Chapter 71.

"And what is happening here?" Alpha Damien Blackhood questioned as he entered the triplets room, only to meet them in an heated conversation with the maids. "What is their relationship with the maids?" He questioned himself.

"Oh dad, you are here. What are you doing here dad?" Annabelle asked foolishly.

"I thought we made a deal to go out together in this afternoon, then why am I sensing the weariness and sluggishness here?" Damien asked them with a slight frown.

"You are done with your job here, please leave and thank you." Xander told the maids and they both bowed to them all in the room.

"You're welcome young alphas." The ladies quickly left.

"Dad, we are not going out with you again, in fact, we don't want to go out with you forever." Annabelle said, spreading her hands allover to show how serious she was and Damien stared at her in confusion.

"Not forever Annabelle, but for now till further notice when dad do the requirements." Xander corrected Annabelle and Damien knew immediately that it was a planned work and he had promised himself that he won't read their minds anymore, they need some privacy.

"Is this your deal? You planned this right? You successfully turned their backs at me right." Damien lamented as he accused Katherine.

"You're right alpha, I used our triplets code and brought them to myself and as you can see, you, mom and me are not in same accord, so it's fair." Katherine said nonchalantly.

"What do you guys want from me?" He asked them in frustration. He has not feel so mad in a while and these kids of his have successfully brought out more emotions in him than required.

"Just leave us for now till we think of what we want from you." Katherine told him.

"Please kids forgive your daddy huh? I know I might have wrong you but forgive me okay?" Damien said with a pathetic face that Xander and Annabelle ran to hug him immediately.

"Traitors!" Katherine thought glaring at the both of them.

"I know you both love me, can we go to the outing now?" Damien asked them sweetly.

"No dad, we can't go." Annabelle said and gently disengaged from the hug. Inasmuch as she badly wanted to go, she can't because her siblings also needed her for their plans to be a success and besides, there was still plenty of time to go for outings and vacations, all they needed was their parents peace among themselves.

"They cannot go with you anymore, we want to spend the day with mom and we will be sleeping in her room when it's night and please alpha, we don't want your presence there because I know that you will be thinking that you will stay in the room with us, so please, you have taken part of mom's love in our hearts and we want our mom too. So we will be in her room in the next minute if you excuse us." Katherine said.

"She is right dad, you need us around but mom needs us more. Look, you're having a lot of people by your side around here but mom has no one but us. Our mom is beautiful but if she keeps on being lonely, she will become ugly like that woman I saw." Xander said and the last part of his sentence was filled with distaste.

"Come on dad, we have to start going, it's more fun with mom than to go outing." Annabelle missed their days with Luna, all of them did and they were ready to create more moments with her but they thought, "The next moment we will be creating with mom, dad will be there. We don't want mom to be scared of him again but rather loves him."

"If you really want to spend the time with your mom, you are free to go." Damien said. Though he badly wanted to take them out with him but he didn't want them to see him as a bad and selfish dad, so he concluded to leave them for their mother.

"Thank you dad." Annabelle and Xander hugged Damien and they both dashed out of their room, heading to Luna's room but Katherine stayed behind.

"I know you will think that I am evil and wicked and of course you are right." Damien told her when he saw that she was still sitting down quietly, not making any attempts to leave her bed.

"You don't know what I think of you alpha, I see you just the way my siblings do but the only thing tinting your image in my sight is that mom and you are not together like the way we thought it will be and it is all your fault. I stayed behind because I want you to see what I'm talking about, come with me." Katherine led the way to Luna's room and Damien followed her like an obedient servant.

"What do you want me to see?" Damien asked her when they got to Luna's doorstep.

"Hold on." Katherine gently opened the door and peeped in, she saw how Luna was happily discussing with Xander and Annabelle who were beaming with smiles too. "Here." She created way for Damien to look.

“What?” He asked her still peeping, he saw nothing different.

“Check very well, do you see the smile on mom’s face?”

“Yes.” Damien replied. Inasmuch as he wanted to deny it, he can’t, it was too glaring.

“Do you see the smiles on Xander and Annabelle’s faces too? Have you ever see that kind of smile on their faces?”

Damien looked and at that time, Luna said something and they three laughed that they rolled on the bed and Damien gently shut the door back. “No, I haven’t.” He replied to Katherine’s question.

“Then, I’m sure you will now understand that I don’t hate you, I only hate what your presence did to our mom, I only hate it that we thought you will bring more smiles on our faces but you rather took our smiles away.” Katherine told Damien sadly and he became weak instantly that he had to support himself with the wall.

“I’m sorry.” He apologized meekly.

“No amount of sorry can right this things and trust me, you don’t want Xander and Annabelle to see things the way I do, they are worse than me, you have to right your wrongs, not to just say sorry.” Katherine stated and walked into the room, leaving Damien outside to his thoughts.

“It’s not my fault, I can’t just help it. I want no one to be close to me, neither do I want anyone to take Marisol’s place in my heart, so, it’s not my fault.” He peeped from the door again to stared at them all, and by then Katherine had joined the crew and she was having a beautiful smile on her face, the type that Damien had not seen before and even Drac was happily wagging it tail.

Chapter 72.

The Blackhood triplets were in the pack house’s garden one evening, they were discussing as they sat in a circular form on the grass.

“It is either this evening or never, the plan must work.” Katherine told her siblings.

“We don’t say that we are not doing it, we only say that how will we succeed in bringing mom out of her room? She refused to leave the room and dad too? I don’t know.” Xander said.

The triplets sighed. "And to remember that mom refused to come out with me is disheartening enough." Katherine muttered.

The kids planned to call Luna out of her room to the garden so that they will invite Damien over too and trick the both of them and they will get to talk and from talking, they will decide to give love a trial but Luna refused to go out of her room.

"Let's get dad to do it then. Since mom don't want to come out on her own, then we will make dad to do it and we will trick the both of them and run." Annabelle said thoughtfully.

"That's a great idea, then let's get to work."

The three of them stood up from the grass and went inside to call Damien to do his thing.

"Who knows where dad is?" Katherine asked them.

"In the throne room of course." Annabelle and Xander chorused.

"Then lead the way." She paved way for them and walked behind them.

"You have to give dad some space in that your cold heart of yours." Xander told Katherine.

"I will."

They got to the throne room and was asked to entered.

"Is that a cat I'm seeing?" One of the elders asked immediately he sighted Drac with Katherine.

They were in a meeting, discussing about the growth of the pack with Damien.

"You have to face the consequences alone sis." Annabelle whispered to Katherine as she backed off.

Katherine turned back to the both of them in astonishment. "What?"

"I trust you to bring dad and mom to the garden, we will be there, waiting for you." Xander said too and ran away with Annabelle laughing as they did.

"Traitors!" Katherine thought and gently turned back to the elders and the alpha.

“The cat is my pet and I cherish him a lot, and since he accepted us as his children, he indirectly accepted Drac as our family pet.” Katherine referred to Damien as the ‘he’ she was talking about.

“And oh great elders of the Black Hood pack! Can you allow me to borrow my dad from you for the night?” She asked them cutely. She was too smart enough to call Damien ‘dad’ in the presence of the elders instead of the ‘alpha’ she normally called him.

“Of course dear, we are done with the meeting, you arrived just in time.” One of the elders said, already falling for Katherine’s cuteness. “Or aren’t we done with the meeting my fellow elders?”

“Yes we have. You can have your dad.”

“Thank you.” She appreciated smiling and walked closer to Damien, “Shall we dad?” She stretched her hand to him.

Damien was beaming with smiles as he claimed down his throne, he gently held her hand and began to leave the throne room with Katherine but she stopped just when they got to the door.

“Aren’t you forgetting something alpha?” She asked him.

“Oops!” Damien faced the elders. “We will continue the meeting tomorrow and do have a great night.” He told them smiling at them.

“Thank you our alpha.” They chorused smiling back at him.

“We will have our alpha back to us in no time.” They all rejoiced.

Damien thought that Katherine will remove her hand from his immediately they left the throne room but was glad she didn’t.

“You called me dad for the first time today.” Damien declared, he was so glad.

“That doesn’t matter.”

They finally got to Luna’s room. “We want to play with mom in your garden but she refused to come out, can you please make her come out? You will wait with her for us in the garden till my siblings and I come by, don’t leave her side or else she will run back in. Can you do this for us?” Katherine asked him.

“Is that what you want?” Damien asked her, staring at the door.

“Yes please.”

“Okay, I will bring her.” Damien promised.

“Thank you, I will go and find Annabelle and Xander while you bring mom.”

“Okay.”

Damien watched as Katherine walked away and knocked gently on the door with a sigh.

Luna opened the door as she heard the knock, she didn't even asked who was knocking and she regretted not asking when she saw Damien.

“My alpha.” She greeted with a bow immediately, she took her glance to the floor and began playing with her top.

“Come with me.” He said immediately and started walking away.

Luna had no choice but to followed him.

“Is there any problem my alpha?” She asked Damien as they continued to walk when she saw that they kept on walking and they were turning corners, left and right, she became afraid, she thought that he was going to kill her and she haven't tell her children goodbye.

Damien sighed, he read her mind but he decided to give zero answer to her question till they got to the garden.

Damien turned to Luna and said, “Stay here, the pups want you here.” He wanted to walk away but he remembered that he was to wait with Luna till their kids arrive, so he turned back to her.

“On a second thought, I'm waiting here with you.”

“Okay my alpha.” Luna quickly answered, she was trying not to do anything that will get the alpha angry, she was scared of falling for his trap and her heart began to beat faster in fear as Damien stayed with her and they both waited, not saying anything to each other.

“Can you stop that sound? It's disturbing.” Damien told Luna when he couldn't keep his cool anymore because of the sound of her heartbeat and him, being an alpha worsting it because of his super hearing ability.

“I'm sorry my alpha, maybe I should create more distance between us so that it will stop.”

“You will create more distance and run away after right? Well that’s a nice try but no, can’t do.” Damien told her and glanced at her. “Come, let’s sit on the flowered bench, I don’t want you to weaken your legs.” Damien didn’t want Luna to have a wrong impression on what he told her, so he explained, “I mean, Katherine loves you so much and she is just trying to warm up with me, so I don’t want you to hurt your legs because she will come to me and start telling me one hundred and one reasons that causes her hatred for me.”

Luna smiled when she heard about Katherine’s possessiveness and followed Damien to sit on the flowered bench, she made sure she created enough space between them as she sat at the last edge.

“Why are you scared of me?”

Chapter 73.

Alpha Damien Blackhood was still in the garden with Luna Morgan, they were patiently waiting for their children’s arrival.

“Why are you so much scared of me?” Damien asked Luna and stole a glance from her.

Luna became extra nervous, she was wondering why he had to ask her that all of a sudden, she didn’t know what her response should be neither did she wanted to get him angry because she still cherish her life.

“I... I am.... um my alpha, I.....” Luna kept on stammering, leaving Damien to chuckled in amusement, he have not see someone so interesting after the death of his luna but he was seeing one then.

“You must know how much I hate people stammering, it makes me think of them as weak and you are doing that now, though you are obviously weak but I still hate it.” Damien told Luna teasingly, though she thought he meant it.

“I’m so sorry my alpha, I will not do that again. Please, forgive me this once my alpha.” She quickly pleaded but surprisingly she heard Damien laughing gently beside her. She immediately stared at him and of course he was laughing with his head thrown backwards. “Why is he laughing? Hope he is not planning of punishing me.” She wondered.

Damien raised his head to stared at Luna and their eyes met because she was staring at him before. Luna quickly stared away, “I’m finally dead, I stared at him in the eyes, one of the most disrespectful acts alphas’ hate.”

“You seems to know too much about me, how is that possible? I learned that you are the type that always stay indoor in the Crystal Pack, so how do you know so much about me?” Damien had wanted to know the mother of his pups better and had done some researches on Luna, though he knew only a little about her, just her name and the fact that she was maltreated by her stepmother and stepsister and also the fact that she was rejected by her mate who was her stepsister's lover.

"Every maids in the pack house always talked about you my alpha and they talk about everything you do everyday among themselves." Luna answered his question, she didn't bothered to ask him how he knew about her, "He is the popular ruthless alpha after all, he always gets whatever he wants without stress."

"So you used to eardrops?" Damien asked as he decided to ignore her thoughts.

"No my alpha, the words just used to enter my ears." Luna defended herself and took a peak at him only to saw him staring interestingly at her, she quickly stared away blushing.

"Then how did you recognized me when we fucked?" He asked Luna so freely like it was nothing.

"I don't know how they got your pictures my alpha but they always take it to the kitchen, it was always different, so I recognized you immediately and had to leave when I woke up." Luna said, she was covered in blush.

"Now thinking of that, I'm glad you left. Anyway, let's talk about our children now."

"Okay my alpha." Luna was a bit relaxed with him by then and she was already having hope of seeing the next day.

"What is...." Damien was interrupted by the presence of the triplets.

"Dad, there you are." Annabelle called running to them.

"Dad, you succeeded in bringing mom out! Wow!" Xander said holding Luna's hand immediately he was closer enough.

"It was not a big task, I used my alpha's tone on her, I was like 'come with me' and boom! She followed." Damien joked and the kids laughed with him except Katherine of course.

"Hey Katherine, are you okay?" Damien asked her as he noticed her fowl look.

"No I'm not, ask your children what they did to me." Katherine then faced Luna, "Mom, Xander and Annabelle cheated me, they aren't supposed to hide themselves well but they did and I have to seek them for a long time. I'm so tired." Katherine whined with a deep frown causing Xander and Annabelle to laugh hard.

“Do you see that mom? They are making fun of me.” Katherine said and glared at her siblings.

“Come here baby.” Luna pulled her into her embrace. “Don’t mind them, next time you want to play a game with them, I will be on your side and I will snitch on them to you.” Luna told her and pecked her hair.

“Thank you mom.”

“That doesn’t hurt us at all because we are having dad by our siding and he will use his power to hide us that you both will not see us.” Annabelle said and share an high five with Xander.

“Don’t mind them, I will make you we will play it when your dad is unavailable.” Luna told Katherine.

“What? No! Dad will always be available for us.” Xander said and faced Damien, “Right dad, you will always stay with us right?” He was already having a trace of tears in his eyes, his little mind was thinking that Damien will leave them.

“Of course I will always be here.” Damien assured them.

“I know that you won’t leave and mom too is here to stay, wow! Our family is complete!” Annabelle squealed running around the flowers and she kept on telling the flowers, butterfly and everything she met in the garden that their family was complete.

“Mom, can you do us a favor and that is to just marry dad?” Katherine suddenly said and Xander too nodded.

Luna gulped and held Katherine’s hands, “Ask for anything else baby, the one you asked for is not possible.”

“But that’s what I want, that’s what we want.” Katherine said pointing at Xander and Annabelle who was back from her jubilation, she then continued, “We want a perfect family, we want our dad and mom to love each other. We want you both to be childish with us and laugh at each other, we want you to kiss and give us another baby.”

Luna was frozen up on the bench, she suddenly started feeling a sudden cold and a tear slipped out of her eyes.

“I don’t know what you three are doing or trying to do but you should know that I don’t want you mother to love me.” Damien told them.

Xander, Annabelle and Katherine stared at Damien in astonishment, just when they were thinking that their mom was the source of their family rawness.

“What do you mean dad?” Xander asked in disbelief.

“I should be asking you three that okay? What do you think that you are doing? I never told you that I want a new luna by my side.” Damien told them almost in a yell, he was angry. “How dare they? They want me to replace Marisol in my heart with their weak mother!” He thought and his anger increased.

“But we were smiling at her some minutes ago, why are we angry now?” Dam asked in Damien’s head but he refused to answer Dam, he only kept his now cold eyes on his pups.

Chapter 74.

Everywhere were silent as the Blackhood family stared at each other, they were still in the garden.

Katherine suddenly broke the silence, “But your formal luna is dead! She is long gone and you are our father! If you love your dead luna so much like you are claiming, then why did you made love with mom? Why did you allowed it to happen and why are you claiming us?” Katherine yelled at Damien, standing straight to his face as he was still sitting on the flowered bench.

“I was drunk when we made love and I claimed you because you are mine! I put you three in your mother’s womb by myself and you three are mine!” Damien yelled, finally losing his cool.

“You will not be here shouting if mom had gone for an abortion, you wouldn’t be claiming us if we have died when mom was trying to birth us, you won’t be here shouting if mom didn’t allow us to go to the mall that day where you saw us. You won’t be here.” Xander said this time.

“And you claimed to love us, but it is all a lie because you still love your dead luna and you cannot love someone else.” Annabelle muttered.

Damien calmed down immediately, “No, that’s not true. I love you three, I love you so much.” He pulled the three of them into an hug. “I love you three I swear.”

“If you love us like you claim then proof it to us.” Katherine told him.

“How will I proof it?”

“Love mom as well.” Xander said.

“Yes, show her that you care about her and appreciate her for taking care of us till today.” Annabelle added.

"I wish I can do that but it is not possible, I can't love your mom, I'm sorry." Damien told them.

"Its fine." Katherine told him and continued, "Tomorrow, as early as 5:00, we will be going back home, we cannot stay here when our parents are not in good terms and you cannot stop us from going, infact, I dare you to stop us!" Katherine told Damien and walked away.

"And we will be going with Katherine and mom, we are so tired here and we will go back to Mark and Jose." Annabelle said and walked away too, following Katherine.

"I have nothing to say, goodbye father." Xander too followed them.

Damien watched them leave and stared at Luna with a cold face, she was busy staring at the floor.

"I know you are happy now, is that not what you want? For them to turn their backs at me?" He accused her.

"I'm so sorry my alpha," She sniffed and then continued, "I will talk to them, I'm sure they are only joking." Luna said and bowed, she turned to leave.

"Wait!" Damien called her back. He walked up to her and lifted up her head with his fingers under her chin, only to be met with a red soaked face. "What the hell! Why are you crying?" He was confused, firstly because he didn't know why she was crying and secondly because he didn't understood why he was interfering?

"It's nothing my alpha, I will go in first." She said and ran inside the mansion, leaving only him alone in the garden.

Damien sat down back on the flowered bench, "They are demanding for something too much, how can they demand for me to leave the memory of my dear luna behind me? How can I love someone like their mom when my beautiful luna still lives on in my heart?" Damien roughed his hair as his heart pricked him. "Damn it! What is wrong with me?"

***

Luna was running in the corner looking hallway as she tried to find the way back to her room, she exhaled when the normal hallway that leads to her room came into sight, "Finally." She thought and quickened her steps.

She successfully got into her room and opened the door, fright enveloped her immediately as she stared at the thick dark room. "I always keep my light on, then why is it off?" She wondered frighteningly as she traced her hand on the wall looking for the switch and switched the light on immediately she got hold of it.

“Ah!!” She squeaked and jerked back in fear when she saw that she was not alone in the room.

“Finally, you decided to show up here.” The person in her room said with his back facing her, he was staring out of the room through the window, he then gently turned back to her.

“Carl? Um I mean young alpha.” She quickly bowed her head, “What are you doing here young alpha.” She asked slowly and calmed her racing heart. She knew that Carl was not so wicked and that he cannot hurt her if she didn’t cross her line.

“I miss you and I have been searching around for you. I’m glad I finally find you.” He took heavy steps towards her and pulled her into a bone crushing hug.

“Young alpha.” Luna called him and gently disengaged from the hug. “You shouldn’t be here, it is dangerous for you to be here and I don’t want to get into trouble.” She told him and took some steps away from him. “Please leave.”

“Don’t you want to hear why I’m here? Don’t you?” Carl asked her and walked closer to her again, he held her hands and stared into her eyes affectionately, “Please hear me out before chasing me away.” He pleaded.

“Young alpha...”

“Call me Carl and I’m no more the young alpha, I am now the alpha of the Crystal pack.” He told her.

“Wow! Congratulations!”

“Thank you but it doesn’t worth it. Come, let’s sit down to talk.” He pulled her to the couch in her room and sat down beside her.

“How is madam Sandra doing?” Luna was planning of bringing madam Sandra over to the Black Hood when she settles down.

“No, she is gone. She died when she was helping you in escaping, she gave out too much powers and she died. My mom died too and dad went missing.” Carl explained.

Luna spanked up from the couch, “You must be kidding me.” Her eyes began moist, she was trying not to believe him.

“Its the truth, your stepmother killed my mom.” He declared, “Everything was not so good after you departed.”

Luna sob immediately and gently sat down. “I really want to pay them back for what they did for me, I love them both. I’m so sorry they died because of me, I’m sorry Carl.”

Carl pulled her into his embrace. "I was broken too and I still am, that is why I'm here."

Luna disengaged from the hug and wiped her tears but more came down. "What do you mean?"

"I want someone by my side, trust me it's not easy to be alone and you are my mate, I want you now than ever, please Luna, what would you say if I say that you should come with me to my pack?"

Chapter 75.

Luna Morgan was in her room the next morning, she remembered her conversation with Carl the previous night and sighed, she still find it hard to believe that madam Sandra and the luna were dead. She was still thinking when the kids came in with their towel jackets with them.

"Good morning mom." They chorused, hugging her tightly.

"We need a quick bath mom, we are really going back home today." Annabelle told Luna.

"Come on kids, this is your new home." Luna told them and led them to the bathroom.

"But you and dad are not really to do what we want and we really want dad to see how serious we are about this." Katherine said shocking all of them.

"Wow! You just call him dad, that's great." They gushed.

"There is nothing so great there, I only call him who he is. If I refuse to call him dad, that doesn't mean that he is not my father." Katherine said and they decided to close the case but a lingering smile was visible on their faces till they were done bathing and Luna wore them their towel jackets they came with.

They met Damien in the room immediately they got out of the bathroom, he was pacing around with his right hand under his chin.

"Hey kids, they you are." Damien said when he saw them, he was relieved. "I checked your room and didn't saw you, I couldn't help but to think that you are gone."

"We are dressing up now dad and I'm sure you won't mind excusing us." Xander told Damien, pretending that he didn't care.

"Fine!" Damien suddenly concurred.

"Fine what dad? Your speech is not explanatory enough." Katherine said as she folded her hands together.

"I will do anything you three want, please, just don't leave me here, here is lonely and scary without you. I mean it." Damien said with emotions flooding in his eyes.

"Dad!" They called and ran to him happily, hugging him tightly.

"I'm so happy, you are indirectly saying that you will love mom." Katherine said when she disengaged from the hug.

"Yes, and I mean it. I'm letting go of my late mate for you three, I will treat your mom differently but in a nice way, I will protect you and make sure you are safe and comfortable here." He promised.

"Wow! Finally my family is complete for real this time!" Annabelle squealed and jumped around the room.

"You three should dress you, you be having your breakfast in the dinning room this morning." Damien told them smiling.

"Yes! Our dreams are coming true. We will be having our first breakfast as a family in the dinning room this morning." Xander said excitedly.

"Thank you dad." Katherine appreciated, seeing that they are happy now.

"That is my duty, so please don't thank me." Damien told Katherine then faced the rest of the kids, "Allow the maids to dress you up and lead you to the dinning, your mom and I won't be present there, we have to discuss some things but make sure you eat till you can't eat more okay?"

"Yes dad, okay." Annabelle and Xander replied, already busting out of the door leaving Katherine behind.

"Please I beg you, don't mistakenly hurt my mom." She told Damien in a whisper, nor wanting Luna to hear her.

"I won't, I promise you." Katherine hugged him then left after Damien promise and silence fell on the two adults.

"You shouldn't have told then that you will allow me to stay with you my alpha, you shouldn't force yourself to do what you don't want to." Luna broke the silence and talked with her, staring at the floor.

"They aren't forcing me to do anything, I only do what I want to do." Damien took a few steps towards Luna and he sniffed the air. "What is this scent I'm perceiving?" He walked closer to her till he got to her front.

He held Luna with her waist and pulled her more into his body, sniffing her hair down to her neck before asking, "Who were you here with last night?" He pulled away from her, a frown settling on his face.

"I was with no one my alpha." Luna lied. She didn't know why she lied but she knew that there might be war if she tells him that it was Carl, her old mate.

"Why are you lying? I thought you will know that I know when someone is lying. Oh! You must have heard that I also perceive a smell so well, even if it is a really faint scent I will still perceive it and now, there is another wolf's scent on you, it is so strong that you are having it all over your body. I will ask you again, who was here with you yesterday?" Damien asked again, though he already read her thoughts, he wanted to know if she will lie again.

"I'm so sorry for lying to you my alpha, I just don't know how you will react and I don't want to get you angry. When I returned to my room yesterday's night, I met him here, his name is Carl and he was my mate who rejected me." Luna explained.

"What did he wants and how did he entered my pack?" Damien asked with a frown, he hated an intruder in his pack, he stepped back, creating some space between them.

"I don't know how he entered here my alpha but he said that he is here to take me home." Luna said the last part in a whisper.

"What? Is he mad or insane? He wanted to take you home when you are already at home?" Damien didn't know where the suddenly anger came from but he knew that he was angry.

"I was his mate, well I still am my alpha, that was why he came by and he wants someone by his side as everybody he cared about are dead." Luna explained to Damien.

"How sure are you that he is not telling a lie? He chose your stepsister over you for all I heard. Why am I feeling like you accepted his offer and you will be leaving me soon?" Damien asked in a frown, closing up the space between Luna and himself.

He had thought about Luna and their kids throughout the night and he realized that he don't want to let anyone of them go, he realized that he wanted both the kids and their mother and that was why he agreed to the offer and now, someone from somewhere is planning on taking his newly found interesting woman away from him? No way!

"My alpha, I'm sure that he cannot lie to me, not with the death of two people that the both of us loved dearly, so I'm sure he is saying the truth." Luna told him, she was sure that Carl meant what he told her and that he wasn't lying to her.

Damien frowned and raised up her head with his fingers under her chin. "You even trust him, but what of our children? They want us together." Damien told Luna and she only stared at his eyes.

"He is having the most beautiful eyes I've ever seen." She thought, not answering Damien. She trailed her eyes to his entire face and down to his lips, "Wow! I wish I can feel them on mine." She then shook her head as if to shake the words out of her head.

"Hey! Wake up!"

Chapter 76.

Alpha Damien Blackhood was still in the room with Luna but he noticed that she was deep in thought.

"Hey! Wake up!" He shook her slightly and she was brought out of her reverie.

"I thought I asked a question." Damien said. She was too busy checking Damien out that she didn't noticed him doing the same to her. "She is simply beautiful, no wonder he came back seeking for her attention but I'm glad that he is too late because she is now mine and I'm not letting her go." He said possessively in his mind.

"I.... um I...." Luna was speechless, she can't even remembered the question he asked her.

"What was your response to him?" He reminded her and took his hand to her cheek, caressing it, he still held her head in place, so that she won't take her face away from him.

"I couldn't leave my children here, so I cannot go with him because of my children." Luna said leaning more to his touch on her cheek. "What is wrong with me?" She questioned herself as she saw that she was loving his touch on her just like that night they mated and she even remembered herself calling him mate, her mate. "I must be insane."

"Weren't you thinking of me too when you told him that you can't leave the pack?" Damien asked her in a whisper, his fingers trailed to her lips and he massaged them.

"I was thinking about you too my alpha." Luna whispered back, releasing a low moan, she was so lost that everything she could think of was the feeling of his hands on her.

"What were you thinking of about me? I want to know." His hand that was under her chin left it and went down to her left breast, he was met with her braless breast. "Why aren't you wearing a bra? Did you wore one when he was here yesterday?" He diverted his questions immediately, he himself was not thinking anymore, he was driven in by unspeakable pleasure.

"I can't find a bra in the wardrobe so I haven't been wearing one." Luna replied him.

Damien leaned his head to her neck and placed a kiss on it before going up to her ear. "Did he touched you just the way I am doing right now?" He asked slightly jealous and he transferred his jealousy to her poor breast that was in his grip and pressed it hard, earning a long moan from Luna.

"No my alpha, no one has ever touch me like that except you." She declared to him.

"That's great. I'm so proud of myself." He took his lips to her neck again and bite her gently.

"What are you doing to me my alpha?" Luna asked innocently.

Damien removed his lips from her neck immediately, though his fingers were still stuck on her face and breast, he stared at her like she was a piece of jewel he won't like to lose. "I'm claiming what was not mine but is now mine! I'm claiming you so that no bastard will try to have you!" He declared his intention to Luna.

Luna became a blushing mess at that moment. "But you made it clear that you don't want to replace your dead luna my alpha. We shouldn't be doing this." She said, though she meant nothing out of what she said.

Damien gently disengaged from her after she said that and she regretted her words immediately because of the sudden coldness that envelope her, she opened her eyes wider in displeased as she felt that the warmth that his hands were giving her was gone and she hated it that she can't help but ask, "Why?"

"I thought you hate it. Look Luna, I don't force myself on women and I can't begin with you, so please, you can go with him if you want, I don't care." Damien said slightly angrily. "She don't want me, I'm sure of that. Just when I thought that I will let go of Marisol first her."

"I don't mean to get you angry my alpha, I just...." She was saying but Damien cut her short.

"Damien!"

"What?" Luna asked clueless.

"Call me Damien and moreover, I planned on getting over my dead luna. I think I've hold on for too long and it has begin to kill me, I want you now, even as I don't really love you now but I don't want to let you go and you deserve to be happy, I promise you that I will make sure that you are happy here and you will get to smile beautifully everywhere and you won't have to fear me and and...." Damien was lost of what to say. "Shit! This is harder than I thought."

"It's okay my alpha, I understand." Luna told him.

"For the last time Luna, call me Damien and I mean it, you can go with him but if you decide to stay, please meet me in my chamber tonight, you might not see me throughout today, I will be so busy." Damien pecked her cheek softly, turned back and walked away immediately after his words.

Luna fell to her bed, blushing hard with a hard smile on her face. "I was going to tell him that I already declined Carl's offer but he won't listen. He said I should call him Damien now, wow! I'm now lucky." She thought and rolled from edge to edge on the bed smiling.

"Are you sure mom is okay?" She suddenly heard Katherine's voice and she jerked up from her bed.

"My babies." She called them and pulled them into an hug, "I'm so happy your dad is going to love me now and you will be the kind of family you have always wanted." She said happily.

"Really?" Katherine asked happily.

"Yes! Mummy will give us a baby after!" Xander said in a wow.

"I can't wait for the picnic in Paris!" Annabelle squealed, "And of course with mummy's baby bump with our baby sister in there." She quickly added.

Luna laughed happily before asking them, "What should we do today? Your dad will be busy throughout the day."

"Let's go for a tour around the city mother." Annabelle suggested happily.

"For the last time Annabelle, here is called a pack and not a city!" Luna reminded her. "I don't know if we will be allowed to move around the pack, you know that you are the alpha's heir and not everyone likes the alpha." Luna told them indirectly canceling the idea.

"Let's just tour around the pack house, we can be lucky to see something fun that will worth spending more time on." Xander suggested and they agreed to his suggestion and left the room together holding onto each other happily.

"They think they are happy, well, enjoy it when it lasts!"

Chapter 77.

Luna Morgan chafed her hands together as she was led by a guard to Damien's chamber in the night. She had just put her children to sleep and she decided to see Damien in his chamber as he had told her to see him if she decided to stay.

She didn't see Damien throughout that day and she thought, "He must be so busy like he said."

"We're here madam." He guard told her with a bow.

"Thank you." She appreciated and move closer to the door were two guards were gallantly standing.

"Hi there, I'm here to..." She was saying but the guards cut her short.

"You can go in madam." They paved way for her and opened the door to let her in.

"Thank you."

Luna entered the room and was surprised to meet herself in a sitting room. "What the hell! Am I in the wrong place?" She wondered and looked around the sitting room gulping down emptiness at interval.

"Are you here to stare around or to see me?" She heard Damien's voice said and jerked in fright.

"My alpha." She called with her hands on her chest, "You scared me." She completed and turned to him. He was wearing just a black pant and the upper part of his body was bare. She stared away immediately as a blush crept to her face.

"Hmm, I'm not going to say sorry to that but that doesn't mean I'm not sorry for that." He told her as he gently find his way to her.

He was in his room when he perceived her presence, so he decided to see her before she change her mind and leave.

"You are beautiful." He said as he checked her out. She was wearing a tiny hand cream colored nightgown which matched her skin color and the nightgown jacket was not doing much in hiding her beauty.

"Thank you my alpha."

"Your what?" He said, reminding her that he doesn't want to hear the alpha.

"Um, I mean Damien." She said the Damien in a very low voice.

"That's better. Speaking of which, are you here to seduce me? Because if you are here for that, you are excellently succeeding." He told her and held her waist as he pulled her closer to himself, her hands landed on his chest immediately and she became sensitive of the body closure.

"I... I... you said you want to see me, I don't....." She found it difficult to say the seduce word, she just cut herself off.

"Hmm, I see. Let's have some fun since you are here." He pulled her towards his room with his hand still holding her waist in place.

"You worked all day my... um Damien, aren't you suppose to be thinking of sleeping instead of having fun?"

Damien stared at her and busted into laughter, "You know nothing my luna, you always talk and think like a human which you're not." He pushed the door of his room opened and let her in.

"Wow!" Luna wowed, setting herself free from Damien's hold as she saw the room, "Your room is beautiful!" She ran to the bed and jumped on it, she spread her legs and hands on it in pleasure, "I love this." She moaned out, not staring at Damien.

Damien was just leaning on his door as he watched her, "How didn't we notice this woman before? And to remember that we almost lose her to another wolf." Dam said in his head.

"I'm glad we don't lose her and now, she's ours." Damien said and blocked Dam off, then walked to Luna who was still feeling the softness of the bed.

"You know I really have a lot to say to you but if you don't stop all these things you are doing, I will forget to talk and just take you right now." Damien told her and sat on the bed.

"I'm sorry, your bed is tempting, how come my bed is not like this?"

"Will you stay here with me then? I won't mind."

"That's a tempting offer but no thank you, I will pass." Luna went down the bed immediately but got pulled back by Damien and she landed on his laps.

"You can't keep running away from me." He whispered to her hearing before sighing. "Thank you Luna, for birthing our children, bringing them up and for everything you have done for them, alone. Thanks alot." He appreciated as he stared at her face.

"It is nothing actually, I'm just glad that we survived." Luna said.

Damien smiled and turned her face to himself before smacking his lips on hers in a deep slow kiss.

"Damien." Luna moaned in his mouth.

Damien disengaged his lips from hers, pulled her off his laps and placed her back on him in a way that she was straddling him.

He looked her in the eyes, "Continue moaning my name okay? It makes me lose my self-control." He gave no room for Luna to respond as he placed a smack on her lips.

The kiss soon became hard as they kissed each other hungrily like they were starved for days which they were. Damien pulled Luna closer and her hands flew from his shoulders to his hair.

"You are driving me nut." Damien said and pushed Luna to the bed with him on top of her, he removed his lips from hers and pulled her nightgown's jacket off in an hurry, he almost lost his mind with the sight that welcomed him. Her boobs were standing there looking at him with her nipples calling for his attention.

"You are beautiful, so beautiful." He muttered and his lips went down to her left nipple immediately even as she still had her gown on.

"Damien gosh!" She moaned, her hands still stuck in his hair.

He pulled the gown off her and attacked her nipples, with her deafening moans urging him to go further. He took his lips to her neck, leaving on her enough hickeys and his hands did justice to her boobs.

He kissed her lips again breathlessly and stood up to stared at her. His eyes trailed from her face down to her neck then her nipples to her stomach, his eyes glued to the scar on her stomach.

"What happened to you here?" He touched it gently.

"I couldn't birth them after days of being in labor, I had to underwent a surgery."

Chapter 78.

In the dark hallway in the Black Hood pack house, a shadow existed a room and began to walk quietly in the hallway as it started opening the door from room to room. The shadow got to a room and opened it, there were the Blackhood triplets sleeping soundly on their beds, the shadow made to enter the room but was stopped by a voice from behind.

"Who are you? And what are you doing here?"

The shadow turned and saw a woman glaring at him. "Back off." It said in a deep baritone voice which made it clear that the shadow was that of a man but he was not seen as he hid himself deeply in the dark.

“You are trying to enter the heirs room and you are telling me to back off? Who does that?” The woman, who was Rosita asked.

“I’m not here for you so back off woman!” The man in the dark repeated.

“Then you have to make me as you watch me blow an alarm.” Rosita said and made to mind linked the guards to come over but was distracted by the man hitting her against the wall.

“I will make you back off with all pleasure.” He said and his hand clutched to her neck, strangling her.

Rosita hit him hard in his stomach with her knee and hit his neck as hard as she could with her elbow, causing a bone to crack in the man’s neck and the man released her as he held his neck and he was okay after a few seconds.

Rosita uses the seconds he was in pain to gather herself together and when she was okay, she jumped on the man and they both disappeared from there.

They reappeared in her room and she disengaged from the man to stared at him. She strained her eyes and stared at the familiar looking man, “I know you but I don’t know who you are.” She said and sat down on her dressing chair.

“I have no business with you woman, I should leave here immediately.” The man said and walked towards the door of the room.

“I can help you.” Rosita suddenly told him immediately he got to the door and he halted.

“What do you mean?” He asked her without turning back to stare at her.

“I mean, you were found at the triplets doorstep, I know that you have no business with the triplets, its either you have a deal with their father or their mother but I doubt it that it will be their father, it must be their mother you want to deal with.” Rosita said.

“It is their mother that I want, I’m having an unfinish business with her.” The man said and turned his head back to Rosita.

Rosita smiled, seeing that she got his attention already, “Why did you want her if I may ask?”

The man turned back fully to Rosita and he gently leaned on the door as he replied her. “I want to reclaim her, she was mine but had a night stand with your alpha and I think he is planning on claiming her which I’m here to stop.”

“If you are here for your suppose mate, then why are you entering the heirs room?” Rosita asked him suspiciously.

“I want to see if their mother was there with them and if not so, I will wake one of them for a little questioning.” The man said.

Rosita busted into laughter, “How dumb is that your plan Mr? It is like you don’t know those pups, I have studied them for days and they aren’t dumb like you think they are, infact, they are smarter than you and you just wanted to walk into their room to question them? Are you sure you sat down and thought of this your plan before you decide to put it into action? Because it is the worst plan ever.” Rosita told the man.

“Hey! I won’t tolerate it if you keep on insulting me, I’m not a really calm person and if you must know, I’m Carl Rogan, alpha of the Crystal pack!” The man snapped at Rosita.

Rosita stared at him calmly for a minute before busting into laughter again, “I don’t know that the Crystal pack has a dumb alpha, no wonder your face seems familiar.” She said between her laughter, annoying Carl and making him feel like a fool.

“I’m out of here.” Carl said and opened the door to leave and Rosita stopped laughing immediately.

“I’m having a perfect plan, trust me you will love it, just listen to it and do your part of the plan while I do mine. Close the door quickly, I won’t like anyone to listen to this plan.” Rosita told him and Carl sighed in defeat before closing the door like a docile child. “She can help me since she knows this place more and from the way she speaks, she seems to know everything going on around here but why will she help me?” He wondered but decided to ask.

“Why do you wish to help me?” Carl asked her and studied her closely.

“I want my alpha to myself and your mate is standing in my way, so what more can I say?”

Carl rolled his eyes, “Typical bitch, just like Amelia.” He thought.

“So, you are planning on killing my mate or what?” He asked her, narrowing his eyes at her like he wanted to see what was on her mind.

“I was thinking of that before but now since you are here and you are her mate, just find a time to meet her up and take her away from here so that my alpha will be mine.” Rosita said possessively.

“Who said I have not done that before? I did it but she chose him over me, saying that she can’t leave the father of her kids when he is not maltreating her.” Carl began to pace around the room as he remembered that night, “I was so mad when she said that to me and I left angrily but now I’m back to take her away either forcefully or willingly, I don’t mind anymore.” He told Rosita.

“Then we will go for plan B. I have been busy stalking them for a while now and I know what is literally going on in here.” Rosita said.

“Then what is this your plan B? And besides, I don’t think that I know you.”

“I’m Rosita, Damien Blackhood’s one and only beta and the plan B is that we will kidnap Luna and you will take her to your pack, you can even wipe her memory if she don’t want to forget about my alpha and I will be here, consoling my alpha and the heirs till they forget about her and I will take my rightful place by his side.” Rosita told Carl and he stared at her in astonishment.

“You are a genius and I’m in.” Carl said smiling and Rosita smirked.

Chapter 79.

Damien Blackhood woke up the next morning with a lingering smile on his face, his smile got wider when he beheld the beauty by his side, whose head was lying on his chest.

Damien placed a wet kiss on her hair and she woke up instantly. “Good morning Sunshine.” He greeted her still smiling.

“How was your night?” He asked her and Luna bursted into a wider smile and cuddled him to herself.

“It was the best night of my life.” She declared causing Damien a laugher.

“I’m glad I was able to make you a memorable night Sunshine, and trust me, that is just the beginning, more is yet to come.” Damien promised and placed a kiss on her lips. “How do you see an early morning love making?” He asked with a flirty smile.

Luna laughed, “No, can’t do Dam. I have to see the triplets and dress them up, they will not allow anyone to touch them.”

She got off the bed and a sharp pain hit her hard, she glanced at Damien and stared away shyly.

“I can see that I did a job well done last night.” He praised himself when he saw her struggle. “Don’t you think that you should take a bath here before going to the kids?”

Luna thought of his suggestion for a while before nodding her head. “You are right Dam, I will just take a quick shower.” She said and ran to one of the doors in his room and luckily enough, the door she opened was the bathroom and she hurriedly entered.

“Poor Luna just fell in our trap and now she will not be unable to walk when we are done with her.” Dam said In Damien’s head.

Damien laughed and hurried after Luna to the bathroom.

“Do you know that she likes me more than you? She has been calling Dam and saying all her sweet words to Dam and not Damien.” Dam teased him and his smile wiped from his lips immediately.

“That is changing now!” He snapped at Dam jealously and blocked him off.

Damien got closer to Luna as she was under the shower and gently touched her shoulders since her back was turned to him. She jerked back in fright but calmed down when she saw Damien.

“Dam...” She was saying but cut short by Damien’s frowny face.

“Stop calling me that, that’s not my name, my name is Damien and Dam is the name of my wolf and it makes me jealous because it makes me feel like you like him more than me.” Damien folded his hands with a frown and stared away from Luna.

Luna chuckled, “My love.” She called gently and turned his face to herself and she saw him turning to hide a smile on his face, “Your frowns creep me out, my love, won’t you smile for me?”

That words of hers did the trick because Damien broke into a wide smile with a blush, “I’m your love now?”

“Yes you are.”

Damien carried her in his arms and pulled her to himself, she rolled her legs around his torso and stared straight in his eyes. “You are dangerously handsome.” She whispered to him.

“And you are pretty, so pretty. I can’t wait to flaunt your beauty around and to make all other alpha’s jealous of me.” Damien said and leaned in to kiss her.

Luna’s heart skipped as she heard about the alpha and her mind went straight to Carl, “I need to tell Damien about him, at least to be on the safer side.” She thought and took her lips away from Damien’s reach.

“I need to tell you something.” She said.

“Is it urgent?” Damien asked her impatiently.

“No, not so urgent.” She replied.

“Then, it can wait.” He turned her face back to him and claimed her lips immediately, kissing her hungrily then drove his dick into her.

“The kids must be looking around for me, my love, I have to go.” Luna said after she dressed up. Damien orders a dress for her after their bath.

“But I am your baby too.” Damien whined, not wanting to let her go.

“Stop being jealous of your children. Trust me, you have to get ready for them because I’m telling them that you are jealous of them.” Luna teased.

“It doesn’t scare me.” He declared.

“You are being too cohere.” She said, stylishly standing.

“Its fair, I am being cohere to my new mate and my future luna. Since you are mine, there is no sin in adhering to you.”

Luna laughed and reached for the door. “We will see each other later okay?” She didn’t wait for his reply before leaving.

“I’m whipped!” Damien thought as he fell on his bed, he began to roll on it like a teenager in love. “I fell for her too quickly but I don’t mind.”

***

Luna got to Damien’s sitting room and was surprised to see Rosita sitting on the couch waiting.

Rosita jerked off from the couch in astonishment when she saw Luna. “Where did you came out from?” She asked her. She didn’t wanted to believe that she just came out of Damien’s room.

Luna sighed without replying her question, “Please, excuse me.” She told Rosita and left her side to the door and left the room completely.

“Good morning.” She replied them with a smile before turning to walk away.

Two of the guards followed her immediately and Luna halted when she saw them following her. “Why are you both following me?”

“We are your personal guards, ordered for you by the alpha himself.” They replied her.

“Oh!” She decided to continued walking but was stopped by Rosita’s presence.

“Tell me what the hell you were doing in that room and how the hell do you come out of there alive?” Rosita yelled at her.

“Madam, we won’t appreciate you yelling at her anymore, the alpha will not like that.” One of the guards intervened.

Rosita laughed, “He even gave you some guards. Wow! Just wow!” She clapped her hands in mockery.

“I think it is best we leave her here and continue our journey.” The other guard suggested.

“None of you move a step till I’m done with this mate snatcher!”

Chapter 80.

Luna Morgan just stood still, not saying anything to beta Rosita.

“You are a mere mate snatcher! You told me that you have no interest in him and that he is too evil to be loved by you, then why are you getting in my way now? Why are you trying to take him away from me? You gave me your words and now, you are going back on your words.” Rosita said as she suddenly became sober in the last part of her statements.

Luna decided to answer her and to cleared her name, “Listen up....” She stopped talking as she didn’t know her name.

“Thank you.” She whispered back. “Listen up Rosita, I would have really care about your ugly sober face if we have said all these to me for like a day ago but right now, I don’t really care anymore. I might be a weak wolf but I deserve to be happy too and please, just leave me be, don’t also plan to take this happiness away from me because I really deserve it. And about Damien being evil, people change and he is a changed man to me, so I don’t see any reason for me to keep pushing him away from me.” Luna said and wanted to walk away but Rosita pulled her back, her sobered nature was now as rigid as a stone that she suddenly became frigid and she glared hard at Luna who tried not to shudder.

“Beta Rosita! You are taking this too far!” One of the guards said, already at alert in case of anything.

Rosita ignored the guard and pushed her lips towards Luna’s ear. “You even have the gut to call him by his name? Now, listen for your own good, I hate you so much and you are giving me more reasons to hate you more. Damien is mine! Get ready for me since I don't like sharing especially with weak people because I hit hard and I love hitting where it hurts most." She declared to Luna in a whisper and left.

Luna shut her eyes, trying to calm her racing heart down, she can't deny the fact that Rosita scared her and this had to happen just when she thought she was free.

"Are you okay madam?" One of the guards questioned her and she nodded her head before opening her eyes.

"I'm fine, let's go." She led the way till they got to the kids room, she entered while the guards stayed outside.

"Mom!" The kids called and rushed to her.

"My babies." She pulled them three into a tight hug.

"We went to your room but you weren't there." Katherine said and hugged her tighter.

"I was in your father's room." She told them smilingly.

"Yes! Mom and dad was making us a baby!" Annabelle said happily.

"Is Annabelle right mummy? I really don't want to give myself a false hope." Xander asked Luna with his cute puppy eyes looking at her expectantly.

"Yes baby, she's right." Luna told him.

"Yes! We're going to have a baby brother! It won't be only me anymore, I will have a second me." Xander said happily.

"Mom, is the baby in your stomach already?" Katherine asked causing Annabelle and Xander to look at her.

"No, not yet." Luna said and they all frown, "But don't worry, he will soon be there." She assured them just to keep them smiling, she knew she can't get pregnant now, not even when she still has a lot of enemies to deal with.

"That doesn't change the fact that no baby is there." Annabelle muttered sadly.

"But hopefully, our baby brother will be there soon." Katherine said smiling, she was always optimistic.

"Come on baby, let's bath you up. Who is bathing first?" Luna said cheerfully.

"Definitely not me." Xander said and went back to his bed.

“Neither will I bath first.” Annabelle too went back to her bed.

“I always enjoy bathing first mom.” Katherine said and walked towards the bathroom, but not without carrying Drac with her.

Luna laughed happily, “Everything is returning back to normal.” She thought but sighed when she remembered Rosita then tried to shake it off her head, “I will just tell Damien about her later.” She concluded and went after Katherine to the bathroom.

***

“Hello Carl, hope you don’t wait for too long.” Rosita said as she got closer to Carl who was sitting on a chair in the most secluded part in a restaurant in the Black Hood pack. He was under a disguise, so that none of the wolves in the restaurant will know that he was an intruder and he also did well in masking his scent.

“Next time, if you know that you can’t keep to the time that I choose, it will be better for you to choose a time you think will be the best for you.” Carl told her and adjusted on his seat. He was quite angry and he was doing everything in his power to stop himself from grabbing her throat. “How dare she kept me waiting and instead of apologizing, she was telling me shit! I wait for twenty good minutes for fuck sake!” He growled in his mind.

“I’m not going to say I’m sorry to you since you need me more than I need you, for I can’t just leave the pack house without a reason and I am a beta remember? I’m having my responsibilities too.” Rosita said rolling her eyes then changed to her serious self, “Let’s get to business Carl, I have not all the time in the world.”

“Why did you called me here in the first place?” Carl asked her. He was supposed to be in a meeting with the elders when Rosita’s call came in.

“Your mate slept in my alpha’s room yesterday. Do you know what that means? My alpha have never allowed anyone in his room since the death of his luna but he allowed Luna and I’m even sure that they fucked throughout the night.” Rosita said, though she wasn’t sure about the fucking part but she didn’t want Carl to back out from their plan and she wanted them to put them into practice asap.

Carl banged the table and stood up, “Now, that’s not possible! I’m sure Luna cannot stoop so low!”

“You can’t be so sure of who she is anymore, she even got pregnant to another wolf under your nose when she knew that she was having a mate, so what other evidence do you want!” Rosita shouted back at him and Carl calmed down immediately.

“Her, getting pregnant is not your concern. What do you want me to do to have my mate to myself?” He asked calmly as he sat down back.

“Now, that’s what I want to hear.” Rosita said and a dubious smile crept to her face as she relaxed on her seat.
