearly. I believe that Braden is generous and will eventually agree to Shirley and me being together.'

"Am I lonely?"

Chapter 475 For a Long Time

After Shirley left that place, she walked down the road dejectedly and suddenly didn't know where to go.

She used four years to develop the G6 Chip and become the president of KCL Group. It was fair to say she was successful, and she should have a great sense of accomplishment.

But why did she feel empty now, as if she had lost a lot?

In the end, it was because her on-and-off relationship with Braden in the past few years had been too exhausting and had worn her out both physically and mentally.

So, she clenched her fists and made up her mind that she would steer clear of him even if there really was something that made him have no choice but to do all this.

At this time, her phone suddenly rang.

She listlessly took out her phone and saw that it was an unknown number. Her first reaction was to reject the call, but the other guy was particularly persistent and called her again and again.

"Who is this? Why do you keep calling?"

Shirley was just feeling annoyed right now, and she directly took it out on the guy on the other end.

"Shirley, go home. I am the person you have been looking for."

On the other end of the line, it was a man's voice. It was very soft and also strange and gave her a sense of kinship with him.

It was like a breeze and blew Shirley's agitation away. She was instantly much calmer.

"Sorry, I was in a bad mood just now. Who are you? Do we know each other?"

"I think we do. We've known each other for a long time."

On the other end of the line, the man chuckled and said, "I'll wait for you at the Wilson's house."

“This... this is so amazing!”

Shirley held the appraisal report. Her slender fingers trembled uncontrollably, and her heart was beating wildly because she was too excited.

“Shirley, you should believe me now. I am really your brother. We are twins.”

Larry was relatively calm. He walked in front of Shirley and held her shoulder with both hands. He sighed, “We finally met. Let me take a good look at you.”

His gaze was gentle as he carefully studied Shirley, as if he was looking at another self. His eyes were filled with love.

“Brother.”

Shirley raised her head slightly and stared at Larry. Although she was not used to it, she still called out this intimate address.

At that moment, Shirley suddenly felt less lonely. In this vast world, she was no longer a widow. She finally had someone to rely on.

This was probably the magical power of “kinship”!

Under Larry’s invitation, Shirley followed him back to Crimson Pawnshop.

This place, including the entire Sutor Wharf, was Larry’s territory.

It's just that your eyes are really not very good. It has been four years and you have not found out that he is a fake.

You should also want to know who this fake is, right?" Irving's lips were pale, and he was a little weak. He said with a guilty face, "Boss saved my life.

My life belongs to him. Unfortunately, I am blind. I am stupid enough to take a fake as my boss. Shame on me!"

"Hey, don't say those words. Tell me, do you want to know who this fake is?" "Of course I want to know!"

Irving was no longer as gentle and calm as before. His eyes were full of hatred. "This imposter is simply too bold.

He actually dared to impersonate Mr. Quintin. He should know that he can't be caught by me. Otherwise, I will definitely kill him!"

However, in the end, Shirley still couldn’t get any useful information from Larry. “Okay, Larry, if you don’t tell me, I’ll find it out myself.’

Shirley said stubbornly. She had always thought that the bankruptcy of the Wilson family was the result of commercial competition.

It was caused by the progress of society. It was not the others’ fault. From the looks of it now, that was not the truth.

The story of Larry, the bankruptcy of the Wilson family, and even the suicide of their parents were not that simple.

“Silly girl, if you want to investigate, then do it. As long as you won’t regret it...” As Larry cooked with ease, he sighed with a complicated expression, and being treated like an idiot is the real pain.

I am almost thirty years old and am no longer a naive little girl. Don’t think of me as so vulnerable...”

Shirley said with a determined gaze, ‘ Moreover, I have never been a naive little girl.’

The dinner was almost ready, and Shirley suddenly became mysterious. “Larry, wait for me. I will invite someone to have dinner with us.

How about it?” Larry frowned and was not very happy. He said, “This is the first time we have had dinner together.

Why do we have to invite some unrelated people?” “No. This person is not unrelated. She is very important to our family.

Maybe she can tell us what happened back then.” “If that’s the case, then I would be very happy to have her here. Hurry up.”

The atmosphere suddenly became solemn and filled with sadness. Larry said to May in a low voice, "Can you tell me what happened back then?"

Even if I were abandoned by the Wilson family, I still have the right to know the truth." "No, Mr. Larry, you misunderstood your parents.

They never abandoned you. They also loved you as they loved Ms. Wilson, but there was an accident back then..." May was sad.

She began to narrate what happened 28 years ago. "At that time, your mother was pregnant with fraternal twins. The Wilson family was very happy.

On the day of her delivery, the Wilson family booked the best private hospital to welcome you and Ms. Wilson. In the end, you and Ms. Wilson were born safely.

But that night, a group of fierce people suddenly broke into the delivery room and robbed you and Ms. Wilson. Your mother was not powerful enough.

She could only protect Ms. Wilson and watched this group of people snatch you..."

"Damn it!"

Shirley was furious. "Those people were too bold. I remember that at that time, it was the most glorious time for the Wilson family.

The Wilson family was the head of the top eight families, and the wealth they had was something that even the current Stewart family could not compare.

How dare these people do it!" "Yes, we also couldn't understand how these people dared to do so!"

May gritted her teeth and trembled with hatred. "At that time, your mother was very sad and suffered a massive hemorrhage.

She was not used to the gentle and refined Larry showing a ruthless and cruel side, but when she thought of Larry's experiences growing up, she could not be angry with him. Instead, she would feel more distressed for him.

At that time, the only thing Shirley could do as a younger sister was to be tolerant and understanding, and then calm Larry down who was out of control at the right time.

"In fact, I think that Irving is unwilling to ask the fake out, which shows that he is upright. It proves that he is not a heartless machine that only knows to obey orders.

We should make good use of such talent." As Shirley spoke, she walked over to Irving and comforted him, "Irving, don't worry.

I can guarantee that even if we catch the fake, we won't kill him. In the end, we just want an explanation from him..." "An explanation?"

Irving looked at Shirley with a puzzled expression. "Yes, that person owes Crimson Pawnshop an explanation, and also owes me an explanation.

I have to know who he is and why he wants to deceive my feelings. Why did he disappear when he married me?"

This had always been an emotional puzzle in her heart. If not solved, it would trouble her for the rest of her life.
