Chapter 381 Make A Change To Braden

The two kids ran into the kitchen happily, fiddling with something and laughing from time to time.

Braden seemed to have returned to his home. He walked around there.

“Do you need help?”

He walked to the kitchen and asked the two kids who were making the cake.

“Sir, do you know how to cook?”

Alisha’s eyes glistened like stars. She stared sweetly at Braden.

And Braden felt very great and couldn’t help but smile. Then, he shook his head. “I don’t know how to cook.

It’s too time-consuming. I’ll have the servant do it.”

“That’s not very good. A servant is not a family. The food made by a servant is not as delicious as that made by a family...”

Alisha was a foodie and had a very high requirement for food.

She thought delicious food must be filled with affection. This was not something a servant could make “My mommy cooks very well. And Quintin is also good at cooking. Sometimes they cook for us together, and then we sit at the table and finish the food. That is the happiest time for us. Unfortunately... Sir, you can’t cook, and you won’t savor such happiness.”

Braden didn’t expect that Ally’s words would be so harsh. He shook his head helplessly. “If so, I think I’m a little pitiful.”

“It doesn’t matter if you can’t cook. You can learn. Quintin started from scratch and became a good cook. He immediately convinced me, my sister, and my mommy.”

Bennett seriously suggested to Braden while whipping the cream.

Although he hated the bad daddy in front of him, subconsciously, Bennett still wanted to make a “change” to “Humph, what a scheming man!”

Shirley couldn't guess what Kaza was planning, so she didn't beat around the bush and said, “Just tell me. I will try my best to satisfy you if I can.”

“Marry me!”

Kaza wore a faint smile and said that jokingly.

“No way!”

Shirley didn't even think before rejecting.

This wasn't the first time Kaza had made such a shameless request, so naturally, it wasn't the first time Shirley had rejected him.

As time passed, Shirley didn't care about it. She only felt that Kaza was asking for trouble.

“I knew you would reject me.”

Kaza clutched his chest, looking like he was hurt.

Shirley clenched her fists and said coldly, “If you're still so crazy, I won't let you go. What exactly do you want to do? Get to the point!”

“Alright, I'm afraid of you...”

Kaza stopped joking and became serious unexpectedly. He said, “I want 20% of the Korita Group's shares.”

“What did you say? 20%?”

Shirley shouted in anger. She looked ferocious and said, “Do you know what 20% of the shares means?”

“If you get it, you’ll be the largest shareholder second to me. How can you have the nerve to make such a request? You might as well snatch it directly!”

“Don’t be agitated. Look at you. Your face is even distorted in anger. Drink some wine and calm down...”

Kaza calmly took the wine glass and poured a glass of wine for Shirley. He pushed it in front of her and it for free. You know that my family has a lot of money, and the money...

Lost in thought, Shirley took the contract home with her.

To Shirley's surprise, Bennett and Alisha didn't come to greet her as usual. The house was silent.

"Bennett? Alisha? Where are you? I'm home. Don't you miss me?"

Shirley turned on the lights as she entered the house.

The living room was empty. Shirley didn't find Bennett and Alisha there.

Shirley felt strange. She hurried to the bedroom.

Suddenly, Bennett and Alisha ran out of their room and hugged Shirley's thighs.

"Mommy, you're home. We miss you so much!"

"You must be very tired. I can give you a massage!"

Bennett and Alisha were sweet and thoughtful. They fawned over Shirley and then gave her a massage.

Shirley was happy. She closed her eyes and said, "Hmm, that was great. Thank you, Ben, Ally. You two are so sweet. Though the work is killing me, I feel much better now.”

After Shirley finished speaking, she was about to enter the bedroom. However, Bennett and Alisha hugged her thighs again, as if they didn’t want Shirley to enter the bedroom.

“Mommy, please let us massage you a little longer!”

“Mommy, are you hungry? We’ll go get dessert...”

“Mommy, why don’t you sit on the sofa and watch TV? You need to relax!”

Shirley was smart. She immediately realized that something was wrong.

“Did you two do something bad? Is that why you stop me from entering my room?”

With a gloomy face, Shirley said in a serious tone.

Alisha panicked, glancing at the bedroom behind her from time to time. Obviously, Alisha felt guilty. It looked

The room was filled with chaos a second ago, but now everyone was completely silent.

“Is he awake?”

Shirley gulped. She did not have the courage to turn around.

“Yes, he should be awake. His eyes are wide open.”

Alisha leaned over to Braden. She took a careful look and nodded.

“Hahaha.”

Shirley forced herself to turn around. She gazed at Braden and asked timidly. “You’re awake. How do you feel?”

Braden had thick makeup on, and he was wearing women’s clothes. Braden was charming, but he was also very frightening in his eyes.

Braden moved his thin lips and said with a fake smile, “What do you think?”

“I think...”

Shirley coughed and said with a tremble, “I think you’re very happy. After all, there are rumors that your sexual orientation is not normal. You have many boyfriends, so you should have imagined this moment in your heart.

“You want to be a woman, and put on thick makeup. You want to wear a slip dress and silk stockings. You also want to wear high heels. You...”

“Shirley!”

Braden couldn’t stand it anymore and shouted.

Braden thought Shirley was torturing his heart rather than destroying his body

Chapter 385 How Stupid You Are

Seeing that she couldn't change Braden's mind, Shirley asked Braden directly. "So what will happen after doing the paternity test? What if the data shows that the children are related to you? They are my children.

Don't even think about taking them away from me. Otherwise, I will risk my life fighting with you!"

"Did you finally admit it?"

Braden looked sullen. His eyes were cold, and he snorted, "You are so fierce. You even dare to take my children. Of course, you dare to risk your life to fight with me. Unfortunately, I am not interested in your life. I also do not want my two children to hate me and say that I hurt their mother."

When Shirley saw Braden's expression, she only felt a chill on her back.

Shirley knew very well that the war was going to start. The mine that had been buried four years ago was about to detonate

It was impossible to say that Shirley was not panicked. Shirley was panicked, but she was not afraid.

"Braden, don't beat around the bush. Just tell me what you want."

Shirley clenched her fists, and she was ready to face death.

Braden snorted.

Braden waved his hand and said with a relaxed expression, "Don't be so nervous. I actually don't know that they are my children. I remember that we didn't have sex before. Now that two children have suddenly appeared, it is obvious that I have missed out on a lot of important information."

"Braden, why are you playing dumb? You dare to do things, but you don't dare admit it!"

Shirley roared out the resentment she had endured for more than four years. She asked, "What did you do to me on the night of Charles funeral? Don't you remember?"

"What did I do on the night of Charles' funeral?"

Shirley and Braden were silent, and a strange aura condensed in the air.

“You mean the child that Amelie has is not yours. The two of you don’t have that kind of relationship?”

Shirley was shocked. After sobbing for a while, she spoke.

Before this, she had thought of many reasons why Braden was so good to Amelie. She had never expected it to be like this.

Braden put his hand on his forehead, his handsome face cold. He was speechless and helpless.

“Do you think I would like Amelie?”

Braden asked Shirley.

“How would I know which type you like?”

Shirley crossed her arms and said in a strange tone, “Don’t you guys all like that kind of woman who looks weak? When she acts coquettishly to you, you can’t bear it.”

“Don’t say like that.”

Braden said with a serious expression, “Amelie is not the kind of woman.”

Braden’s rebuttal made Shirley feel inexplicably funny, and she couldn’t help laughing.

She held back her laughter and said expressionlessly, “Well, then tell me, what kind of person Amelie is?”

Braden frowned and thought hard for a long time. Then he replied honestly, “She is weak and scheming.”

Shirley’s expression turned cold. She suddenly felt a wave of sorrow and a wave of mockery. She snorted coldly. “It seems that you already knew what kind of Amelie is.”

“She has her own difficulties. Charles said that she had an unhappy childhood.”

Braden’s eyes were cold.

Because of Charles, Braden always felt that he should be responsible for Amelie.

Chapter 387 A Real Father

“Of course not!”

Bennett angered Braden’s throat and said, “My mommy hates you so much that she doesn’t even bother to mention you. It’s you who has done too many bad things. We found out about it easily.”

Shirley was embarrassed. She was still a little worried that Braden had a bad impression of Bennett. She shouted, “Bennett, you can’t be so rude.”

The words Shirley didn’t say were, “That is your father!”

If word got out that Bennett taught Braden a lesson, it would be a disgrace.

“Mommy, how am I rude? I am just telling the truth. This bastard has already done many bad things. If he wasn’t so bad, you wouldn’t have suffered so much!

“If one does bad things, one has to bear the consequences that everyone hates them. It’s reasonable for us to hate him.

“Look at Quintin. He’s such a good person. He treats you well. He treats me and Ally well. He accompanies us every day and makes delicious food for us. Only Quintin deserves our love and our respect.”

Bennett’s logic clearly stated his position, making it impossible to refute.

Shirley rested her forehead on her hand, praying that Braden would be magnanimous and not lash out at Bennett.

Braden’s cold eyes stared at Bennett for a long time. Then, Braden nodded proudly. “Very good. You are so arrogant. You are on par with me when I was a child. My genes are indeed powerful.”

Shirley was speechless.

Bennett didn’t know what to say.

Alisha said, "Mommy taught us to be tolerant and generous people. If the bad daddy has changed his ways, why don't we give him a chance to become a good person?"

"If we treat Braden well, he will also treat us well. If we treat him badly, he will also treat us badly. Then why don't we treat him better, and then have another person who is good to us?"

Alisha said her thoughts with evidence.

Since childhood, Alisha had been the number one fan of Bennett and was the most loyal supporter of Bennett.

Shirley had once laughed. If Bennett killed someone one day, there was no doubt that the one who handed over the knife was Alisha.

Now, Alisha and Bennett were arguing so much for Braden.

"Um... Alisha and Bennett..."

Shirley listened from the side. She looked at this one and then at that one. She was actually feeling a little helpless.

After all, this was the first time Shirley had encountered such a scene. Bennett said, "Alisha, there is something wrong with your mind. A bad person is a bad person and will not become a good person. Being oft-hearted toward a bad person is to be ruthless to ourselves!"

Alisha said, "Of course not. If people can't make mistakes, then why would they need teachers or the police?"

This was also the first time that Bennett had encountered such a stubborn Alisha. When he was helpless, he could only pull Shirley into the battlefield.

"Mommy, you should be the judge. Who do you support, Alisha or me? Should we forgive this bad daddy?"

"This..."

Shirley pinched her chin, thinking about how to answer. She was thinking about how to not hurt the two children but also resolve their conflict.

"In fact, I think it is good to be strong and tolerant. The point is having balance. We can't give a chance to people that are extremely bad. We can't just punish people who are still good. So..."

"So, the key is to see how bad daddy behaves, right?"

Bennett instantly refined the central thought in Shirley's words.

Like a little adult, Bennett nodded solemnly. "Mommy is right. We can't just punish him. Why don't we call out the bad daddy and let him show a good attitude?"

"I agree. Let's see what he thinks... But what's wrong with Bad Daddy? It's been so long. Hasn't he tidied himself up yet?"

It was still silent. Braden lying on the bed still had his eyes closed. His long eyelashes were as thick. The orange light was gentle, leaving a shadow on his straight nose.

Seeing that he did not respond, Shirley leaned closer and looked at him carefully. Her heart was touched.

“Fate must favor you very much. Your face is so beautiful!”

She was shocked by Braden’s perfect face again.

His face was perfect, and his skin was tender. She didn’t know what kind of fancy skin care product he had used. His skin was exquisite and smooth.

Based on her experience of being cheated before, Shirley was much more vigilant. She pushed Braden and said, “I’ll say it again. Don’t play tricks on me again!”

Braden did not move or speak.

“Are you playing dumb? I have plenty of ways to deal with you!”

After Shirley finished speaking, she mischievously pinched Braden’s nose, attempting to stop his breathing

Braden still did not react.

“Are you still asleep?”

Shirley frowned and said harshly, “Then don’t blame me. I’ll have to take out my powerful secret weapon!”

As soon as she finished speaking, she waved her arms, stretched herself, and began to tickle Braden.

Sometimes, her movements were gentle, and sometimes, her movements were heavy, sometimes urgent, and sometimes slow. Even someone with strong willpower could not endure it.

“Still no reaction?”

Shirley let out a long sigh. She finally believed that Braden was really unconscious.

For some reason, she relaxed a little, not as tense as before when he was awake.

Chapter 390 A Fatal Secret

On the way back to the apartment, Shirley called Mr. Quintin before the two children left school.

"What's the matter?"

Mr. Quintin was very surprised to receive Shirley's phone call.

"There is indeed a special situation. Where are you now?"

"Me?"

Mr. Quintin paused for a moment and replied, "I am currently at Crimson Pawnshop. I need to deal with some special matters."

"I see. When will you be free? Can you come to the apartment?"

Shirley sounded a little anxious as if she had something important to discuss with Mr. Quintin.

"Then wait a moment. I'll be right there."

Mr. Quintin heard the worry in Shirley's tone and said in a deep voice.

"Alright, I'll wait for you."

When Shirley returned to the apartment, she began to organize her and the children's daily necessities.

About an hour later, Mr. Quintin arrived as promised.

"You're finally here."

When she saw Mr. Quintin, she felt a sense of security for some reason.
