Chapter 271

"We don't know if it was an accident or not. The only witness was Braden. If Braden said it was an accident, then it must be an accident. The deceased is gone. I don't want to investigate too much."

Howard's words were ambiguous, and it was difficult for people not to think more about it.

"Do you know that the whole process was recorded? But in the end, the surveillance video was forcibly destroyed by the only witness, Braden. Don't you think it's strange?"

Howard smiled faintly as if he had known about the situation. He said calmly, "This is very normal. The two brothers have been very close since they were young. Braden especially admires his brother. He followed his brother wherever he goes. He treats his brother like an immortal!

"The immortal in his heart died in such a miserable and painful way. To him, the video was a second injury. It also destroyed the sacred image of his brother in his heart. For Charles, it is a humiliation. So it is reasonable for Braden to choose to destroy it."

Howard's words seemed to make sense, but it was not enough to convince Shirley.

"I heard that the inheritance rights of the Stewart Group originally belonged to Charles. However, just as he was about to return to the country to take over, he encountered this accident. The inheritance rights fell into the hands of the only witness, Braden. Do you really think there is nothing suspicious in this case?"

Shirley was unusually agitated.

Because the truth was very important to her.

She did not want the person she had loved to be a scum who would do anything to achieve his goal and even harm his own brother!

"Something suspicious?"

Howard said coldly, "Do you think that Charles's death has something to do with Braden? Or to put it bluntly, Charles was killed by Braden, right?"

Shirley didn't reply.

Shirley buried her head deep in her chest.

It was fine if it was just a coincidence, but with so many coincidences together, it was hard for her not to think too much about it.

"What nonsense!"

Shirley did not take it seriously at all and hung up directly.

But soon, Nancy also called, and her voice was anxious. "Shirley, where are you? Go to Toyboy Bar quickly. If you are late, Devin will lose his virginity!"

"What?"

"Yes. Just now, someone from the bar called me to ask for help. He said that Devin was too popular and caught a female boss' fancy. The boss spent a large amount of money on the spot. Now she was going to drag Devin to her room to enjoy. However, Devin was a courageous person. He said that he had fallen for you and wanted to keep his virginity for you!"

"What the hell? Keep his virginity for me?"

Shirley felt that it was unbelievable.

She had only spent a night with that handsome young man, and she only kissed him in a mess. Nothing had happened. Why did the young man want to keep his virginity for her? Did the young man want to blackmail her?

"Now the two sides are going to have a fight. You know that although there are many young boys in the bar, they are not as handsome as Devin. The female boss has gathered a bunch of hooligans to make a fuss. Even if you don't like Devin, you should hurry up and save the other young boys in the bar."

Nancy was very excited and tried to persuade Shirley.

She was worried that she could not think of a way to send Devin to Shirley, and this opportunity of "hero saving the beauty" came. Wasn't this destined fate?

Although Devin was just a gigolo in the bar, he was like Braden. Nancy thought that it was good for Shirley to play with Devin.

Nancy thought that now Shirley had trapped herself and that she needed this kind of person to release her worries.

Unfortunately, Shirley was not interested. She said coldly, "Call the police. What does it have to do with me? I am very busy. I will hang up now!"

"How can it have nothing to do with you? Devin offended the female boss for you. Do you bear to see that he is ravaged and tortured by an evil woman?"

"I heard that this female boss is fat and very perverted. She once tortured and hurt a young handsome boy before. I don't even dare to think how she will torture Devin who is delicate.

'Moreover, there are many situations that the police can't help. If you don't save him today, Devin will be screwed. Think about the miserable scene. How can you bear to see it?"

"Stop! Stop!"

The people in the bar instantly breathed a sigh of relief. The owner of the bar and the young boys “Ms. Wilson, you are indeed a heroine. Your fighting skill is even better than that of that popular video. You

“Ms. Wilson, in the future, our bar will be under your protection. You don’t know that women are more difficult to deal with than men when they are about to make a fuss. My boys in the bar are often harassed!”

The bar owner cried to Shirley with snot and tears. “Especially Devin. As soon as he made a debut on the stage, he was extremely popular. All kinds of forces were attracted to him. The female boss today is very powerful. If you did not come to help us, I am afraid that Devin would...”

Shirley did not say anything. She turned to Devin, who was standing behind him, and asked gently, “How are you? Can you still hold on?”

Devin coughed.

Devin was about to collapse, and he coughed lightly. His thin lips were pale, and he said weakly, “I can still hold on. It’s just that I offended that guest today. She will definitely take revenge. I’m afraid that I can escape today but I will still fall into her hands tomorrow. I really don’t know what to do in the future!”

After the man finished speaking, he was about to fall.

“Watch out!”

Shirley quickly reached out to help him up.

Once Shirley supported Devin, Devin couldn’t stand any longer as if his bones and muscles had been extracted. His long arms wrapped around Shirley’s shoulders, and he clung to Shirley.

Beside Devin, there was a young boy with a jealous expression. He muttered, “Look, it has to be Devin. He is really good at coaxing women!”

“It’s not Devin’s fault. After all, this is a beautiful and capable woman. If it was me, I would cling to her tighter!”

The bar owner was very perceptive. He immediately said, “Devin, you can rest assured. In the future, our bar will be protected by Ms. Wilson, and those hooligans won’t dare to disturb us Today. Ms. Wilson saved your life You have to repay her well. Don’t disappoint Ms. Wilson’s kindness!”

Braden said seriously, "On the surface, I'm a performer at the bar. In fact, I'm a level-one psychologist who is good at psychological counseling, psychological therapy, psychological reconstruction, and hypnosis. Your friend said that you have a lot of unhappy things suppressed. She hopes that I can help you open up yourself. If you believe me, I can help you get it all out."

"A level one psychologist?"

Shirley was a little surprised and a little embarrassed.

Shirley had thought that this guy only relied on his body to make a living, which was why he was blessed in that area!

"What kind of expression is that?"

Braden had a faint smile on his face. He gently brushed aside the hair that stuck to her cheek with his long fingers and said in a low and seductive voice, "Do you not believe me, or are you a little disappointed... In fact, other than curing you mentally, I can also heal your body, if you need it."

"No need. Thank you!"

With her face flushed red, Shirley pushed Braden away and sat upright. She said coldly, "Of course, I don't believe you. You have been talking nonsense all night. How can you be a first-level psychologist?"

A first-level psychologist is the highest level of psychologist. In addition to having solid professional knowledge, one also needs to have natural empathy and perception. How can Devin, who relied on his appearance to make a living, be qualified?

"If you don't believe me, we can do an experiment."

"What experiment?"

"Have you heard of the house-tree-person mental analysis?"

"I have heard a little about it... It is about drawing three things on a piece of white paper, a house, a tree, and However, Shirley still chose to refuse.

"Next time. I am very tired today. I just want to have a good rest."

Although Shirley believed that the Devin in front of her was a genuine first-level psychologist, she still chose to seal herself.

There were some things that Shirley would rather rot in her heart than face them...

Braden didn't force her, but his heart ached.

Braden wasn't sure if Shirley was upset and depressed because of his death, but Braden was sure that Shirley wasn't as carefree and happy as she seemed on the surface.

Shirley was like an onion, wrapping herself up layer by layer, pretending to be what everyone wanted to see.

"You must have had a hard time these years, right?"

Braden asked in a hoarse and heavy voice.

Shirley smiled bitterly. Shirley said, "Yes, it has been very hard."

Here, there was only the so-called Devin who had nothing to do with Shirley. Without her close relatives and her hatred, Shirley did not want to pretend anymore.

It was easy to pretend to be depressed, but it was hard and tiring!

Braden tried his best to suppress the urge to hug Shirley and whispered, "It doesn't matter. Have a good sleep. Everything will be better."

Braden was a first-class psychologist and an excellent hypnotist.

Accompanied by bursts of incense and Braden's gentle whisper, Shirley lay on the soft reclining chair and Shirley turned around and saw that it was Jane, her ex-sister-in-law, Braden's cousin.

In the past, Jane had been a spoiled young lady, and she had always treated Shirley unfriendly. So Jane didn't seem to be happy at that moment.

After divorcing, Shirley didn't bear Jane anymore. Shirley taught her lessons, and Jane became much more polite to Shirley then.

Now, they had not seen each other for four years, and they felt like enemies coming across a narrow road now.

"It is you. I thought I mistook it."

Jane was dressed in a very graceful and luxurious outfit. She was wearing a Chanel suit and carrying a very expensive handbag. The high heels on her feet even belonged to a limited edition of Givenchy. It was as if she was trying to tell everyone in the world, "Look! I'm rich."

After sizing up Jane for a while, Shirley felt very sad.

It had only been four years since they last met. Jane, who was no more than twenty-five years old, had long lost her former charm. She had become a normal rich lady like products that were produced by the assembly line. Jane lost her spirit.

It was said that the year Shirley left Seattle City, Jane married a wealthy businessman in North City.

Because Jane was pregnant before marriage, her parents-in-law did not like her. After the baby was born, he was asked to carry out a paternity test.

For a wife, it was a great shame.

So in these years, Jane's life as a noble lady might not be as good as it seemed.

"Long time no see."

Out of politeness, Shirley nodded at Jane indifferently.

At the same time, she noticed that there was a boy who was about the same age as Bennett standing next to Jane, but his dressing style was completely different from Bennett's.

At such a young age, he was dressed in famous brands, and his hair was combed into an old-fashioned style for grown-ups. His chin was raised high, and his appearance was the same as Jane's.

Bennett showed that he was smart and warm-hearted. It made Gabriela appreciate it, and the surrounding parents change their impression of Bennett. They couldn't help praising him.

At that moment, Steven was crying so hard that he was in a mess and lost his temper. He raised his school bag and smashed it at Bennett. Steven shouted shamelessly, "How dare you bully me? I will beat you to death. I will call my daddy to beat you to death. My daddy is very powerful. I will ask him to tear you into Everyone was instantly shocked, especially Jane. She ignored what Jorge had done and dragged him.

Jane shouted, “Honey, what's wrong with you? Why didn't you speak for me and Steven? Why did you kneel to the bitch?

“She was just a poor girl with a low social status despite being the daughter of a rich family before. She was not loyal to Braden and was kicked out of the family. She was never a good wife and had no shame.

If you knelt to her, you would feel ashamed of yourself. Aren't you afraid of bad luck if you did it?”

“Damn you!”

Jorge was furious. He slapped Jane and scolded her, “You fool, do you know that without Jaida's help, the Beltran family would have been destroyed long ago? You and Steven are now enjoying a sweet life.

The

expensive handbag in your hands and the expensive shoes on Steven's feet are all bought because of the help of the Hertford family. If you dare to be rude to them, I will divorce you immediately!”

Jane covered her swollen cheek, feeling wronged and unconvinced. She argued back, “How was that possible? The Hertford family in North City has long declined. Back then, they almost disappeared because of their enemies. They couldn't even protect themselves. How could they be able to help the Beltran family?"

"What does it have to do with the Hertford family since the Beltran family has had such accomplishments relying on itself? So what if Shirley is Jaida's granddaughter? Why are you so grateful to them?"

Ever since Jane married Jorge, she had been a lot more peaceful. Relying on the Beltran family's wealth, she was able to be at ease as a rich and powerful lady. She always listened to Jorge and never dared to argue back.

Now Jorge showed so much respect for Shirley. It made Jane feel like she had lost dignity. For the first time, she quarreled with Jorge.

"You stupid bitch, how dare you be rude to them? Hurry up to kneel and apologize to them!"

Jorge ordered Jane.

Chapter 280 Prejudice Against Single-Parent Families

“Um...”

Gabriela was in a dilemma at Jane’s words.

At the beginning of the establishment of Monteria International Kindergarten, the Parents’ Committee put forward such a rule to improve the requirement of school entry, as well as to ensure the good source of the students.

Over the years, the kindergarten had strictly enforced this rule and never accepted children from single-parent families.

Even though Gabriela admired Shirley’s upright and kind thoughts and ideas and liked Bennett’s cleverness and cuteness, it was inappropriate for her to make an exception in front of so many parents.

“What would you say? Ms. Nolan, as the head of the kindergarten, you cannot take the lead to violate the school rules. Children from single-parent families have too many problems and flawed personalities. If this boy joined the kindergarten, children from normal families would be affected. You cannot make the exception, no matter what!” Jane said indignantly.

The parents around were incited by Jane, and they all shouted, “You cannot make the exception, no matter what!”

Under such great pressure, Gabriela had no choice but to comfort these parents, “Everyone, please calm down. Um... In regards to this matter... I will find a way to take care of it.”

“How?”

A parent had a nasty attitude and treated Shirley and Bennett as a disaster. He said harshly, “The best way is to drive the mother and son away. If you let them, the incomplete family, stay here, it will ruin the harmony and warmth of school spirits of Monteria International Kindergarten!”

Shirley’s beautiful face instantly turned gloomy to the extreme. Her eyes were like sharp blades and fiercely stared at that parent, warning him, “You’d better shut up your stinky mouth, or else, your child will also become one of the single-parent family. I promise.”

Shirley was too aggressive, so the parent instantly fell silent, burying his head low. He was so terrified that he didn’t even dare to look up to meet Shirley’s eyes.

Not only that parent but the other parents who were full of complaints were also chicken out and did not even dare to say a word. Only Jane was like a clown, wantonly humiliating Shirley and Bennett.

Of course, Jane was subdued by Jorge’s slap in the end.

Shirley felt very sad.
