

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 51

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

Bella spined around quickly staring at Blade, she could not believe she has lost it and mentioned his name, how could she lose in a game like this, of course, why won't she lose in a game like this.

She gasped, she was confused, what was his gift for winning.

"I have not to swim yet, we came here for swimming."

"You can swim later. This pool won't disappear, it will continue to remain here, there are a lot of days to swim."

Blade said, smiling mischievously at her.

She sighed, she hoped the king could pass out but that was not going to happen.

"Where are we heading to."

Bella said, watching as he stepped out from the pool, she could not find enough courage to look back into the water, this pool contained a lot of things, so instead, she continued to stare at his.... ass, she almost palmed her head.

Blade wore his briefs, quickly he turned to stare at her.

"My room which has turned to yours."

Blade said, watching as she shivered under his stare.

Different thoughts overclouded Bella's head, why would his price be in his room, why couldn't it be any other place.

"What is your gift for winning."

Bella said, matching his stares with hers.

"Ooh my gift for winning, I wondered why up till now you never asked, but only asked after I won the game. My gift having your hands tied on the bed also gagging your mouth with a good golden piece which smelt like me, then afterward, I eat those wet pussy of yours till you cum mightily in my mouth. I will make sure non of those juices of yours is wasted."

Blade said, his eyes darkened the more as he said those words.

"Now step out from the pool."

Blade said, Bella froze on his words.

His words.....turned her on more than any other words had turned her on.

"The party, we are going to be late for the party, everyone will ask about our whereabouts, remember is your birthday party, so what should be done."

Bella said she needed to convince him to stop this madness, something she do regret the next day.

"Do not worry about that, I will inform them that you were tired because I took a taste of you which is quite correct and also I tucked you In"

Blade said, staring at her as she widened her eyes in shock.

"Aren't there no other choice, there should be a choice, may be an option."

Bella said, staring at him pleadingly, there was no way she would be tied on the bed while he do silly things to her, that was outrageous or maybe there were many ways he could tie her on the bed while doing strange things with her.

"Ok fine the first option is getting your mouth tied, I would prefer you screaming my name but I never made a soundproof, your hands will still be tied, that is part of my win, the second option, one of us will give each other oral sex... You will have to choose which one of us.."

Bella gulped at his words. The king was going insane.

"Oral sex..."

Bella muttered, the king is a pervert.

"Yes, oral sex....."

"And the last option is..."

Bella said, interrupting his words,

"You will spend the next seven days in my bed naked and gagged, why I please you, how do you see that."

Blade said, throwing her a smirk, right now she looked delicious, quite delicious for him to slide his dick in her and fuck her senseless but that had to wait, he was not going to force her to do anything, till she accepts him completely, but right now, he got to get his win, been drunk gave him the courage to do insane things with her.

"Wait the options are not fair, no one is easy, I do not know what to choose."

Bella blurted out, again she thought, the king was a pervert, a hot disgusting pervert.

"You choose which one you want, you have five seconds to choose."

Blade said, watching as her eyes widened with shock.

Bella stared at him, the stares he gave her were like one she had never seen in a lifetime, he wasn't forcing her to do things just like Lucas wanted, instead, they were playing a dirty pleasuring game.

If this was a game, she does play him back later.

"Five....."

"Four....."

"Three....."

"Two....."

"One....."

"I pick the first option!"

Bella said, her heart drumming with a feeling which she was not expecting to feel at a time like this.

She was feeling excited, excited to do strange things with him.

"Oh my gosh, I chose the first option."

Bella gasped, realizing what she had done.

Blas stared at her, a wicked grin filled his face.

"You seem quite excited, now please mon amour step out from the pool, you will catch a cold."

Blade said, watching as she lazied around in the pool, he turned back, he was going to see her secrets parts later on, but yet, he still got to respect her, unless she might go insane with anger, this mate of his has a little ball of fire in her.

Bella wore her underwear, she wondered what he was going to do to her, she felt her inner thighs flush with excitement.

"Good thing you didn't put on your clothes."

Blade said, quickly without thinking twice he carried her bridal style, Bella gasped, she wasn't expecting him to be quite sudden, and just like a flash, he disappeared into thin air.

The next seconds, they found themselves in her room, she was surprised at the sudden disappearance.

"You disappear?"

Bella asked, her face filled with confusion.

"I teleport, not all vampires does that, only but five of the vampires in the vampire kingdom teleport. The rest of the vampires run with a good speed."

Blade said, explaining how vampires work in a time like this.

"Won't you wait until you become sober?"

Bella asked, hoping he listened to her, she doubted if the vampire king would regret his actions, he was all over her and she felt afraid she was going to regret doing this shit with him.

"No, If I wait till am sober, I will still eat you out but a part of my mind will be thinking about not eating you out so you won't pass out."

Blade said, slowly dropping her on the bed, Bella froze at his words, what does he mean by eating out, was he planning on sucking her blood, she hoped not.

"Mon amour I have a party to attend to, I promise you will enjoy this more than I will ever do."

Blade said, his voice sounding more husker and thicker.

Bella shivered at his words, this son of a pervert knew exactly the words to say to turn her on.

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 52

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

He spoke like Lucas, but his words never affected her the way Lucas's words affected her, instead, she felt a strange feeling mixed with contentment flow through her body.

"I promise not to be rough with you."

Blade said, in a promising voice, slowly he leaned towards her, his bare chest touching her stomach.

“Are we going to have sex?”

She wasn't comfortable having sex with him, she hadn't healed properly, but she was comfortable having him in between her legs.

“No, not yet, you are not ready for that yet. I do make sure you are fully ready for that.”

Blade assured her, Bella breathed a sigh of relief.

“As I said, am gonna tie your hands.”

Blade said, his lips touching the crook of her neck, he bit her neck for a second. Hearing a little moan escaping from her lips.

“And then I gag this hot lips of yours.”

Blade said and without giving her time to speak he smashed his lips on hers, his actions took Bella by surprise, she was not expecting much from him.

When she gasped, it gave him the opportunity to deepen the kiss, she tasted like strawberry, Bella moaned under his kiss, she had never tasted anything like this, he was driving her nuts at each kiss he gave her, he circled his tongue around her mouth trying to taste every inch of her.

Bella moaned, she could perceive and taste the alcohol that had made him drunk.

Under his arms he caged her, to love and make her as his.

His tongue left her lips, quickly kissing every inch of her face, he was fast, hot, and rough at the same time and his actions were not disgusting to her instead it was turning her on.

“Mine.”

Blade growled as he kissed her neck, biting her at every chance he got to, he wanted to savor every inch of his body, he wanted to show her to whom she belonged.

“Mine.”

Blade said, hearing the mighty pants of her breath, slowly his hands swiped towards the drawer, he brought out a handcuff, still kissing her, he cuffed her on the bed, without her knowledge.

Bella felt something cold on her hands, she looked up, she realized that the hot devil of her mate had cuffed her when he was distracting her with his kisses.

“You cuffed m.....”

Blade never gave her a chance to complete her words because quickly he smashed his lips on her lips, Bella tightened her lips, she was not going to open up to his kisses, but it was a hard thing to do because quickly, without her knowledge, Blade dipped his hands into her cunt, squeezing it quite fast, at his actions, Bella gasped with shock, using that opportunity he slid his tongue into her mouth, this time, kissing her tenderly as he savored her lips.

His other hand flipped her bra over, slowly his hands dropped to grab her breast, Bella moaned, she had never felt like this before, no one had ever treated her this way.

Blade saw the look of excitement which glazed in her eyes, he smiled lazily at her, she was wet, so fucking wet for him, he could smell her arousal and his hand could feel the heat that came from her cunt.

“Say it!”

Blade said, staring at her, he had brought her to the surface, but he wanted her to give him the permission to go on.

“Bladeeee.....”

Bella hissed, the mother fucker was playing games with her, he had brought her so far yet he wanted her to say it.

“Say it, say I....”

“Say what....”

Bella hissed, watching as his eyes darkened more, His hands were almost close to her breast and she could not wait for him to handle her just as he had handled her mouth.

“Good girl, now say mate I want you to eat my pussy till I can’t breathe more and cum In your mouth.”

Blade said, watching as her breath hitched at what he said.

His words were a good turner, she closed her eyes tightly, she was going to regret this, she was definitely going to regret this the next morning. Blade stroked her fleshy folds again, reminding her of what she would enjoy.

“Mate I want you to eat my cunt till I can’t breathe no more.....”

Blade didn't give her the time to complete his words and quickly he grabbed onto her breast, squeezing and sucking the other at the same time, he rubbed his hands briefly on her wet cunt who was waiting for him to eat.

Blade sucked on her nipples, pinched her nipples, and squeeze them so roughly till her eyes almost rolled out from her socket.

"Fuck BLADE.....eat me till I can breathe no more....."

Bella screamed, quickly Blade took a piece of a cloth which smelt like him, he tied it around her lips, gagging from screaming, he never knew she was a good screamer.

Quickly he kissed her downwards, his lips tasting her stomach and without thinking twice, he parted her legs, quickly raising her legs high up to his shoulders, he dipped his head In between her legs, placing his hot lips on her cunt, he ate her out, sucking, licking, flicking her cunt as he had ever eaten anyone before.

"Fuck BLADE....damn....."

Bella muffled under the piece of gag which smelt like him.

She twisted on the bed, enjoying this damn abominable pleasure she had never enjoyed before nor heard of before.

He was fucking eating her flesh out with his tongue.

She squeezed around, almost squeezing his head into her cunt.

Blade raised his head high, seeing his mate high under his hold gave him an immense feeling he had never felt before.

Slowly he dipped his three fingers into his mouth, lubricating them, slowly, he dipped them into her cunt, watching as his fingers dived into her cunt, it was a wonderful sight to behold, watching his hands trapped inside her cunt.

Bella gasped, she did something huge, something insane in down there, when she liked down, she found him staring at her, he gave her a smile, a warning smile, warning her what to expect, she nodded her head, anticipating for what will happen next.

Quickly he pumped his fingers into her cunt, increasing his pace, as he increased his pace, he watched her breathing increase with full force, he knew she was coming to climax, she was about to experience something he will always want her to experience.

Quickly still fucking her with his fingers, he placed his head in her vagina lips, sucking and fingering her at the same time, Bella went crazy with different feelings which raked through her.

"BLADE...I feel like peeing Blade...."

Bella said she was feeling strange, something unknown was about to happen to her, she felt as if she was going to pee in a situation like this.

"You not gonna pee Mon amour, you are about to have your first climax, do it!"

Blade said, increasing his pace as he fingered her and sucked the living hell out of her.

"Now, cum for me baby, please I wanna taste your juice, cum in that cunt of yours for me....."

Blade said and at his words, he felt her juice burst out from her cunt as she climaxed and screamed under her gagged lips.

She struggled under the handcuffs, struggling to be free as she climaxed heavily.

Blade sucked every juice that dripped down from her pussy, he made sure not even a single drop was wasted.

Her juice tasted so insanely good, like something he had never tasted before.

She tasted just like her scent, she tasted like strawberry and vanilla.

Blade rose up slowly, watching as she closed her eyes for a while before opening them, she stared at him, his eyes were still thick dark.

Blade watched her, giving her a mischievous smile, he rose his fingers up, his fingers which had done part of the work, he dipped them in his mouth, sucking every inch of her juice that draped in his hands.

"I can't allow your juice to waste like that."

Blade said, walking up closer to her, he removed her gag, without giving her the chance to talk, he smashed his lips on hers, circling his tongue all over her mouth tasting an easy inch of her and also giving her the opportunity to taste her own juice.

"You taste great."

Blade said, quickly removing the cuffs, he left the bed.

"Happy birthday to you."

Bella said she had almost forgotten that there was a party going on, this pervert was changing her and breaking through her walls.

"Ooh my, I love my birthday present already."

Blade said, quickly stepping out from the bed, he took His clothes, putting them on.

“That is not a birthday present, but a game, your b.....”

“Sweetheart, sleep, I must have stressed you out, I need to attend my birthday party. I feel so damn refreshed.”

Blade said, walking towards her, he gave her a kiss on her forehead.

“Sleep well Mon amour.”

Blade said, quickly he walked flashed out of the room.

Bella gaped at the empty air, where he stood, she waved her head, she had wanted to inform him about the gift but instead, he had been so quick to leave.

She hoped he was not avoiding her.

She wondered what the future held for her.

Things had changed between the both of them, they now know some secrets about each other.

Things were not going to remain the same ever again between her and this mate of hers.

What he showed her tonight, this part of himself he revealed to her drove her insane and made her realize that Lucas was a mother fucker, Lucas had made her life better instead by pushing her into the hands of the ruthless vampire king who treats her like a queen to his dark heart.

A smile escaped from her face as she thought about this, slowly she closed her eyes, her eyes making contact with the handcuff which lay on the bed, she smiled again, remembering what this handcuff could do.

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter

53

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

One second

Two seconds

Three seconds

Four seconds

Five seconds

Quickly Bella snapped her eyes open, she looked around the room, the room was empty, only the sounds of the bird rang through the window.

She closed her eyes tightly for a while. Trying to remember what had happened the previous night.

A light gasp escaped from her lips, There was no way she would forget what happened the previous night.

She was not the drunk one but the king, what the hell had she done.

Bella groaned, she rolled over the bed, not knowing what to do, there was no way she had done something like that with him.

“What the hell have I done.”

Bella groaned, hitting the bed furiously.

“What are you doing hurting an innocent bed.”

Bella heard a voice say to her, slowly she looked up, surprised to see the queen standing four feet away from her.

“Ooh am getting the bed ready.”

Bella muttered, standing up quickly, she looked down, she was surprised to see herself in a nightmare.

She looked up at the queen, confusion laced in her face.

“Ooh, a maid came to change you. Oooh, who do you think did that.”

Queen Selene said giving her a mischievous stare.

“Ooh, I don't mean that mother, am just surprised to see myself in another outfit.”

Bella said, watching as the queen shook her head, as if not believing what she said.

“You think am going to believe that crap, that nothing happened between the both of you last night.”

Queen Selene said, waving her head as she stared at her in a silly manner.

Bella groaned, there was no way she will tell the queen what happened.

"Nothing happened mother, nothing happened."

Bella said, waving her head as she arranged her bed.

"Where were you last night then, when the party was going on, where were you with the king. I prevented the doctor from coming out from stalking both of you. I told you there will be competitions but you managed to take the king away Bella."

Selene said, slowly walking towards her like a predator.

Bella stood up straight, wondering what the queen was up to.

She backed up, maintaining her distance between herself and the vampire.

Quickly like a flash, queen Selene smashed her body on Bella with a hug, hugging her insanely tightly.

"You has sex with the king, oh my gosh you had sex with the king, am so happy for you."

Queen Selene said, Bella, froze at her words, what the hell was that queen thinking, that she slept with the king.

She dragged her body away from the queen, she needed to inform the queen that she never did a thing like that.

"No mother No, I never slept with the king, we never did anything last night. I only but had some tiny strange discussions with him, nothing else."

Bella said, partially saying the truth.

She could not believe that the queen could say something like this.

Queen Selene stared at her, wondering if she was saying the truth, she waved her head in embarrassment.

"Am sorry love, I thought you did something like that with the king, I expect so much. Just want to have a young pup running around the mansion. I miss hearing the sounds of children since the king never allows kids into the castle."

Queen Selene said, her shoulders slumped in disappointment.

Bella was startled at her words, does the king hates children.

"Does the king hates children, like pups?"

Bella asked, watching as the queen waved her head.

"He doesn't hate kids, he just has this phobia for kids. He thinks he can hurt kids with his dark world. Kids tend to run away from his presence because he possesses a dark aura around him"

Queen Selene said, her face dropping as she said these words.

"Dress up, the king demands your attention In his room."

Queen Selene said, Bella looked up at her quickly.

"In his room?"

Bella asked, wondering why the alpha was demanding her presence in his room.

"Yes in his room, a guard will lead you to his room. He hadn't stepped out from his room since this morning."

Queen Selene said, watching as the queen gave her a wild insane smile, a smile depicts something mischievous.

"Do not panic, everything will be fine."

Queen Selene said, touching her cheeks fondly.

Bella nodded her head.

"Yeah, no one is going to die seeing the king in his room."

Bella said, smiling back at her.

"Good now go dress up, the king awaits for your presence."

Queen Selene said again, knowing how well Bella tends to forget easily.

"What about Kurt, where is he, haven't seen him for a while now."

Bella asked, Kurt was the opposite of the king. He was a good joker, had a good smile, and also he made her happy.

"Ooh, he went out for his job, duty called him, something came up and he didn't have the heart to tell you goodbye. But he will be back in a few days."

Queen Selene said, Bella nodded her head, she understood Kurt was also a busy man like the king, he is a vampire prince, he has vampire royal blood running in him.

Selene left the room, quickly Bella strode to the bath, she hoped the king had an amnesia....no, not amnesia, what was she thinking, she could not possibly wish the king bad luck, but she would prefer if the king had forgotten what happened the previous night.

She threw on a purple floral dress which reached her mid-thighs, stepping on flat-covered shoes, she brushed her head backward, applying a little powder on her face and light gloss on her lips and spraying some perfume, she left the room.

Maybe there was a reason she had to look good, maybe there was a reason he wanted to see her In his chambers.

A guard led her to the king's chambers.

Bold writing was placed on the door.

"THE VAMPIRE KING'S ROOM"

Bella readout, she breathed slightly, just as she was about to knock, she heard a voice coming out from the room.

It belonged to a female and It was quite audible for her hearing.

"I made this sweater myself, doesn't it look lovely my king."

The voice said Bella gasped at what she said, the woman was talking about the sweater, her voice sounded family.....

"Thank you for the birthday gift. It looks lovely."

She heard the king respond to this mysterious lady who was together with him in the room.

She wondered which cardigan they were referring to.

She had also made a cardigan for the king.

She never expected anyone to present such a ridiculous gift to him as a birthday present.

She stepped back, there was no way she was going to get into the room.

The king had a woman with him already, she felt her heart sting at this thought.

As she stepped back ready to leave, she heard the door open and a woman with long thick hair step out from the room, followed by the vampire king.

"The"

"In my chambers Mon amour."

Blade said, walking toward his mate, and without thinking twice, he dragged her into the room, banging the door at Isabella's face.

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 54

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

Blade walked towards the table.

He looked at his mate, watching as she frowned her face in anger.

"You look upset."

Blade asked, watching as she twisted her fingers.

Bella stared down at the cardigan which she had made for the king.

The doctor had just claimed it to be hers.

"Nothing, nothing at all, you called for me, is there a problem."

Bella asked, hoping the king did not remember what had happened the previous night.

"What happened last night, I woke up with a terrible headache and I learned I drank myself to stupor the previous night."

Blade said, sitting down on a chair, the images he had been seeing was quite blurry making it hard for him to grasp what had happened.

"Nothing happened, I slept off before the party ended."

Bella lied, there was no way she will make him remember what had happened the previous night, it was good he had forgotten all that had happened the previous night.

He made her feel what she hadn't felt before and right now, she wished to be could do that over again.

"Is that so?"

Blade asked, walking towards her, he walked towards her as if he was stalking her.

"Is that so?"

Blade asked again, now standing a few feet away from her.

Bella froze with fear, she wondered if the king could detect the lie in her voice.

She wasn't good at lying, been trained to serve people all through her life, lying was the last thing she would think of doing, in her former pack, others could lie and go free but when it comes to her, she was different, it was considered an abomination in her part.

"Yes, that.....is so."

Bella said, shivering lightly.

"But why does your face tell me something different, your face depicts that something had happened between us the previous night. I can't remember it now, but soon enough I will remember it."

Blade said, this time stepping more closer to her, Bella stepped back, the more she stepped back the more Blade took more steps closer to her.

Her back touched the hard cold wall, she closed her eyes momentarily, there was no place to run to.

"Done running."

Blade said, lifting his hands to place beside the corners of her head, there was no place for her to escape.

"I said nothing happened last nig....."

Her words were hot stuck in her throat when she felt his nose so perfectly close to her neck bone, Blade kissed the contours of her neck so lightly, a light hiss escaped from her lips, she closed her eyes, appreciating the torture he was giving her.

"So why is your heart beating so loudly from your chest. I can hear the incessant beating of your heart so well as if it wanna explode."

Blade whispered into her ears, he saw her cheeks reddened with shame.

He smiled haughtily, she had been caught, something had happened last night and he was going to find out what it was from her.

"Now tell me Mon amour, what happened between the both of us the previous night. Am so curious to know what happened."

Blade said, quickly taking her hands up, caging them at the top of her head.

"I said no.....thing happen.....ned bet.....ween us."

Bella stuttered lying again, she did not know what this bastard could do.

Blade smiled down at her, using one hand to pin her two hands on the wall, his second hand traced her neck, slowly tracing down to her breast, he smiled again, he could feel the tightening of her nipple in those light gown that she wore.

She was responding fast to his touch and that was because something good had happened between them the previous day.

“Your nipples are tightening under my light touch.”

Blade said breezily, quickly palming her breast with his full palm.

Bella moaned lightly, she could not ignore the pleasure he was offering her.

“If nothing had happened you wouldn’t be moaning while I touched you.”

Blade said, trailing his hands downwards, slowly his hands traced down her stomach, Bella gasped, her breathing increased.

“At first you never allowed me to touch you to this extent so why is your breathing quite ragged and also you haven’t pushed me away as you always do.”

Blade said, slowly he dipped his hands under her gown, Bella closed her eyes tightly, this vampire was driving her insane with need.

“Please!”

Bella said, she did not have enough courage to push him away, he was so damn good for her, the things he was doing to her were making her head roll in circles.

“Please what.”

Blade said, slightly touching the fleshy folds in between her legs, he smiled, she was so damn wet for him.

There was no doubt, something had happened and he was going to make sure he found out what had happened the previous night.

“You are so fucking wet for me. Just tell me to mate, what had happened the previous night, it’s just a simple question, I can find out myself, I have a camera in your room, I can watch the video and find out what had happened.”

Blade said, slowly his hand caressed her pants, she was wearing lingerie so it was not hard to detect her full mound of flesh which was fully wet for him.

Slowly he inserted a finger into her cunt, a loud gasp escaped from her lips.

“Tell me what happened last night.”

Blade asked her, sliding his finger in and out from her cunt.

He added more two fingers, Bella groaned, the same feeling which she felt the previous night raked through her body, she did not want him to stop whatsoever she was doing.

He was affecting her in various ways and she felt like exploding at that minute.

“What happened between us last night mate.”

Blade said, the blurry images became clearer, he could see himself in between her thighs as he ate her out. He was remembering but he wanted her to spill the words herself, he wanted to make sure it wasn't a mistake for her.

“You.....played a.... game with me...Blade please.”

Bella stuttered, closing her eyes tightly as the vampire king was bringing her to her climax with just her fingers.

“Game, which kind of game”

Blade said, fingering and stroking her folds at the same time, he felt her feet quiver, quickly he pushed his body closer to her, preventing her from falling.

“Blade please.”

Bella said, she did not know what she was begging for but she knew she was begging to feel that climatic pool she had felt before the previous night.

“What games did I play with you, when you say it, I will Make sure you have a wonderful orgasm.”

Blade said, His words shook Bella so tremendously.

“You pushed your fingers into my folds and your tongue savored the flesh in between my thighs.”

Bella said, her face reddened at her words, she could not believe she was saying this.

“Hmm what you do to me.....”

Blade said, this time, increasing his pace as he fingered her.

Blade heard a mew escape from her lips, she was about to have her climax.

“Cum for me baby” Blade hissed loudly, she was driving him crazy with her pants and moans.

“Blade.....”

Bella screamed, forgetting she was trapped in between his arms at the wall while he dipped his hands into her folds.

Quickly she jerked with full force, closing and shrieking and screaming his name loud.

Blade closed His eyes tightly, enjoying the feeling of hearing his name escape from her lips.

Slowly he removed his hands from her underwear.

Straightening her, he dipped his hands in his mouth, licking everything juice in his hands.

“I can’t allow this tasty juice of yours to go to waste.”

Blade said, smiling down at her mischievously, Bella gawked at him, he was a pervert, a big-time pervert.

She closed her eyes tightly, she was damned, surely she was damned.

She opened her eyes quickly when she felt her legs leave the ground, He was carrying her bridal style, slowly taking her to his bed.

Bella remained quiet, she had just had the best climax she had ever experienced.

She watched as he placed her on the bed, slowly standing up straight.

She felt dizzy for a while, the vampire king was a sex god, he was an incredibly handsome man and right now, all she could think was having him in between his legs as he eats her fold.

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 55

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

“You wouldn’t have done that.”

Bella said she could not believe that something like this have transpired between the both of them again.

It was hard to remove what they felt for each other, there was no point denying it, no single point denying it.

"Ooh I see, but what should I do then, leave you wanting and in need of my touch. You were so fucking wet."

Blade said, walking to his table.

Taking the clothing that was on the huge table, he smelt it, sighing lightly.

"I can't believe Isabella can make a cardigan like this."

Blade said, watching the pattern that was used to sew the cloth.

Bella folded her hands in a fist, the doctor was a terrible liar, she closed her eyes tightly, holding the cry that was about to escape from her lips.

"Is anything the problem?"

Blade asked, Bella, waved her head, quickly standing up, she strode towards the door.

Slowly turning to stare at him.

"Nothing, I prefer to be alone for now."

Bella said, how was she going to inform the king that she made this clothing without making the king feel as if she was a liar.

"I would have preferred if we had eaten together this morning. I need you to fall for me so quickly."

Blade said, quickly he stood up, walking towards Bella, Bella frowned her face slightly, she did not like the idea of the vampire king coming any closer to her.

Quickly taking a step back.

"Please stop, I would prefer to be alone, plus I can't fall for you or love you, I am not the one for you."

Bella said, slowly her eyes looked up to match his gaze.

"The goddess has sai....."

"What we had the previous night and this morning do not guarantee that I will love you. The mate bond can be quite stubborn sometimes."

Bella said, interrupting his speech.

"Hmm, you think so. I give you three weeks, I promise you three weeks you will love me, you will fall in love with me in three weeks, I will try every possible way to make that happen, just twenty-one days remaining for you to fall in love with me.”

Blade said, watching as she waved her head slowly.

“And what will happen if that is not done.”

Bella asked, was he going to force himself on her just like Lucas, or was he going to promise her freedom away from the vampire pack, she felt her heart twist at this thought, the vampire pack had become part of her life.

“I will free you, I will not force you to be mine. I give you three weeks to fall in love with me, I promise I will make you do so.”

Blade said, looking at her slightly, his eyes darkened at the thoughts of not having her as his mate.

“Ok then let’s see who wins.”

Bella said this was a dangerous game she was playing with him.

“I will be leaving.”

Bella said, not giving him the chance to respond, she left the room.

When she stepped out from the King’s hall, she saw a passage, the passage seemed to be hidden.

She looked back, there were no guards, she has not been given the chance to explore the mansion ever since she stepped into the castle, perhaps this could be an opportunity for her to explore the castle.

Slowly she tip-toed into the dark passage, the passage was a scary one, as if no one had ever dared to step into this part of the castle.

The more she walked into the passage, the more the passage became scarier and creepier.

She heard a sound, it was quick and sharp, she felt her heart skip for a moment and she wondered where the sound came from.

There were a lot of rooms in the hall so it was quite hard to know where this strange sound was coming from.

Quickly she hid in a corner, she was not ready to be caught.

Just as she was about to step out from the huge pillar which was able to cover her body in the dark, she saw two figures step out from the corridor.

She could not see their face but she knew they were vampires.

But they smelt strange, they smelt like blood, quickly her eyes made contact with what laid in their hands, it was a body, a living body been dragged by two vampires.

Their victim did not look like a vampire but instead looked like a human.

She wondered what a human was doing amid powerful vampires.

“You disobeyed our orders human, how dare you.”

A mysterious voice said, Bella’s heartbeat so loudly, she held unto her clothes tightly, any slight sound from her can make her lose her life in a second.

“I did what you asked me to do.”

The human said, she could feel his fear oozing out from his body, Bella wondered what the human was talking about.

“Then why is the vampire king still standing, alive and strong.”

The vampire said, Bella froze with shock, they were planning on killing the vampire king, she wondered if she should look up and maybe catch a glimpse of their faces.

Immediately she did that, she saw one of the vampires turn quickly in her direction.

Quickly, she hid, getting caught was the last option on her list.

“Perhaps the vampire king is quite strong to get killed by the poison.”

The human said, shivering with fear, Bella’s eyes widened with fear, they had poisoned the vampire king the previous night at his birthday party. Yet the vampire king survived it.

“I smell another living being In this hall.”

A vampire said, looking around the hall.

“There can’t be a living being in this hall, no one is permitted to step into this part of this castle. This is where the previous vampire king was buried also it contains the King’s special flowers which no one had the right to touch. No one dares step into this part of the castle, it is forbidden.”

The vampire said, Bella shivered at his words, this part of this castle was where the previous vampire king was buried.

She felt even more scared at their words, burying a king in a castle was something to be scared of...

Their next words caught her off guard.

"What about the king's mate, do you think she should be left out from being killed."

Bella felt her breath leave her for a moment, who so ever these people were were planning on killing her and the king, they are planning a murder and who so ever was behind this, who so ever was planning this evil was a powerful person who is keeping himself low for now.

"No, the female vampire had requested that she will take care of her all by herself, she wants the king to herself, so why will they try to cause harm to the king."

The vampire said.

"Vampire woman, they?"

Bella thought lowly, a woman wanted her dead, and not just one person was planning this evil but they were more than one.

She wondered who they were.

"Maybe they were trying to make things easier for us, let's just do our job."

The vampire said, Bella saw one of the vampires bent down low to the human who had been tied on one of the pillars.

She saw him whispered some words to him and slowly he stood up straight.

"Kill him!"

She heard the vampire say, Bella gasped at their words, she held her breath, they were going to kill this human just like that.

"Please have mercy on me, please forgive me, do not kill me, I will do my job properly, I shall increase the contents of the poison and make it more effective."

The human begged, Bella watched as the human please for his life.

"Am Sorry but your time has passed. Kill him off."

The vampire said, ignoring the plea of the vampire.

The vampire took a gun quickly he shot it twice at the human, the human fell dead immediately, the human widened his eyes as he fell on the ground dead, his eyes made contact with Bella's eyes, Bella gasped when she saw the man staring down at her, his dead eyes staring straight at her.

She held her cloth tightly, closing her eyes tightly to remove the image she had just seen. They had just used a bullet which never made any sound to kill a human, who so ever invented this ammunition needed to be killed with their inventions because their inventions just killed a human without anyone hearing the sound, Bella thought.

"Let's leave."

"What about the dead body, we should look for a way to destroy it."

The second vampire said, staring at the human who lay on the floor.

"That is the plan A, which is to make the king mad with anger, to let him know he is not secure."

The vampire said and quickly the two vampires left the hall, leaving the dead body of the human in the hall.

Bella sighed in relief, she could not believe the horror scenarios she had seen today with her bare eyes.

Slowly standing up, she wondered if she should inform the king about this, but what if no one believed her, what if they point their fingers towards her, maybe they will accuse her of killing the human or maybe.....different thoughts ripped through her head on what might happen if she said the truth, also knowing the fact that she did not see their faces will not make any sense, no one will believe her, but she can't just stand here and do nothing, someone is planning evil against her and the king and she wondered who was behind this treason.

Quickly staring back at the dead human body, she felt a shiver run through her body, this was going to be a nightmare she will have to deal with, and knowing the fact that the late king was buried here, made her shiver more in fear.

Quickly she ran out of the hall, she felt like vomiting, she had seen enough for the day.

But first thing first, she needed to know why a flower was buried inside a castle, little details unlock bigger secrets.

This was the time she needs to start her little adventure into the vampire's life and also she needed to know who is behind everything, who wanted her dead, and who wanted the vampire king dead.

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 56

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

“What did the vampire king say about the gift you gave him.”

Queen Selene asked, they were in the front balcony knitting, Bella stopped knitting, she had almost forgotten about the doctor and her lies. What had transpired this morning was still affecting her.

“Nope, he hadn’t.”

Bella said she was knitting a new cloth for herself.

“Why the cardigan is beautiful, I do not see a reason why he shouldn’t have appreciated you for what you did.”

Queen Selene said.

“He never appreciated because he never knew I made the clothing for him.”

Bella said, she closed her eyes for a while, the vampire king had dragged her in this morning and instead forced her to say the truth in a perverted manner.

“What do you mean.”

The queen said, she looked confused at what she said.

“The doctor, she took the credit herself, she was quite smart to take the credit by informing the king she made the cardigan herself.”

Bella said, continuing knitting. She did not look bothered over what happened, she has grown up with people taking her good works to their advantage and no one complained about it.

“Really, how dare Isabella become so cheap to the extent of taking what belongs to you. She is so shameless. Did you inform the king about it, does he know the truth now, Isabella needs to know her place. She needs to be punished.”

Queen Selene said, now totally focused on Bella.

“Nope he did not know, there is no essence letting him know about it, what mattered is that he received a gift from me, he could hear from many people who disguised themselves to take the cr.....”

“Why didn’t you inform him about it, why keep mute.”

Queen Selene interrupted her, Bella stopped sewing, she breathed slightly for a while.

"I grew up with people taking what belonged to me forcefully. They took my good works to their advantage. So it's nothing."

Bella said, nodding her head painfully as she stared at the queen. Quickly she went back to her work.

"Bella you need to know this. This pack and your former pack are two different packs, we respect everyone, we do not take what belongs to others, we do not accept bully, I do not know what your pack had previously done to you, but you gotta know this. This is your gift which you gave to your mate and you will not allow anyone to take the credit. Got that, now when the king is less busy, you will walk to him and tell him that this gift belongs to you and not Isabella."

Queen Selene said, staring at her.

Bella smiled at her, nodding her head happily, Indeed the vampire's pack was different from the werewolf pack.

"Ok mother, I got you, but what happens next?"

Bella asked, the queen smiled down at her, waving her head slightly.

"She might be punished sweetly or bitterly."

Queen said, continuing knitting.

Bella wondered what she meant by the bitter punishment and the sweet punishment.

"Mother....."

Bella called, it was time she questions the queen about the flower that she heard the vampires discussing in the creepy hall, she does stylishly ask her so as not to attract attention, the queen mother was the only one she could ask, not the king himself, the king might consider her questions to be suspicious.

"Yes, you called."

"Are there flowers in the castle, maybe beautiful flowers?"

Bella asked, watching as the queen stared at her for a while.

Bella breathed slightly, she hoped she did not sound suspicious.

"Yes, there are a lot of flowers. Roses, hibiscus, Aster, Azalea, Black-Eyed Susan, Buttercup, California Poppy, Chrysanthemum, Crocus, Daffodil, and lots more."

Queen Selene said, concentrating on her knitting.

"Wow, that is a lot of flowers."

Bella breathed out, staring at the vampire queen who winked down at her in a playful manner.

"I studied botany so am a botanist, that is why I have a vast knowledge when it comes to flowers and plants."

Queen Selene said, smiling tenderly at her.

"Ok, I understand."

Bella said the conversation wasn't going as she had expected it to be.

"What do you plan on studying."

Queen Selene asked.

"I do not know, but I know I loved cooking, I always wished to attend a catering school, no matter how cheap it was, it was my dream, to be a popular caterer."

Bella said, she looked down at the cloth she was knitting, she did not want the queen to see the look of pity on her face.

She was tired of being pitied.

"And did you, did you attend a catering school."

Queen Selene asked, staring at her.

"No, I wasn't given the opportunity."

Bella said, stroking the garments she made.

"Hahaha, Bella, I do not think the king will be happy with this."

Queen Selene said, looking at Bella.

"What, what do you mean mother."

Bella said, wondering what she meant.

"I meant that the king will not be happy seeing the soon-to-be queen serving the pack as a caterer, instead he could hire a caterer for you and make you order your new caterer assistant around while you sit on a big table leaving your assistant to do the job. You do not know how protective your mate is, do you."

Queen Selene said, throwing her a wink.

Bella blushed at her words, there was a high probability that the queen was saying the truth, the vampire king was quite protective of her.

She felt her heart soften at this thought, a tiny smile escaping from her lips. Slowly her mind drifted to the vampire king, that dude is handsome, Bella shook her head lightly, removing the insane thoughts she was beginning to labor in her mind.

"Is there any other flowers in the mansion, seems I have seen the ones you called, am tired of staring at them and watering them."

Bella said she was not going to quit asking till she knew every information about the secret flower.

"I do not see a reason why you should be tired of seeing such beautiful flowers in the garden. They look so innocent and lovely."

Queen Selene said, Bella watched as the queen continued knitting her garments quite seriously than before.

It seems as if the queen was not ready to discuss any other flower, but she wasn't going to give up.

"The flowers look quite go....."

"There is another flower....."

Queen Selene said, this time focusing her full attention on her.

"I shouldn't be telling you this, but there is another flower, it is securely guarded by the order of the king and exclusively taken care of. No one is allowed to see or touch this flower, not even me, the queen mother. The vampire king prohibits anyone from coming to the flower. The flower was buried with the previous King's ashes which is my beloved mate. The king is the only one allowed in there, it is a secret hallway, and the flower used to bury my mate is a rare flower which cannot be found easily in the entire world."

Queen Selene said, breathing slightly.

"So you aren't allowed to visit the previous king's remainings."

Bella said, watching queen Selene nod at her.

"Yes, is the penalty I have to pay. You will come to know the real truth later in the future... It best your mate tells you this secret part of him."

Queen Selene said, now standing up.

"Let's go shopping, it's been quite a long you went out, I don't want you to be depressed staying in this boring castle all the time."

Queen Selene said, her mood instantly changing immediately.

Bella smiled up at her, the queen was not the one to carry sadness for long.

"Yes let's step out a little, I feel like am becoming depressed already, I need some fresh air."

Bella said, quickly standing up, at least she had known what the hall was all about.

But again she wondered, If the hall is always guarded heavily, how did the vampires slip into the overly guarded passage.

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 57

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

The door to Blade's office opened revealing the second in command in the vampires.

"We have a problem king Blade."

Carson said, stroding towards the king's table .

"What problem?"

Blade asked, watching as Carson panted as if he had ran a long distance to his office.

"We found a dead body in the secret hall."

Carson said, watching as the king stared at him in Shock.

"Body, a dead?"

Blade asked, his lips thinned In anger as he said those words, how could any one dared trespassed his order by murdering someone In his castle, especially in a secret place like his castle.

"Am sorry but we realized it was was a human, he must have been killed with a gun silencer, we saw some bullet holes on his chest and forehead. No one knew when and how they must have gone into the abominable hall. I have ordered for all the guards who are responsible for guarding the hall to be strictly questioned."

Carson hands trembled as he spoke those words, he was the one to be blamed for been so careless and not paying attention to things like this.

"And the body was left there, who so ever had done this abominable had left his victim's body on the terrace where my father was buried is not just anyone. This is.... a warning."

Blade said, quickly standing up, he walked towards the bar, picking up a glass and a bottle of wine, his head was spinning with lots of questions and questions and thoughts.

He popped the bottle open and poured the wine into the glass cup and quickly downed it at once.

"Where is my mate, she needs to be close by. She could be their next target."

Blade said, he poured another wine in the cup, again downing it in one gulp.

"She went shopping with the vampire queen."

Carson said, quickly Blade turned forward, not believing what he heard, he squeezed the glass tightly until it smashed into pieces.

"What did you just say."

Blade said, striding towards Carson.

Carson stepped back, it wasn't his fault that the king's mate was gone, he had tried stopping the she wolf but the she wolf having the support of the queen gave him an order to step out from her way unless she would kill him. How could he possibly play with such words.

'Kill' was not a word one could possibly play with, so with out no any other option remaining, he let her leave.

"She ordered me to leave her and then threatened me. You gave me orders to obey her words and make her comfortable king. I tried stopping her but I couldn't hold her. She had the support of the queen your mother included."

Carson rushed his words, the force in which the vampire king was coming towards him could kill anyone.

Blade stopped quickly, banging his hands on the wall, he groaned with anger, he felt so frustrated, how could his mate possibly left without anyone letting him know.

"And you did not let me know she left so I could stop her. But You should know no where is safe for her right now, not even the castle."

Blade screamed, punching his fist on the wall till he was bleeding, but that did not bother him at all.

"I was on my way to inform you about that when a guard ran into me, he informed me about the body found in the hall, so I decided to go check it out."

Carson said, Blade stared at him for a while, he shook his head quickly, the dark side of him was trying to take over and when that happens, there would be tons of victims which would get killed by him.

"Find my mate and bring her home."

Blade said, Holding himself from not walking towards his second in command and sucking his blood out.

He sighed, he needed to take some blood, a real blood this time, it had been quite long since he last tasted a real blood.

'Get me a real bloods'

He mind linked his Butler.

Slowly he walked towards his chair, sitting down on it like a gentle man he was.

His face expressionless, his mind filled with different thoughts.

Who might have done something outrageous like this and dared crossed their line by committing murder in his castle.

When these news reaches the council, they will not hesitate to question him and ask him why such thing was found under his watch.

He tapped his fingers briskly on the table, he was going to find out who had done this and he was going to do deal with them.

'Why the hell are you wasting time with my blood.'

Blade mind linked his Butler again.

Quickly the door opened, the Butler ran into the office, a huge glass jug was on his hands.

"One more seconds of lateness is enough for me to drink your blood and bury you six feet under my feet."

Blade said, quickly collecting the jug, the Butler yelped with fear, quickly standing ten feet away from the king.

Blade glared at the Butler, the Butler was a vampire yet he behaved like a human.

Quickly he drank the blood in one gulp, sighing in contentment, the taste of blood had made his taste for violence reduced a little and when he eventually laid his eyes on his mother, she will give him a proper reason why she had taken his mate away from him in such a short notice.

“Leave.”

Blade said, dropping the jug on the table.

The Butler took the jug and quickly left the office.

The door to his office opened revealing a young man with Blondie hair and red eyes, he is one of the king's men.

“What Is the issue, why banging into my office without my permission Simone.”

Blade said as he glower at him.

“Am sorry but there is a message confidentially meant for you, there are two envelopes which are directed towards you.”

Simone said, bowing down to Blade, he could not dare raise his face and look into the angry face of the king.

“Drop them on the table.”

Blade said, Simone nodded his head, quickly walking to the table, he dropped the two envelopes carefully.

Blade stared at the envelopes, he wondered what the envelopes contained.

Slowly he picked the first envelopes, tearing the seal apart, he read the contents aloud.

To The King Of The Entire Vampire Race.

“I Lucas Vincent, the alpha of the Air Winder Pack cordially invites you to a party which would be taken place In our little but friendly pack, your presence will strengthen the relationship between our both packs and also between the werewolves and vampires. We do love to see your presence in this party. I hope you accept this little invitation of mine.”

Blade read out loudly, when he was done reading, he stared at the letter for a while, again he read it all over again.

“The Air Winder Pack, it sounds like the pack of my mate, where my mate came from.”

Blade said, staring at Simone who nodded his head, he was baffled to at the letter.

It is well known all over the entire supernatural race that a vampire can not associate themselves with werewolf, a werewolf would not try invite an enemy into their territory, that had never been done before, unless in the past, when things were ok, but not now, when things had scattered.

“Who sent this letter, how did you received this letter.”

Blade asked, staring back at the letter in his hands.

“It was found in the border of the pack, one of your men found a parcel in the border, the letter did not come alone, it came with different gifts which involves costly Linen, golds and diamonds and also some new model guns and expensive explosives. I wondered if they planned on starting a war with us, why giving us ammunitions.”

Simone said wondering what all this was for. Perhaps they were planning on luring the king to their land so as to kill him, everyone knew how ruthless the vampire king can be.

“Is not for war, they know how violent I can be so they are using the gifts to describe my nature, that is quite impressive. Were all the gifts scanned, to check if there were cameras or any suspicious device in it?”

Blade asked, still staring at the paper.

“Yes they were, are you perhaps going to accept the invitation.”

Simone asked, watching as the vampire king stared at him, a little smile appeared on Blade’s face.

“What do you think?”

Blade asked, his eyes darkening, there was no way he could forget how his mate mentioned the name ‘Lucas’ in their first official date and his inner mind was telling him this Lucas, the alpha of the Air Winder Pack who had dared sending him a message was no different from the Lucas she mentioned.

He had tried finding out about her pack but she had been quite resilient to speak about it, then he would have to see at least a little of her past life.

This invitation was all he needed to know some secrets about her and perhaps she might open up to him when the time comes, he knew she would, he was breaking through her walls and all he needed was just a little push in her walls and he would take everything that belongs to her, her mind and soul and heart and body.

"Am attending the party, there is no way am not going to attend this party, a party which involves my mate pack and her past."

Blade said, smiling mischievously.

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 58

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

Simone stared at him in shock, he could not believe what he heard, the vampire king was going to make contact with a werewolf, he was breaking a long time rule.

"Am sorry to say this vampire king, but you breaking the rule vampire king, you are definitely breaking the rule. The vampires cannot associate themselves with werewolves."

Simone said, staring at the king, he wondered if the king had gone insane.

"I am the king, I can break the rules you understand me."

Blade said, glaring at Simone.

"Yes vampire king, am truly sorry."

Simone said, bowing his head in submission.

Blade stared at him for a little while, quickly picking up the second letter, he stared at it for a while, he wondered who brought this letter to him.

Slowly breaking the seal, he stared at the address, the letter had no address, it came plain.

"What is this?"

Blade whispered, proceeding to read the main content of the letter.

A letter for the king of all vampires.

"Dear king, you must have seen the dead human who was murdered in your castle, especially the secret hall way, by now you do know that the castle is not safe for you and your mate, speaking of your mate, I think you should be tying her up and make sure she is always by your side all the time. I know where she is right now, she is so vulnerable under my watch, I can attack her and take her away from you within the twinkle of an eye, she will be mine. You got that, she will be mine, so beware or perhaps I can take her away from you now, byeeeeee....."

From your anonymous enemy.

Blade stared at the paper, his eyes darkened with anger and quickly like a flash, he stood up from his chair,

'How dare anyone think they can take my mate away from him, how dare anyone try such blasphemy.'

He was going to rip their heart out before they try anything like that to his mate.

"Where is Carson, why isn't he yet back with my mate."

Blade said, he was so totally confused on what to do.

"He went in search for your mate, he took some men with him when he left the castle."

Simone said, wondering what was happening, the king looked like one who was about to murder someone in a second.

(Where are you Carson, have you fucking find my mate.)"

Blade mind linked to Carson, he could feel how Carson's heart beat so fast as if he had been running for quite a long time.

(Answer me now!)

Blade said, his hands was holding the table tightly, this was the first time he felt like loosing it.

(We are searching round the market now, we are asking anyone if perhaps they had seen the queen, I don't think they will cross the border and head to the human lands, the queen can't do that.)

Carson replied back.

Blade hissed harshly, his heart was beating so damn hard, he could not bear if anything happened to his mate.

"Who gave you this letter Simone? how did you received this letter?"

Blade asked, staring at Simone, Simone backed away from the king, the King's eyes was immensely dark, totally dark, more than the devil and this meant trouble for him.

"The second letter was found within the south gate. It was kept behind the flowers, the security in charge said they heard a knock and quickly when they went out to check, they could not find anyone but instead saw a letter dangling on the flowers."

Simone said, he hoped his head will not be used for appeasing the vampire king.

“Did you check the footage, to know who dropped this letter?”

Blade asked again, who ever that was planning on destroying him lays within his pack and if paradventure he lays his hands on this anonymous person, he will rip them apart and make them regret of ever coming to this life.

“No vampire king, we do not know the content of the letter, so there was no need to check for any security fo.....”

“They are planning on killing your Luna or maybe take her away from the pack, they are planning on taking over the throne. Is that something you wished for huh. The letter.....I need who so ever that brought this letter here in the south gate I need you to find him as soon as possible, you get that.”

Blade said, glaring at him, Simone nodded quickly at him, the king had the sight of a devil, perhaps more than the devil when he is angry.

(Have you find my mate.)

Blade mind linked again to Carson.

(No vampire king!)

Carson said.

“Fuck!

Blade growled,

(Where are you, where do you possibly think she might be)

Blade asked Carson again.

(We are in the black market, someone said they saw the queen passing through the market with a young female with dark long hair. They were buying some rare flowe.....)

(What is the issue Carson, why do you stop talking?)

Blade whispered, his forehead twisted in folds, he was beginning to have an headache , he was sweating profusely, he was loosing his patience.

(I think....)

(You think....bring fact not think!)

Blade yelled at Carson, interrupting him on his speech.

(I see the queen mother....)

(With my mate?)

Blade asked, If anything happened to his mate, he would lose his sanity.

(No she is alone, the Luna is not with her and she look lost, as if she had lost track of time, am heading towards her right now.)

Carson said,

Blade staggered for a while, what had he done, he waved his head quickly, nothing will happen to his mate, he got to find her, as soon as possible.

(Where are you, am heading over, do not leave with the queen unless the place is unsafe. But first where did you find her?)

Blade mind linked to Carson.

(She is In the black market, where they sell flowers....)

(Ok fine I know there, am bringing some men over for back up.)

Blade said, quickly blocking the mind link.

"Simone, check the cameras, but before you do that, send twenty men to the black market, precisely where they sell flowers, My mate is missing."

Blade said, quickly striding towards Simone who was still standing in the room nodding his head as he spoke.

"And I mean now."

Blade growled at Simone, quickly Simone opened the door, running off to do the task which was assigned to him.

Blade heaved slightly, picking up the anonymous letter again. He stared at it, a word was written at the last end of the paper which he never noticed at first.

'Observatory'

He looked at it, wondering what it meant.

Two letters coming to his desk the same day was unusual, one was a letter of invitation to a werewolf party in few weeks and another a letter of threat against him and his mate, even his pack, he hissed slightly, he was going to deal with all this mess.

Quickly dropping the letter, he was going to find his mate before anyone finds her, if only no one had find her.

Quickly like the vampire king he was, he teleported out from the room to the black market.

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 59

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

The black market was a dangerous place where the vampires comes to buy things which are rare to find in a normal market.

Only strong vampires are allowed into this territory and now his mother has brought his mate to a dangerous place like this.

It wasn't hard for him to locate Carson, three SUVs were waiting in the middle of the black market waiting for his arrivals.

As he walked towards his mother, the other vampires bowed down in submission, it was rare to find the vampire king in a black market and when you do, they got to respect them selves.

His mother shivered at his stare, he was intensely mad at her, he was ready to rip her apart in a instant but he knew he needed to calm down and find his mate before more greater harm happens to her.

"Where Is my mate Selene?"

Blade asked, he only called his mother by her name when he was furiously mad at her and may the goddess help him not to rip her apart in front of his men.

"I do not know, she.....she was behind me, gazing at the flowers and touching them, she wanted a different flower, she complained about not liking the ones in the castle, so I brought her here, to the black market, perhaps she might find a perfect flower of her choice."

Selene said, she looked totally horrified, she had never seen the vampire king so angry like this.

"Where is my mate, you haven't given me a good explanation where my mate is!"

Blade said, watching as his mother shuddered under his words.

Bella wondered who owned the voice, she felt a figure approaching towards her, quickly she pushed her self back, she could not allow her self to be touched by this anonymous people.

“Behave yourself, you don’t want to feel any pain....yet do you.”

She heard the conned voice said, quickly she stood still, allowing who so ever that was there to take off the bandage on her lips.

“Who are you and what do you want from me?”

Bella said, she was totally scared, all she wished for is to head home and sleep and cuddle with her Teddy bear.

“Now you can speak boldly, seems the king have been giving you a lot of tutorial lessons, you speak boldly than when you were in your former pack, when you were tormented and raped by your mate Lucas.”

The anonymous voice said, Bella froze at her words, she felt a sense of neutrality flowed through her body for a while before she felt the real feeling of pain and anger and hate flood through her body.

She quivered terribly and her lips shook with pain, she could feel the tears which was about to flood through her eyes, ready to explode down her eyes. She felt her broken self finally returning back in triple and she wondered how easy it was for this anonymous person to describe what had happened to her that night in few sentences.

She mustered the last courage she could muster and finally she spoke.

“Who are you and what did you know about me, what do you need from me.”

Bella said, her voice which was once firm at the beginning was shaking with immense pain which she had never felt before. The pain she was feeling now was doubled more than the one she felt when Lucas took her forcefully.

“Hmm seems you appear stronger than you look. Well I needed to investigate about you, I needed to find something alluring about you, something that will kill your will power since you are the mate to the king, the vampire king whom all women need.”

The conned voice said, Bella waved her head, now she understood, this was about the king, then it hit her slowly, was this person who had kidnapped her involved in the killing that happened in the castle.

Was this the person who was planning on taking care of her.

‘May the almighty protect me’

Bella whispered, she was in a deep shit and she hoped she will be saved before any further harm happens to her.

"You got mated to Lucas, he raped you the same night, rejected you and then you found your self in a pack where you are love and accepted....."

Bella heard the woman stopped speaking for a while, she wondered where she ran off to.

Then suddenly, she felt a pull on her head, someone was dragging her head so roughly, a heavy scream erupted from her lips, she felt her body thrown on the wall, her body came crashing together with the chair.

"And you think this will be a perfect love story huh, getting your self mated to the king. You are insane to think something like that will happen to you, because you are worthless and guess what else, after you got rejected, Lucas married your sweet sister who is now pregnant with his child. But I doubt that is his child, since whoreness rakes through your family."

Bella tightened her fist tightly, she was not going to scream at her, she was not going to cry because who so ever this conned woman was, was lying to her, non of her words were true, her sister could be a whore, but she wasn't, she wasn't worthless, the vampire king who was well known and respected always listened to her and always treated her like a queen, as he always mentioned, she had been taught and treated like queen.

She felt her self smiled at this thought, she was a fool not to have believed the king a long time ago, she would have believed him, but instead she never did, she would have told him her past, but she never did, she was ashamed of her self and her past and she loathed men, she did not trust men but now, he was able to break through her walls completely.

"Why are you smiling so damn hard instead of you to be screaming, you should be screaming and crying till you pass out than smiling."

The conned voice screamed, Bella smiled again, truly a smile could win thousand wars, a smile is a virtue.

"I have seen torture and received words as harsh as this, non of your words or physical toture can cause me any single harm or pass through the fiber of my skin, you just like my sisters, jealous and rotten who always ends up with the bad eggs."

Bella said, giving her a smile, a smile of victory.

"Ahh how dare you speak such words to me, am the one In charge here not you."

The conned voice said, Bella felt a figure approaching her, she tensed up, ready for another physical abuse.

"There was one mistake you did though, you never told the king you were raped by his enemy, you never told him you got a mate at first and you got rejected by him after he had raped you, I doubt you have."

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 60

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

The conned voice said, Bella felt her self froze at these words, her mistakes were going back against her right now in double folds, the king shouldn't hear this from someone else.

"What? Wow then am saying the truth then, your second mate did not know you once had a first mate, this is totally insane, isn't it. Well I will help you inform the king about it then."

The conned voice said.

"Please do not, I beg you do not, do not tell the king about this."

Bella pleaded, she had planned to tell the king this if paraventure she leaves this hole she had been tied up in.

"Hahahaha why, you do not want the king to think that you are disgusting, you do not want the king to find you disgusting, well I want the king to. I will inform the king about it, now is my turn to laugh."

The conned voice, laughing very loudly as she heard the king's mate cried profusely.

"Why, what do you want, what do you basically want from me."

Bella asked, she wished she could see this fake voice who was speaking yo her, but she knew they were trying to disguise themselves as possible inorder to hid their identity.

Bella also wondered how this people came to know about her pack and past.

"Well, you will have to find out later, for now, when am done with you, then I will tell you what I need."

The conned voice said. This wasn't the end then, this wasn't the end for her to meet this anonymous woman then.....

"How did you find out about my past then, I have every right to know."

Bella said, she was surprised she still had a little courage left in her, Kurt had taught her well, always to be bold in am situations and then her mate.....she felt

“For you mon amour, for you.”

Blade whispered and quickly he closed his eyes, slowly looking around the scene where he thinks his mate was captured, he was trying to make a flash backs of the events that happened, everything seemed to be blurry for a while, then slowly he saw his mate together with the queen.

They were laughing as they passed by the sellers, then quickly he saw her stopped while the queen went ahead of her, she touched a flower as if they were drawing her to them.

Blade closed his eyes tightly, this was where his mate was caught, the flowers where charmed, he walked closer to her, staring deeply into her eyes, her eyes were hollow, totally white.

Indeed the flowers were poisoned to charm her, then suddenly a man with stepped out behind her, he was wearing a big hoodie which was able to cover his face.

And quickly he saw this strange man touch his mate and as quickly his mate responded to his touch and followed him out from the scene.

He closed his eyes tightly, there was nothing he could do but watch, you can't change anything in the past but only see what happens in it.

Now he knew why the queen never heard her scream for help when she was kidnapped.

It was as if they had an idea that his mate was going to come here, Blade felt his breath left him for a while.

There was an insider, someone was supplying this anonymous person with loads of information.

Blade watched the last flash back, they were taking her north, where it was hard to track her.

Quickly opening his eyes, he felt his energy drained out from him.

Someone in his pack was helping another pack member to kidnap his mate, he tightened his fist together, his anger sipping out from his body, he was going to deeply deal with who so even caused this on his mate, who so ever tried to hurt his mate was going to greatly suffer pain for the entire period of their life.

He dashed out from the market, his running abilities was enough to track where they must have taken her to.

The more he walked out from the market, the more he walked closer to the main city.

“Shit”

Blade whispered, he had lost track of her, he could not see them anymore, it was as if this particular part of the city had some dark magic a powers controlling it, he could feel himself getting weaker and his sense of reasoning sipping out from him slowly.

Blade looked around, he was in a dark alley, it was empty, he could not find any single soul there, he was the only one here, this was the first time he had seen a place as quiet as this and his mate might have been brought here by this anonymous people.

“Where are you Bella?”

Blade whispered, turning around to find at least a something that could be of help to him.

But all he could find was buildings and empty streets.

He pressed his hands into the pocket of his jean, his hands felt something plain in his jeans, quickly dipping his hands on it, he saw the letter which was sent to him by the anonymous man.

He opened the letter again, perhaps he could find anything which could lead him to his mate.

Slowly his eyes drifted downwards, the tiny little letter which was written at the last end of the letter ‘Observatory’

He felt his breath hitched at the words, the anonymous person had left a clue for him at the last end of the page, His mate had been hidden in an Observatory and who so ever that had kidnapped her wanted him to find her and also give him the clue that he had everything under their control.

He looked around, now understanding why this anonymous person will bring his mate to an Observatory, no one comes to the Observatory unless it is required of them to.

“Son of a bitch, you dare kept my mate in an old Observatory.”

Blade whispered, it was getting darker and darker, it won’t be long before it reaches midnight, he needed to be fast so as not to put his mate in further danger.

He looked around, he had found where his mate was hidden, but there was a problem, there was a lot of Observatories in the street.

The conned voice said, Bella felt her self froze at these words, her mistakes were going back against her right now in double folds, the king shouldn't hear this from someone else.

"What? Wow then am saying the truth then, your second mate did not know you once had a first mate, this is totally insane, isn't it. Well I will help you inform the king about it then."

The conned voice said.

"Please do not, I beg you do not, do not tell the king about this."

Bella pleaded, she had planned to tell the king this if paraventure she leaves this hole she had been tied up in.

"Hahahaha why, you do not want the king to think that you are disgusting, you do not want the king to find you disgusting, well I want the king to. I will inform the king about it, now is my turn to laugh."

The conned voice, laughing very loudly as she heard the king's mate cried profusely.

"Why, what do you want, what do you basically want from me."

Bella asked, she wished she could see this fake voice who was speaking yo her, but she knew they were trying to disguise themselves as possible inorder to hid their identity.

Bella also wondered how this people came to know about her pack and past.

"Well, you will have to find out later, for now, when am done with you, then I will tell you what I need."

The conned voice said. This wasn't the end then, this wasn't the end for her to meet this anonymous woman then.....

"How did you find out about my past then, I have every right to know."

Bella said, she was surprised she still had a little courage left in her, Kurt had taught her well, always to be bold in am situations and then her mate.....she felt her heart skipped at her thoughts, this was the first time she was recognizing the king as her mate.

"Well well, there are some people who will do anything for money. Isn't that right, so I got the information from some werewolves who needed money so badly, your pack is poor, so poor to feed the entire pack, so I paid for Information."

The conned voice said, laughing triumphantly.

They were laughing as they passed by the sellers, then quickly he saw her stopped while the queen went ahead of her, she touched a flower as if they were drawing her to them.

Blade closed his eyes tightly, this was where his mate was caught, the flowers where charmed, he walked closer to her, staring deeply into her eyes, her eyes were hollow, totally white.

Indeed the flowers were poisoned to charm her, then suddenly a man with stepped out behind her, he was wearing a big hoodie which was able to cover his face.

And quickly he saw this strange man touch his mate and as quickly his mate responded to his touch and followed him out from the scene.

He closed his eyes tightly, there was nothing he could do but watch, you can't change anything in the past but only see what happens in it.

Now he knew why the queen never heard her scream for help when she was kidnapped.

It was as if they had an idea that his mate was going to come here, Blade felt his breath left him for a while.

There was an insider, someone was supplying this anonymous person with loads of information.

Blade watched the last flash back, they were taking her north, where it was hard to track her.

Quickly opening his eyes, he felt his energy drained out from him.

Someone in his pack was helping another pack member to kidnap his mate, he tightened his fist together, his anger sipping out from his body, he was going to deeply deal with who so even caused this on his mate, who so ever tried to hurt his mate was going to greatly suffer pain for the entire period of their life.

He dashed out from the market, his running abilities was enough to track where they must have taken her to.

The more he walked out from the market, the more he walked closer to the main city.

“Shit”

Blade whispered, he had lost track of her, he could not see them anymore, it was as if this particular part of the city had some dark magic a powers controlling it, he could feel himself getting weaker and his sense of reasoning sipping out from him slowly.

Blade looked around, he was in a dark alley, it was empty, he could not find any single soul there, he was the only one here, this was the first time he had seen a place as quiet as this and his mate might have been brought here by this anonymous people.

“Where are you Bella?”

Blade whispered, turning around to find at least a something that could be of help to him.

But all he could find was buildings and empty streets.

He pressed his hands into the pocket of his jeans, his hands felt something plain in his jeans, quickly dipping his hands on it, he saw the letter which was sent to him by the anonymous man.

He opened the letter again, perhaps he could find anything which could lead him to his mate.

Slowly his eyes drifted downwards, the tiny little letter which was written at the last end of the letter ‘Observatory’

He felt his breath hitched at the words, the anonymous person had left a clue for him at the last end of the page, His mate had been hidden in an Observatory and who so ever that had kidnapped her wanted him to find her and also give him the clue that he had everything under their control.

He looked around, now understanding why this anonymous person will bring his mate to an Observatory, no one comes to the Observatory unless it is required of them to.

“Son of a bitch, you dare kept my mate in an old Observatory.”

Blade whispered, it was getting darker and darker, it won’t be long before it reaches midnight, he needed to be fast so as not to put his mate in further danger.

He looked around, he had found where his mate was hidden, but there was a problem, there was a lot of Observatories in the street.